Lands on Rt. 28, Escapes Injury

A 32-year-old U. S. Army major escaped injury late Saturday afternoon when he crash landed a single-engine P-19 Piper Cub plane on Route 28 about 1½ miles west of Phoenixia after he encountered foul weather on his way back to Stewart Air Field in Orange County after a flight to Ballston Spa.

State Trooper Norman Kilfoyle and Deputy Sheriff Robert Gennie of Big Indian investigated the crash which occurred after 3:25 p. m. They reported that Major Cedric Jerris Zabreskie of 535 State Street, North Bend, Ore., alighted from the wrecked plane unharmed.

Left from Stewart According to a report of Trooper Kilfoyle and Deputy Sheriff Gennie, Zabreskie, a student pilot and instructor at West Point Military Academy, took off from the airport in Orange County at about 1:55 p. m. on Saturday and landed at a Ballston Spa airport.

Sometime after 3 p. m. the major took off again from the Upstate airfield and headed south. Some distance from the takeoff, Zabreskie ran into bad weather and low ceiling, and visibility was poor. He looked around seeking a safe place to land as he soared over the Phoenixia area.

Authorities reported that the major apparently mistook the pavement of Route 28 for an open area and a place to land the Piper Cub. As the aircraft descended, Zabreskie spotted a car traveling west along the highway. He noticed the car as it gained speed and the major brought the plane down on Route 28 and to avoid the automobile he swerved sharply off the road and slammed into a stone wall.

The sheriff's office reported the car was owned and driven by Horst Fehrmann of Shandaken.

Passing motorists and nearby residents heard the crash of the aircraft, which reportedly was wrecked. They went to aid the pilot, but as they approached the plane they saw Zabreskie climb from the wreckage unharmed but upset.

Offered Aid Fehrmann was among those who went to offer assistance to the pilot.

Mrs. Fehrmann said today that her husband was on his way to his home from work at the Grand Union Supermarket in Woodstock where he is employed as a butcher. "My husband said he was riding along Route 28," when he saw a light in the sky. He noticed the light was getting closer, but he couldn't see any plane at the time. Suddenly he saw a plane above him and my husband stepped on the accelerator and sped along the road to get from under the plane. He was not far off when the plane landed and crashed into a stone wall. My husband was startled by the incident but he went back to offer any help the pilot needed. He learned the pilot was not hurt but the plane was wrecked."

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick is pitting himself as a "fighting ram" against Jacob K. Javits, whom he dubbed "the fluttering dove" in the race for the U. S. Senate next November.

The issue: his personal backing of President Johnson and the handling of the Vietnam War.

At Essex House The announcement took place at the Essex House Hotel in New York City before more than 50 members of the press and Ulster County Democratic Chairman Dr. Gerald P. Gorman.

Asked if he would enter a primary fight if he fails the nod at the Democratic State Convention, Resnick said, "Absolutely. I'm in this all the way. I'm not a summer soldier."

The Ellenville Democrat said he had not discussed his candidacy with Senator Robert F. Kennedy but that he expects support from the Senator if he wins the primary.

When asked if he accepted Senator Kennedy as leader of the State Democratic Party, the Congressman replied, "Not at this time I don't."

Resnick said, "I want my candidacy to be interpreted as a direct challenge to the so-called 'peace people' of the Democratic Party to present their own candidate just as soon as they possibly can. Unless they put their candidate where their mouths are, they will stand nakedly revealed as people interested only in substituting mob rule for the ballot box."

Stresses Voters "I want the voters, not the poll takers, to express the public will on this issue."

"Let those who are standing on the sidelines waving those dump Johnson banners get into the fight," said Resnick, adding, "Let them produce a Senatorial candidate who will be under an obligation to produce a constructive, workable alternative to the President's policies which are acceptable to all sides in the conflict."

"Up to now, those who opposed the President have presented only one peace program that is acceptable to North Vietnam—our total withdrawal from South Vietnam. They are calling for peace at any price. But peace at any price is not peace, it is surrender."

"Those of us who want the war to end quickly and honorably are the real peace people. Don't confuse us with the surrender people."

Congressman Resnick went on to say that "the surrender people deny that their derisive and irresponsible forms of protest are giving aid and comfort to the enemy. But the fact is that the enemy himself has indicated that this dissent will spread and undermine the will of the United States to continue the war, thus providing an incentive for North Vietnam to carry on and continue rejecting all our peace efforts."

Calls Self 'Liberal' The second-term Congressman continued by saying, "This attitude may seem strange coming from me. I am a liberal, and this isn't the way a liberal is supposed to talk on the subject of Vietnam."

"But there are a lot of liberals like me—liberals who aren't sheep but are determined to judge domestic and foreign commitments independently and on their own merits and I am going to prove it next year."

"One of the most disappointing performances of all, on the Vietnam problem," Resnick continued, "has been turned in by Senator Javits. While the issues have cried out for clarification, he has contributed obfuscation. He has played the role of a fluttering dove, letting himself be blown by political winds and political polls from one position to another."

Cites Three Stands "At various times he has been a Presidential supporter, a Presidential critic, and a peace advocate without a program that would bring peace."

Resnick said that, "Aside from the Vietnam issue, I have no deep quarrel with Mr. Javits personally. Our voting records are similar (and) Mr. Javits is a nice man."

"But let no New Yorker forget that he is a devoted member of a party that is fighting right now to turn the springtime of hope into a winter of bitter disillusionment for millions of our poor, uneducated, ill-housed, and hungry fellow Americans."

LBJ's Long, Hard Weekend

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson spent a whirlwind weekend defending his Vietnam policies, then listened in church as a Virginia clergyman bluntly suggested the chief executive should publicly explain America's role in the war.

This challenge was put directly to Johnson by the Rev. Dr. Cotesworth Pinckney Lewis during Sunday services at historic Bruton Parish church in Williamsburg, Va.

The President and Mrs. Johnson, daughter Lynda and her fiancé, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, sat in a front row pew—barely 10 feet from the Episcopal rector—as he put his questions.

The Johnson administration's public information policies came under attack a few hours later from the Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, an 18,000-member professional journalism society.

The panel said in a report that some of the administration's top officials have been "deliberately misleading the public, the press and the Congress through flat lies, through half-truths and through clever use of statistics that distort." It called the President's news conferences "well organized for a White House snow job."

The report, released in advance of Sigma Delta Chi's national convention opening Wednesday in Minneapolis, Minn., charged the State and Defense departments and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are the worst offenders in the public information field.

Although the President emerged from the church service with only the trace of a smile, he wasn't deterred from enjoying a pleasant autumn day in the restored colonial capital of Virginia. He went golfing, then had dinner before flying back to Washington by helicopter.

For the chief executive, the sandy-haired Dr. Lewis doubtless provided an unwanted climax to a 5,100-mile Veterans Day weekend tour that took him from Ft. Benning, Ga., to the carrier Enterprise off the California coast, then back to the East.

In appearances at military bases Friday and Saturday before going to Williamsburg, Johnson defended his Vietnam policy and appealed for united support in the war.

Dr. Lewis, however, told the President "there is a rather general consensus that something is wrong in Vietnam." The clergyman went on:

"We wonder if some logical straightforward explanation might be given without endangering whatever military or political advantage we hold. While pledging our loyalty we ask respectfully why?"

The minister, described by parishioners as a conservative Southern Democrat with roots deep in Alabama, said:

"We are appalled that apparently this is the only war in our history which has had three times as many civilians as military casualties. It is particularly regrettable that to most nations the struggle's purpose appears as a form of neocolonialism."

He also said, in apparent reference to those who want a stepped-up war, that Americans are mystified by news reports "suggesting our brave fighting units are inhibited by directives and inadequate equipment from using their capacities to terminate the conflict successfully."

When the rector escorted Johnson to the presidential limousine after the service, shook his hand and murmured a few words, Johnson simply nodded.

Mrs. Johnson's parting comment to Dr. Lewis was, "Wonderful church."

Chant for Peace

During this rather awkward tableau, about a dozen antiwar demonstrators across the street kept up a clearly audible chant of "Peace! Peace!"

Dr. Lewis later was asked by newsmen if he felt the American position in Vietnam was wrong.

"I don't know," he said. "I would have to know more than I do now."

Dr. Lewis began his sermon by noting the President was sitting in a pew once used by George Washington and that the Bible used for the reading of the morning lessons was given to the parish by King Edward VII of England.

North Viets Launch New Attack at Dak

SAIGON (AP)—North Vietnamese army regulars charged in force toward U.S. defense lines near Dak To in the central highlands tonight and the Americans fired 105 mm Howitzers point blank to hold them off.

First reports of the fighting said some of the U.S. defense lines had been breached and that paratroopers of the American 173rd Airborne Brigade were moving in to consolidate the positions.

AP correspondent John Lengel reported from the battle zone that a major new action was underway after a day of light skirmishes along the highlands battlefield. Earlier U.S. intelligence reports said the North Vietnamese had moved reinforcements in after losing more than 600 men killed in 11 days of battle.

Lengel reported the airborne brigade came under frontal assault after nightfall about six

One Car Runs Off Thruway

Four Hurt in Two County Mishaps

Four persons were injured, seriously, as the result of two spectacular motor vehicle accidents investigated Sunday by State Police. A Kingston man was injured when his car hit an advertising sign and knocked over an automatic ice-making machine off Route 28, Town of Woodstock.

Seriously injured and admitted to Kingston Hospital was Helen Wolfofer, 51, of Boiceville, who was pinned in a car after it overturned on Route 375 about a half mile south of Route 212, Town of Woodstock.

State Trooper Richard Dempsey said the woman was driving a car south on Route 375 at about 11:15 p. m. yesterday when the vehicle went off the shoulder on a curve and crashed into a rock ledge. Investigators said the woman was pinned in the car until removed by Woodstock Town Constable William Waterous and State Police. She was rushed to Kingston Hospital by Doctors Ambulance Service.

Troopers reported the woman suffered a skull fracture, broken left ankle and fractured wrist in addition to fractures of facial bones. A passenger in the car, Thomas J. Hallenbeck, 43, of Phoenixia, sustained multiple injuries. The mishap was investigated by Constable Waterous. Troopers Thomas Crowley and Anthony Scarselli and BCI Investigator Roger Gardner.

In another spectacular accident, a New Jersey couple was injured and taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctors Ambulance. The injured were identified Mrs. Thelma Parker, 56, of Greenbrook, N. J., and her husband, Theodore, 36. According to available information, the car was going north on the State Thruway when the woman lost control. The vehicle veered off the pavement down an embankment and overturned on Hurley Avenue.

City police were notified and investigated. Later they turned the investigation over to State Police of the Thruway detail. Mrs. Parker and her husband both sustained head and chest injuries, according to an ambulance attendant.

Joseph Thomas, 26, of 271 Hasbrouck Avenue, sustained injuries of the face at 10:30 a. m. Sunday when his car went out of control on Route 28, Town of Woodstock. Trooper Dempsey said Thomas apparently became faint as he was driving the car and as he turned to the side of the road apparently blacked out.

The vehicle entered Rudi's Service Station, hit an advertising sign and then knocked over an ice-making machine. Trooper Scarselli investigated.

open an important infiltration route into the South from Laos by knocking out U.S. defenses at Dak To which straddles the route.

Earlier in the day U.S. forces launched fresh helicopter assaults against the five North Vietnamese regiments believed to be in the area.

A military spokesman said an enemy force of unknown size assaulted the village of Dak Ranh under an umbrella of mortars before dawn. The militiamen defending the village lost their radio in the attack and had to send a runner to Dak To for reinforcements which didn't arrive until nearly five hours after the attack.

The Communists held the village for two hours and withdrew at daylight after inflicting light casualties on the defenders, military spokesmen said. One civilian also was killed.

Girl Killed In Shooting

Twelve-year-old Virginia Sutton died Sunday night exactly 24-hours after being rushed to Kingston Hospital suffering from a high-powered rifle wound in her stomach.

The girl, who resided at 475 Abel Street, was accidentally killed by a bullet from a .300 hunting rifle which her brother was cleaning, police said.

Authorities stated that the boy, Garrey, 17, was cleaning the weapon in the family living-room when it discharged and the bullet struck Virginia.

Police said the bullet entered the girl's lower stomach and passed through her back. For 24-hours doctors labored to save her life, police said.

Virginia, a student at George Washington School, is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sutton, and two other brothers, Lawrence and Kenneth. She was a member of the Holy Name Church of Wilbur.

Investigators disclosed that as best determined Virginia was sitting across the room watching her brother work with the rifle. The boy told police he didn't think the gun was loaded.

Coroner William Keyser this morning revealed that a coroner's examination showed that the girl's death was the result of severe internal injuries sustained by gunshot.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 9:15 a. m. from Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs Street. At 10 a. m. a Mass will be offered from the Holy Name Church of Wilbur.

Marines Give 5 Awards

Senior Vice Commandant Daniel Fochi, West Hurley, was awarded the Marine of the Year 1967 citation, at the 20th annual Marine Corps Birthday Ball held Saturday night at The Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen, under sponsorship of the Ulster Detachment of the Marine Corps League.

A floor show and dancing were features of the event attended by more than 125 persons.

Gilbert E. Gray, committee chairman, presented the award to Fochi in recognition of many years of outstanding work in the League. Gray was presented a special citation certificate by State Commandant Edward Bange for his recovery of the body of a boy accidentally drowned in Rondout Creek on Sept. 23. The award was "in appreciation and gratitude for meritorious service in the interest of the United States, the U.S. Marine Corps and the Marine Corps League."

Commandant Frank J. Raffaldi of Ulster Detachment presented the 1967 award for Outstanding Service to Gray for his outstanding service as an officer and member of the Marine Corps unit.

Commandant Raffaldi also presented a citation to Gun-nerly Sergeant Clifford Claypool and a citation to Marine Sergeant Gurnar F. Davis, son of Mrs. Margie Ocker, 81 Green Street, who recently voluntarily extended his tour of duty in Vietnam for a third tour of service.

A plaque and honorable membership in the Marine Corps League were presented to Walter S. Clark Jr., Kingston Daily Freeman reporter for outstanding service in 1967. Gray introduced during the evening, Sheriff William B. Martin, the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, chaplain of Ulster Detachment, State Commandant Bange, past commandant John Ray Mayone, and Jack Marquardt.

Entertainment was provided by Carmen Scott, comedian and master of ceremonies, Whistling Willie, a novelty act and Zafra, an oriental dancer.

Fochi was ticket chairman, and Joseph Sullivan, program chairman.

Rocky Prodded To Make Race

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has been prodded to seek the Republican presidential nomination. The youth arm of the Democratic party meanwhile seems headed for a rousing battle over the peace-in-Vietnam issue.

The New York governor's candidacy "would be a good thing for my party and the country," declared Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City.

Rockefeller's name was also on the mind of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who listed the New Yorker—and himself—with three others as potential candidates for the GOP nomination.

The political name-dropping occurred as a nationwide poll said that for the first time since November 1957 Republicans lead Democrats as the party most citizens believe can best handle the nation's prime problems.

About 1,500 delegates from 700 chapters of the Young Democratic Clubs of America met in Hollywood, Fla., Wednesday. Several candidates for the organization's presidency support antiwar and propeace resolutions.

Meanwhile, delegates to the break-away Young College Democrat Clubs convention in Boston Sunday voted to support withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam, halting the bombing of North Vietnam, and convening of peace talks with the Viet Cong.

But they rejected a resolution calling for the elimination of President Johnson from the 1968 Democratic ticket.

In an interview, Lindsay said Vietnam will figure heavily in the campaign and the Republican candidate "ought to offer an alternative to our present course of action."

He said his own present popularity in national polls has not caused him to harbor any ambition or hope of winning the nomination for himself. He listed Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois as another possible GOP candidate, praising him as a Republican progressive "in the best tradition of the party."

Nixon's list of potential candidates, offered in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, included Michigan Gov. George Romney, Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy and California Gov. Ronald Reagan as well as Rockefeller and himself.

"It will be one of these five," he said. The 1960 GOP presidential nominee was also definite about his own plans: "If I become a candidate, I have definitely decided to enter primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Indiana, Nebraska, Oregon and South Dakota."

The latest Gallup Poll said the 1,565 adults queried across the country listed the Vietnam war, racial strife and the high cost of living as the nation's most important problems.

Dr. George Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, which conducts the poll, said 20 per cent of those questioned listed the Republican party as best able to handle these problems.

Marines Give 5 Awards

Senior Vice Commandant Daniel Fochi, West Hurley, was awarded the Marine of the Year 1967 citation, at the 20th annual Marine Corps Birthday Ball held Saturday night at The Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen, under sponsorship of the Ulster Detachment of the Marine Corps League.

A floor show and dancing were features of the event attended by more than 125 persons.

Gilbert E. Gray, committee chairman, presented the award to Fochi in recognition of many years of outstanding work in the League. Gray was presented a special citation certificate by State Commandant Edward Bange for his recovery of the body of a boy accidentally drowned in Rondout Creek on Sept. 23. The award was "in appreciation and gratitude for meritorious service in the interest of the United States, the U.S. Marine Corps and the Marine Corps League."

Commandant Frank J. Raffaldi of Ulster Detachment presented the 1967 award for Outstanding Service to Gray for his outstanding service as an officer and member of the Marines unit.

Commandant Raffaldi also presented a citation to Guntery Sergeant Clifford Claypool and a citation to Marine Sergeant Gurnar F. Davis, son of Mrs. Marge Ocker, 81 Green Street, who recently voluntarily extended his tour of duty in Vietnam for a third tour of service.

A plaque and honorable membership in the Marine Corps League were presented to Walter S. Clark Jr., Kingston Daily Freeman reporter for outstanding service in 1967. Gray introduced during the evening. Sheriff William B. Martin, the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, chaplain of Ulster Detachment, State Commandant Bange, past commandant John Ray Mayone, and Jack Marquardt.

Entertainment was provided by Carmen Scott, comedian and master of ceremonies, Whistling Willie, a novelty act and Zafrana an oriental dancer. Fochi was ticket chairman, and Joseph Sullivan, program chairman.

Rocky Prodded To Make Race

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has been prodded to seek the Republican presidential nomination. The youth arm of the Democratic party meanwhile seems headed for a rousing battle over the peace-in-Vietnam issue.

The New York governor's candidacy "would be a good thing for my party and the country," declared Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City.

Rockefeller's name was also on the mind of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who listed the New Yorker—and himself—with three others as potential candidates for the GOP nomination.

The political name-dropping occurred at a nationwide poll said that for the first time since November 1957 Republicans lead Democrats as the party most citizens believe can best handle the nation's prime problems.

About 1,500 delegates from 700 chapters of the Young Democratic Clubs of America met in Hollywood, Fla., Wednesday. Several candidates for the organization's presidency support antiwar and propeace resolutions.

Meanwhile, delegates to the break-away Young College Democrat Clubs convention in Boston Sunday voted to support withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam, halting the bombing of North Vietnam, and convening of peace talks with the Viet Cong.

But they rejected a resolution calling for the elimination of President Johnson from the 1968 Democratic ticket.

In an interview, Lindsay said Vietnam will figure heavily in the campaign and the Republican candidate "ought to offer an alternative to our present course of action."

He said his own present popularity in national polls has not caused him to harbor any ambition or hope of winning the nomination for himself. He listed Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois as another possible GOP candidate, praising him as a Republican progressive "in the best tradition of the party."

Nixon's list of potential candidates, offered in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, included Michigan Gov. George Romney, Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy and California Gov. Ronald Reagan as well as Rockefeller and himself.

UNEXPECTED GIFT—When James Currie of Jackson, Miss., a senior at the University of Mississippi, returned to his dormitory room after his 21st birthday party he found an unexpected gift from anonymous friends, an entire room jammed with crumpled newspapers wall to wall from ceiling to floor. It took four janitors working for 9 minutes to reclaim the room. No one has stepped forward to say how much time was required to fill it. (UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL TELEPHOTO)

But Problem Still There

Abusive Viet Calls Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon reports a great decrease in abusive telephone calls to relatives of U.S. servicemen in Vietnam.

"Calls are continuing as far as is known, but at a greatly reduced level from the 1965 Vietnam buildup period," the Defense Department said Thursday in response to inquiries about the present situation.

Tracing Successful

The tracing of abusive telephone calls "has proven very successful in attacking this problem," the Pentagon said.

Tracing was started last year and the Pentagon credited the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. with cooperation in the effort.

A rash of abusive telephone calls and some other forms of harassment caused considerable concern to American soldiers in Vietnam.

Some soldiers talking with newsmen in Vietnam have declined to give their home towns or to list the names of their wives or mothers, expressing fear that persons opposed to the war might see the names in print and make upsetting calls to the families.

Responding to the problem, the Senate earlier this year passed a bill by Sen. John Pastore, D-R.I., that would provide federal penalties for "obscene and harassing telephone calls."

The bill, awaiting action by the House Commerce Committee, would impose a maximum

Credit Card Theft Leads to Arrest of 30

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal authorities disclosed Friday more than 30 persons have been arrested in the theft of 2,000 Diners Club cards from an embossing plant early this year, and underworld figures are involved.

Postal inspectors estimated the thieves, and those who bought the spurious credit cards from them for several hundred dollars each, had run up some $350,000 in bills for goods, services and credit.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Terry Lenzner said the thieves were involved with organized crime and the stolen credit cards had aided the traffic in narcotics, gambling, prostitution and other underworld activities.

The case came to light with the arraignment of Alphonse Confessore, 30, who was a repair man in the Queens Embossing plant of Dashew Business Machines Co. but has since lost his job.

Authorities said the conspirators stole blank Diners Club cards, which were at the Dashew plant awaiting embossing. They also stole a list of bona-fide Diners Club members.

$500 fine or six months in jail on anyone convicted of using interstate telephone lines for such purposes.

But No Figures

While asserting the number of such calls has been sharply reduced, the Pentagon said it was unable to provide any figures. "The armed services do not maintain formal reporting requirements in this respect," it said.

The Pentagon also disclaimed any knowledge of arrests or convictions growing out of such calls or other harassment involving service families.

The Pentagon said telephone companies now assign special representatives to investigate complaints of harassing calls.

Flying Hippies Prompt Rule Requiring Wearing of Shoes

WASHINGTON (AP) — It all boils down to shoes and socks. At stake: Can you get on a commercial airliner barefoot?

Hippies, those self-styled flower children who often plane-hop from demonstration to demonstration, show up at airline ticket counters with guitars, long hair—and often no shoes.

Airlines have rules about passengers. They won't accept babies under 7 days old, the mentally deranged, anyone with a contagious disease, or drunks.

But someone without shoes? Or someone who needs a bath? "We don't want to dictate fashion," said an Eastern Airlines spokesman, "but we now require shoes." So does the Public Health Service.

"Shoes are a question of policy," said American Airlines in New York. "We're meeting this week with other airlines to discuss such a policy."

An industry journal, Aviation

Daily, says "airlines should exercise their right to refuse passage to those not meeting cleanliness standard."

The American Civil Liberties Union says airlines have no authority to decide cleanliness.

"No right at all," said a spokesman. "To do so is the same kind of reasoning that kept Negroes in the back of the bus."

The Federal Aviation Agency says shoes are out of its jurisdiction. "Congress," said a spokesman, "has not given us statutory authority to make passengers bathe before boarding an airliner, unless it can be proven their presence has an adverse effect on aviation safety."

The FAA did deal indirectly with guitar-playing hippies last week by ruling that a passenger can take aboard only one piece of hand luggage, and it must fit under his seat. Guitars don't fit.

"Which does away with in-flight entertaining," noted United Airlines.

Blaze Trail for Negro

The victories of Richard Hatcher in Gary and Carl Stokes in Cleveland, plus the repudiation of Louise Day Hicks in Boston, should go a long way toward pointing the direction the Negro must go to attain equality in fact as well as name. The mayoral elections, particularly of Mr. Hatcher and Mr. Stokes, should give encouragement to all members of the colored race to enter the political arena, because the ballot box carries a stronger message than any civil rioting. The Detroiters and the Newarkers point up a situation, but they never settle anything. A voice at City Hall will.

Just as Jackie Robinson pioneered the way to a better life for Negroes who excelled at athletics, so will the results in Gary and Cleveland help lead the Negro to a better life in the community in which he lives. Mayors-elect Hatcher and Stokes carry a tremendous burden on their shoulders, a burden far beyond that of running the government of their cities. Just as Jackie Robinson didn't fail his race, either must they.

Carrying this reasoning further, the Negro is just beginning to do what other ethnic groups in the United States did many years ago. The Irish, when they first came to Boston, were downtrodden and despised by the Yankee natives. Their lot was much worse, indeed, than that of the Negro in Boston today. Imagine the want ads on the papers of the '30s which read "Irishmen need not apply"! In any event, the Irish of Boston can be proud of many who sprang from the "cold sod" to prominence in politics, and by so doing removed the stigma of second class citizens from their ethnic group. To prove that Bostonians, proper and otherwise, have never forgot the lesson of those early days, they turned down the racist appeal of Louise Day Hicks.

For the first time, the people—all of the people, and not just one race, nationality or religion—have banded together and given the leadership at City Hall to a Negro. This should be ample evidence to the Negro that the people are not as concerned with the skin pigmentation of a man as they are with his abilities. There need be no limit to the Hatchers and the Stokeses.

Shriver's Threat to Quit

It is very doubtful that Sargent Shriver's threat to quit presiding over the anti-poverty program unless he gets the funds that will enable him to do a substantial job of improving the lot of the poor will sway the House of Representatives from its announced purpose of trimming all appropriations to avoid the proposed surtax. The House is dedicated to reducing spending in place of increasing taxes.

The debate has brought out some interesting things about the anti-poverty program. Shriver said it would be a gross deception to delude the American people that something substantial is being done about lack of education, lack of health, lack of opportunity, lack of housing, lack of justice, when so little is appropriated to do the job.

The list shows how far afield the Office of Economic Opportunity, over which Shriver presides, has gone in seeking to alleviate the lot of the poor. Again and again, studies have repeated the formula, to reduce poverty, educate and train the unemployed and unemployables for productive work at rewarding pay.

It is true that health, housing, justice are worthwhile for building up the morale of the poor. But they do not make for jobs. They are dividends which are or should be available to all Americans. They should not be per se the objectives of an anti-poverty program. Many funds for the anti-poverty campaign are spent and have not been renewed and many programs are grinding to a halt for that reason.

But don't blame the House, bent on economy. Blame the empire builders in the OEO, who set out to cover every phase of helping the poor, instead of concentrating on helping them to help themselves—to get out of poverty. The rest can come later as it has with most Americans who fought their way up in past generations.

The war on poverty must be waged wherever the poor and underprivileged are, but the best place is at the source—where they come from. That is the formula laid by by Norman M. Clapp, administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration. The ultimate weapons, he added, and we agree, must be employment—productive, respectable and adequately paid employment.

The U.S. Mission in Saigon has recommended a Christmas cease-fire in the Vietnam war. Despite the risk of violations, the United States and its allies are expected to accept it. If it marked the halt of all war activity, it could lead to a longer cease-fire but there is no sign of that from the enemy at this time.

Early Adjournment Of Congress Fades

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — Hopes for an early adjournment of Congress seem to have been dispelled as both houses are confronted with a large number of measures which will require a lot of work between now and the Christmas recess. Many members would like to spend a few weeks at home to get a line on public opinion because the session which begins in January is likely to be a long one.

It is generally agreed that the mail from constituents is full of protests. Senators and representatives are faced with voting on legislation which they may feel is necessary, but which is unpopular. Generally speaking, the discontent throughout the country is manifesting itself in many ways. There are not only economic questions—such as the proposed tax increase and the rising cost of living—but emotional reactions to current policies which generate a widespread dissatisfaction.

One of the most disturbing elements is the growth of racial friction. There was a time when the question of civil rights could be discussed objectively and when there was widespread sympathy for the Negro as a victim of discrimination. Something of a change has been apparent in recent months as the misguided leaders of a few of the Negro organizations have emphasized "Black Power" and have not hesitated to express themselves in militant language—much of which was, indeed, contained direct threats.

As the elections this week have indicated, too much talk of "Black Power" tends to increase racial antagonisms and cause persons of the opposite color to use their ballots to express their emotions. Some of the Negro leaders recognize these trends and are in disagreement with those in their ranks who have been overemphasizing race consciousness.

The theory that an individual should be judged on his ability and character rather than on his race or color is, of course, accepted as a sensible formula by fair-minded people. But politicians know very well that when racial issues are raised and emotions are aroused, fair-mindedness disappears and prejudices supersede all else.

There was a time when the Republican Party could count on the Negro vote throughout the country, while the Democrats benefited from the almost solid support they received from whites in northern cities and in the south. Although more and more Negroes are being permitted to vote in southern states, the balance of power there still rests with the white population. The Republican party, however, no longer enjoys a monopoly of the Negro vote anywhere. Most of it has, in fact, gone over to the Democratic party, particularly since the civil rights movement reached an intensive stage during the past seven years.

Perhaps the most perplexing question of all for federal and local governments is how to deal with the school integration problem. The Supreme Court's opinion in 1954, which advised that "equal educational opportunities" require that Negroes and whites mingle in the schools, has not been uniformly applied, largely because of segregation due to residential factors. The Negro population in the north is concentrated primarily in the cities. Many white families have moved to the suburbs.

The politicians at first thought this would probably solve the problem, but now some of the leaders of Negro organizations are insisting that students be bused from the Negro areas to schools in white neighborhoods in the cities and even to the suburbs. This has caused uneasiness among some white families, and the city authorities find themselves compelled to be cautious about expressing their views on such issues.

Meanwhile, members of Congress are confronted with the fact that federal funds are being poured into the cities and states for education. The U.S. Office of Education holds the purse strings and is not only dictating how school integration shall be accomplished in the south, but is trying to do the same thing in other parts of the country, thus creating plenty of unrest among the parents of school children.

All this is bound to be reflected in the political campaign of 1968, when the 435 members of the House and one-third of the Senate are up for reelection.

HONG KONG, B.C.C.—Mao doesn't want the colony. It's his cashier's window on the world. Through this port, he buys automobiles and merchandise that world nations will not sell to him. In return, Mao Tse-tung sells manufactured items that give him American dollars and British pounds.

The bombings are a game of Chinese firecrackers played by young Communists. A few are real. Many are fake. Some have gunpowder. Others are filled with gasoline. They are left in doorways, on railroad tracks, dropped on streets and in crowded markets. On walls, signs are printed in Cantonese: "Letists turn left and return to your Red Sun, Mao Tse-tung."

Hong Kong is a billion dollar movie set. It's a sampan with slatted sails in a sunset. It's Suzie Wong in a pony tail and spiked heels. It's nine scoops of chocolate ice cream in a bowl of lime jello. It's steaming shrimp, mah jong, fan tan, four million Chinese getting away from seven hundred million; it's an old lady who looks like an old man; a family living on a 20-foot junk, raising chickens on the deck.

Collectively, the colony is a group of islands and a 25-mile piece of mainland called Kowloon and the New Territories. The Hong Kong dollar is worth 18 cents. There are no duties, no taxes except 2 1/2% after the head of the family empties himself for $7,000 and an additional $7,000 for his wife. Everything is inexpensive, and everybody giggles.

A Japanese camera is cheaper here than in Japan.

There are 10,413 registered sweatshops, where small girls work a full day for a little rice. The beautiful harbor, set between mocha hills, hosts 6,600 ships each year. They bring three billion dollars in goods, which is delivered, then re-traded elsewhere, and finally brought back to Hong Kong in another form to be resold.

The ferries alone carried 220 million Chinese last year. Although Hong Kong has only half the people New York has, the colony supports 46 newspapers. The place appears so crowded that Kai Tak airport runs out in the bay. Last year 505,000 tourists stopped in Hong Kong. Families that can't afford an apartment build a hut on the roof of one. This gives them free use of the elevator.

Chinese love to eat. They don't dine; they sample. Everybody tries a little shark fin soup with onions, fried prawns, Peking duck, chicken with walnuts, Tientsin cabbage with cream, roast suckling pig and chow fan. A big feast will cost about $1.75 and, for an extra quarter, they'll throw in the waiter.

For less than a dollar, a man can enter a Chinese barbershop (often on a sidewalk) and get a haircut, shave, massage, manicure, shoeshine and the latest Purse Gazette. The race track is called Happy Valley, and is the only one in the world with a shelf of rock in the backstretch. The horses run up it and have to jump off the high end.

On T.V., Jackie Gleason

yelps in Chinese, and it sounds remarkably like his English. The sampans used to smuggle opium aboard anchored ships. Today, they smuggle gold. The Hong Kong Tourist Bureau spends $1.75 to attract each tourist, who spends an average of $240 when he gets here.

Shopping is a joy. A man can get a silk suit, hand-fitted and tailored, for $61. Even the trousers are silk lined. Benny's will trace the image of your feet as you stand on them and hand-make them in any style with embroidered flowers and seed pearls for $21. Beaded pocketbooks cost less than $15.

The finest Swiss watches go for less than half. A custom-made shirt runs $7. A man's silk robe costs $4. When you ask a cab driver how much, he smiles and says: "Whatever you like." In beautiful modernist apartment houses, the women hang clothes to dry on the front porch, and hang fish to dry on the clothesline.

Crime is up 7.1% and almost all of it is engineered by narcotics addicts. About 130,000 Chinese live on little boats, and when Daddy carries goods from a big ship in the harbor to shore, he has his whole family aboard, usually with an infant sleeping on the stern.

Most of the people speak Cantonese, a music language in which one sound may be uttered in any of several keys and mean different things. Alice samee like when I say wrong thing, and my wife jams her heel into my foot. Slame slounds...

Sudden Pentagon Chill Hits Gen. Westmoreland

WASHINGTON — A sudden chill has cooled the once warm relationship between Gen. William Westmoreland, the U. S. commander in Vietnam, and his civilian bosses back in Washington.

Part of it is personal. Westmoreland has been criticized for playing tennis every afternoon while his troops sweat it out in the steaming jungles. More serious has been a sharpening disagreement between Westmoreland and his civilian chiefs over his waste of troops on housekeeping chores; also over the construction of an electronic barrier between the two Vietnams.

When Westmoreland heard of Secretary of Defense McNamara's reported crack about his taking time out from the war every afternoon to play tennis, the general said he would give up his membership in a French tennis club in Saigon.

President Johnson has usually sided with Westmoreland and the military against Secretary McNamara. But recently the brass hats have been whispering that Johnson doesn't intend to build up another military hero who might become Presidential material. They point to the build-up which President Truman gave General Dwight Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur and the trouble it caused him.

The basic misunderstandings, however, have been over manpower. Westmoreland has been nagging Washington for more men to mount a stronger offensive against the Viet Cong. When he submitted various proposals to the Pentagon, the President seized upon the one calling for the absolute minimum build-up, then announced Westmoreland would get the reinforcements he had requested. The general felt this statement, while technically correct, widened the credibility gap.

McNamara responded by suggesting that Westmoreland wasn't making efficient use of the combat men he already had. Only one out of every four men in Westmoreland's command is engaged in fighting. The Secretary of Defense suggested in his terse way that Westmoreland should empty some of the swivel chairs around his Saigon headquarters. He also pointed to the thousands of young Vietnamese draft-dodgers riding bicycles in the streets.

Westmoreland Was Right
To free more Marines for combat, McNamara also proposed erecting an electronic barrier along the DMZ to detect infiltrating North Vietnamese troops. Westmoreland opposed the idea. He called it wasteful and impractical. The construction, he grumped, would tie up more men than it would free.

He also feared that the barrier would encourage a "Magnet Line" attitude that could be dangerous. He doubted that a foolproof barrier could be constructed, particularly over the mountainous terrain. Anyway, he pointed out that infiltrators simply would outflank the barrier by going through Laos as many now do.

The secret reports from the construction site have borne out Westmoreland's warnings. The construction crews have come under attack. They have been compelled to wear oppressive flak vests in the jungle heat and it has been necessary to assign infantrymen to protect them.

To hold the DMZ so the Marines have also been ordered to hold fixed positions within range of North Vietnam's big guns across the border. The bombardments have caused heavy casualties. Yet little progress has been made on an obstacle system that Westmoreland still insists will be ineffective.

Meanwhile, as a result of the ice that has been forming on the Washington-Saigon military line, McNamara is expected to replace Westmoreland with General Creighton Abrams, the able former Deputy Chief of Staff, who has been in Vietnam for some time.

Jackie or Mao?

Only the diplomats knew it, but there was some significant behind-the-scenes competition between Jacqueline Kennedy and ugly Mao Tse-tung for the favor of Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia.

The State Department had encouraged Jackie to accept the invitation from Sihanouk to attend a ceremony dedicating a boulevard in honor of her late husband, because at that time the pink prince had shown positive signs of disenchantment with his Chinese communist neighbors. He had accused them of interfering in its domestic affairs. Delivering a bristling attack upon Red China, he ordered his ambassador home from Peking, and kicked two communist sympathizers out of his cabinet.

So the State Department was encouraged to believe he might be ready to resume diplomatic relations with the United States.

Then, surprisingly, Peking turned the other cheek. Premier Chou En-lai personally called in the prince's son, who was attending school in Peking, and handed him a conciliatory note to give to his father.

The polite language contained a hint, of course, that Sihanouk might face a communist uprising in Cambodia if he continued his anti-communist activities. But the effect of the letter and other Chinese overtures was to heal the diplomatic breach.

It was too late, apparently, for Sihanouk to withdraw the invitation to Mrs. Kennedy, who showed up in Cambodia on schedule. The prince treated Mrs. Kennedy graciously, but even as he dedicated the "John F. Kennedy Boulevard" he repeated his preference for nearby Peking over faraway Washington. Jackie did her best, but the proximity of a nation of 700 million people was too much.

Bobby's Parking Space

When Maryland's Gov. Ted Agnew pulled into his reserved parking place at the Baltimore Stadium the other day, a determined attendant waved him away. The governor, curious to find out who outranked the state's chief executive, asked who had preempted his parking space.

The attendant explained that a distinguished visitor had sent word he was coming to watch the Baltimore Colts play football. The space was being held, said the attendant, for Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Amused, Gov. Agnew drove off and parked among the common customers.

Henry J. Taylor Says

$69.9 Billion Defense Bill an Irony

The $69.9 billion defense bill is the largest single appropriation in the history of the United States. It's also an irony.

It fails to meet the clearly known nuclear threats of both the Soviet Union and Red China. Yet it pours billions into window-dressing defense treaties, utterly powerless to frighten or restrain the enemy. Many are long since all but dead—such as the Inter-American Treaty of 1947—and others are obviously worthless because the signatories we lined up to sign them do not support them.

The total commitments add up to a flimsy 42 and involve our military presence today in an appalling 38 countries. In fact, our old treaties never die; we just spend and spend. As this is a major cause in our balance-of-payments problem, which is simply a soft name for our gold crisis.

Many of our foreign policy failures arise from a confusion—that a crusading spirit into frail and ambiguous treaties, produced to show "a united front," puts form above substance and means less than nothing. So does the money and trained personnel we pour into them.

Japanese reluctance to support our largely inoperative SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) treaty of 1954 stems from our doubtful attempt to link this window-dresser with ANZUS, the Australian-New Zealand-U.S. security pact used in Vietnam. We pour more and more money into the old SEATO setup just the same. The sound you hear is the cheery sound of our money clinking, clanking, tinkling down the drain.

The NATO pact was signed in 1949. Inside France our NATO investment loss when President de Gaulle threw us out exceeded $2.5 billion. His action vastly weakened NATO's protection to France. We are still obligated to come to the aid of France under the Brussels Treaty of March 17, 1948, which formed the Western European Alliance, NATO.

About 300,000 of NATO's 700,000 armed men are Americans. Europe today lives only under the shield of our great atomic retaliatory force, without which the continent could have no independence from the Soviet Union on the same land mass.

This shield alone allows the free nations to neglect their own defenses. But if they are going to neglect them, as they did even before France pulled out, and continue to do, how far can we feasibly go in supporting them with our ground forces deployed largely to sustain European morale?

Even the Pentagon estimates that it costs us $7,265 a year to keep one fighting man in Western Europe. That's a neat little $2.2 billion in the budget, plus the Mt. Everest of extras.

The question is not the potential value of NATO but the real effectiveness of NATO in the form we insist upon, even after France's withdrawal, if our allies fail to support it.

Statesmanship is the art of creating policy. Diplomacy is the art of executing it. And in the shadow world where diplomacy is tested the two useful "Ds" are discretion and delicacy, and respect is the operative word. The rewards can be immense.

Lord Palmerston (1784-1865) made the British Foreign Office and left it at its greatest. As one example, by skillfully applying Britain's balance of power he and Lord Clarendon blocked a Franco-Prussian war. German Chancellor Otto von Bismarck, who looked at France with the eyes of a snake on the lookout for a chicken, had to wait for these British statesmen to die before he could start the war.

The Palmerston-Clarendon skill typifies the fact that neither window-dressing nor money was involved.

When conditions change, or foreign policies fall apart for other reasons, it is easier to blame the difficulties than to confess the current invalidity of what has long been done. But the combined purpose of statesmanship and diplomacy is results, not the construction of basketfuls of paper-tiger treaties, the eulogy of expensive, flimsy facades, the sustaining of such facades, or the promotion of wishful thinking.

Most of this performance is about as valuable to us as a plaster cast on a wooden leg.

Charter Coverage
Editor, The Freeman:

The Kingston Daily Freeman is to be commended for its coverage of the Constitutional Convention. The Editorial Staff deserves special praise for its analysis of the proposed Constitution and its various provisions. I, as a former Delegate to the Constitutional Convention, welcomed the editorial position adopted by the Kingston Daily Freeman.

The voters of the 38th District of Dutchess and Ulster Counties also must have been greatly impressed by the opinions expressed by the Kingston Daily Freeman, as they voted overwhelmingly in support of its editorial recommendations.

My sincere thanks for a superlative reporting job and I hope the Kingston Daily Freeman will adhere to the high standard it has set in reporting on the progress of the Legislature when it commences considering the good portions of the Constitution to be salvaged and presented to the voters of this State for a separate and individual vote.

Sincerely,

The Negro population in the north is concentrated primarily in the cities. Many white families have moved to the suburbs.

The politicians at first thought this would probably solve the problem, but now some of the leaders of Negro organizations are insisting that students be bused from the Negro areas to schools in white neighborhoods in the cities and even to the suburbs. This has caused uneasiness among some white families, and the city authorities find themselves compelled to be cautious about expressing their views on such issues.

Meanwhile, members of Congress are confronted with the fact that federal funds are being poured into the cities and states for education. The U.S. Office of Education holds the purse strings and is not only dictating how school integration shall be accomplished in the south, but is trying to do the same thing in other parts of the country, thus creating plenty of unrest among the parents of school children.

All this is bound to be reflected in the political campaign of 1968, when the 435 members of the House and one-third of the Senate are up for re-election.

HONG KONG, B.C.C.—Mao doesn't want the colony. It's his cashier's window on the world. Through this port, he buys automobiles and merchandise that world nations will not sell to him. In return, Mao Tse-tung sells manufactured items that give him American dollars and British pounds.

The bombings are a game of Chinese firecrackers played by young Communists. A few are real. Many are fake. Some have gunpowder. Others are filled with gasoline. They are left in doorways, on railroad tracks, dropped on streets and in crowded markets. On walls, signs are printed in Cantonese: "Leftists turn left and return to your Red Sun, Mao Tse-tung."

Hong Kong is a billion dollar movie set. It's a sampan with slatted sails in a sunset. It's Suzie Wong in a pony tail and spiked heels. It's nine scoops of chocolate ice cream in a bowl of lime jelly. It's steaming shrimp, mah jong, fan tan, four million Chinese getting away from seven hundred million; it's an old lady who looks like an old man; a family living on a 20-foot junk, raising chickens on the deck.

Collectively, the colony is a group of islands and a 25-mile piece of mainland called Kowloon and the New Territories. The Hong Kong dollar is worth 18 cents. There are no duties. No taxes except 2 1/2% after the head of the family exempts himself for $7,000 and an additional $7,000 for his wife. Everything is inexpensive, and everybody giggles.

A Japanese camera is cheaper here than in Japan.

There are 10,413 registered sweatshops, where small girls work a full day for a little rice. The beautiful harbor, set between mocha hills, hosts 6,000 ships each year. They bring three billion dollars in goods, which is delivered, then retraded elsewhere, and finally brought back to Hong Kong in another form to be resold.

The ferries alone carried 23 million Chinese last year. Although Hong Kong has only half the people New York has, the colony supports 46 newspapers. The place appears so crowded that Kai Tak airport runs out in the bay. Last year 505,000 tourists stopped in Hong Kong. Families that can't afford an apartment build a hut on the roof of one. This gives them free use of the elevator.

Chinese love to eat. They don't dine; they sample. Everybody tries a little shark fin soup with onions, fried prawns, Peking duck, chicken with walnuts. Tientsin cabbage with cream, roast suckling pig and chow fun. A big repast will cost about $1.75, for an extra quarter, they'll throw in the waiter.

For less than a dollar, a man can enter a Chinese barbershop (often on a sidewalk) and get a haircut, shave, massage, manicure, shoe shine and the latest Purice Gazette. The race track is called Happy Valley, and is the only one in the world with a shelf of rock in the backstretch. The horses run up it and have to jump off the high end.

On T.V., Jackie Gleason

yelps in Chinese, and it sounds remarkably like his English. The sampans used to smuggle opium aboard anchored ships. Today, they smuggle gold. The Hong Kong Tourist Bureau spends $1.75 to attract each tourist, who spends an average of $240 when he gets here.

Shopping is a joy. A man can get a silk suit, hand-fitted and tailored, for $61. Even the trousers are silk lined. Benny's will trace the image of your feet as you stand on them and hand-make them in any style with embroidered flowers and seed pearls for $21. Beaded pocketbooks cost less than $15.

The finest Swiss watches go for less than half. A custom-made shirt runs $7. A man's silk robe costs $4. When you ask a cab driver how much, he smiles and says: "Whatever you like." In beautiful modernistic apartment houses, the women hang clothes to dry on the front porch, and hang fish to dry on the clothesline.

Crime is up 7.1% and almost all of it is engineered by narcotics addicts. About 130,000 Chinese live on little boats, and, when Daddy carries goods from a big ship in the harbor to shore, he has his whole family aboard, usually with an infant sleeping on the stern.

Most of the people speak Cantonese, a music language in which one sound may be uttered in any of several keys and mean different things. Allee samee like when I say wrong thing, and my wife jams her heel into my foot. Slame slounds...

Drew Pearson Says Sudden Pentagon Chill Hits Gen. Westmoreland

WASHINGTON — A sudden chill has cooled the once warm relationship between Gen. William Westmoreland, the U. S. commander in Vietnam, and his civilian bosses back in Washington.

Part of it is personal. Westmoreland has been criticized for playing tennis every afternoon while his troops sweat it out in the steaming jungles. More serious has been a sharpening disagreement between Westmoreland and his civilian chiefs over his waste of troops on housekeeping chores; also over the construction of an electronic barrier between the two Vietnams.

When Westmoreland heard of Secretary of Defense McNamara's reported crack about his taking time out from the war every afternoon to play tennis, the general said he would give up his membership in a French tennis club in Saigon.

President Johnson has usually sided with Westmoreland and the military against Secretary McNamara. But recently the brass hats have been whispering that Johnson doesn't intend to build up another military hero who might become Presidential material. They point to the build-up which President Truman gave General Dwight Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur and the trouble it caused him.

The basic misunderstandings, however, have been over manpower. Westmoreland has been nagging Washington for more men to mount a stronger offensive against the Viet Cong. When he submitted various proposals to the Pentagon, the President seized upon the one calling for the absolute minimum build-up, then announced Westmoreland would get the reinforcements he had requested. The general felt this statement, while technically correct, widened the credibility gap.

McNamara responded by suggesting that Westmoreland wasn't making efficient use of the combat men he already had. Only one out of every four men in Westmoreland's command is engaged in fighting. The Secretary of Defense suggested in his terse way that Westmoreland should empty some of the swivel chairs around his Saigon headquarters. He also pointed to the thousands of young Vietnamese draft-dodgers riding bicycles in the streets.

Westmoreland Was Right

To free more Marines for combat, McNamara also proposed erecting an electronic barrier along the DMZ to detect infiltrating North Vietnamese troops. Westmoreland opposed the idea. He called it wasteful and impractical. The construction, he grumped, would tie up more men than it would free.

He also feared that the barrier would encourage a "Magnot Line" attitude that could be dangerous. He doubted that a foolproof barrier could be constructed, particularly over the mountainous terrain. Any way, he pointed out that infiltrators simply would outflank the barrier by going through Laos as many now do.

The secret reports from the construction site have borne out Westmoreland's warnings. The construction crews have come under attack. They have been compelled to wear oppressive flak vests in the jungle heat and it has been necessary to assign infantrymen to protect them.

To hold the DMZ so the barrier can be erected, the Marines have also been ordered to hold fixed positions within range of North Vietnam's big guns across the border. The bombardments have caused heavy casualties. Yet little progress has been made on an obstacle system that Westmoreland still insists will be ineffective.

Meanwhile, as a result of the ice that has been forming on the Washington-Saigon military line, McNamara, is expected to replace Westmoreland with General Creighton Abrams, the able former Deputy Chief of Staff, who has been in Vietnam for some time.

Jackie or Mao?

Only the diplomats knew it, but there was some significant behind-the-scenes competition between Jacqueline Kennedy and ugly Mao Tse-tung for the favor of Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia.

The State Department had encouraged Jackie to accept the invitation from Sihanouk to attend a ceremony dedicating a boulevard in honor of her late husband, because at that time the pink prince had shown positive signs of disengagement with his Chinese communist neighbors. He had accused them of infiltrating his country and interfering in its domestic affairs. Delivering a blistering attack upon Red China, he ordered his ambassador home from Peking, and kicked two communist sympathizers out of his cabinet.

So the State Department was encouraged to believe he might be ready to resume diplomatic relations with the United States.

Then, surprisingly, Peking turned the other cheek. Premier Chou En-lai personally called in the prince's son, who was attending school in Peking, and handed him a conciliatory note to give to his father.

The polite language contained a hint of course, that Sihanouk might face a communist uprising in Cambodia if he continued his anti-communist activities. But the effect of the letter and other Chinese overtures was to heal the diplomatic breach.

It was too late, apparently, for Sihanouk to withdraw the invitation to Mrs. Kennedy, who showed up in Cambodia on schedule. The prince treated Mrs. Kennedy graciously, but even as he dedicated the "John F. Kennedy Boulevard" he repeated his preference for nearby Peking over faraway Washington. Jackie did her best, but the proximity of a nation of 700 million people was too much.

Bobby's Parking Space

When Maryland's Gov. Ted Agnew pulled into his reserved parking place at the Baltimore Stadium the other day, a determined attendant waved him away. The governor, curious to find out who outranked the state's chief executive, asked who had preempted his parking space.

The attendant explained that a distinguished visitor had sent word he was coming to watch the Baltimore Colts play football. The space was being held, said the attendant, for Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Amused, Gov. Agnew drove off and parked among the common customers.

Henry J. Taylor Says

$69.9 Billion Defense Bill an Irony

The $69.9 billion defense bill is the largest single appropriation in the history of the United States. It's also an irony.

It fails to meet the clearly known nuclear threats of both the Soviet Union and Red China. Yet it pours billions into window-dressing defense treaties, utterly powerless to frighten or restrain the enemy. Many are long since all but dead—such as the Inter-American Treaty of 1947—and others are obviously worthless because the signatories we lined up to sign them do not support them.

The total commitments add up to a flimsy 42 and involve our military presence today in an appalling 38 countries.

In fact, our old treaties never die; we just spend and spend. As this is a major cause in our balance-of-payments problem, which is simply a soft name for our gold crisis.

Many of our foreign policy failures arise from a confusion—treaties that are crusading spirit to frail and ambiguous terms, produced to show "a united front," put form above substance and means less than nothing. So does the money and trained personnel we pour into them.

Japanese reluctance to support our largely inoperative SEATO (Southeast Asia Treaty Organization) treaty of 1954 stems from their doubtful attempt to link this window-dresser with ANZUS, the Australian-New Zealand-U.S. security pact used in Vietnam. We pour more and more money into the old SEATO setup just the same.

The sound you hear is the cheery sound of our money clinking, clanking, tinkling down the drain.

The NATO pact was signed in 1949. Inside France our NATO investment loss when President de Gaulle threw us out exceeded $2.5 billion. His action vastly weakened NATO's protection to France. We are still obligated to come to the aid of France under the Brussels Treaty of March 17, 1948, which formed the Western European Alliance, NATO.

About 300,000 of NATO's 700,000 armed men are Americans. Europe today lives only under the shield of our great atomic retaliatory force, without which the continent could have no independence from the Soviet Union on the same land mass.

This shield alone allows the free nations to neglect their own defenses. But if they are going to neglect them, as they did even before France pulled out, and continue to do, how far can we feasibly go in supporting them with our ground forces deployed largely to sustain European morale?

Even the Pentagon estimates that it costs us $7,265 a year to keep one fighting man in Western Europe. That's a neat little $2.2 billion in the budget, plus the Mt. Everest of extras.

The question is not the potential value of NATO but the real effectiveness of NATO in the form we insist upon, even after France's withdrawal, if our allies fail to support it.

Statesmanship is the art of creating policy. Diplomacy is the art of executing it. And in the shadow world where diplomacy is tested the two useful "Ds" are discretion and delicacy, and respect is the operative word. The rewards can be immense.

Lord Palmerston (1784-1865) made the British Foreign Office and left it at its greatest. As one example, by skillfully applying Britain's balance of power he and Lord Clarendon blocked a Franco-Prussian war. German Chancellor Otto von Bismarck, who looked at France with the eyes of a snake on the lookout for a chicken, had to wait for these British statesmen to die before he could start the war.

The Palmerston-Clarendon skill typifies the fact that neither window-dressing nor money was involved.

When conditions change, or foreign policies fall apart for other reasons, it is easier to blame the difficulties than to confess the current invalidity of what has long been done. But the combined purpose of statesmanship and diplomacy is results, not the paper-tiger treaties, the eulogy of expensive, flimsy facades, the sustaining of such facades, or the promotion of wishful thinking.

Most of this performance is about as valuable to us as a plaster cast on a wooden leg.

Editor, The Freeman:
The Kingston Daily Freeman is to be commended for its coverage of the Constitutional Convention. The Editorial Staff deserves special praise for its analysis of the proposed Constitution and its various provisions. I, as a former Delegate to the Constitutional Convention, welcomed the editorial position adopted by the Kingston Daily Freeman.

The voters of the 38th District of Dutchess and Ulster Counties also must have been greatly impressed by the opinions expressed by the Kingston Daily Freeman, as they voted overwhelmingly in support of its editorial recommendations.

My sincere thanks for a superlative reporting job and I hope the Kingston Daily Freeman will adhere to the high standard it has set in reporting on the progress of the Legislature when it commences considering the good portions of the Constitution to be salvaged and presented to the voters of this State for a separate and individual vote.

Vietnam: Are We Heading for Victory or Stalemate?

The war in Vietnam casts its shadow over every aspect of American life and affects this country's relations with its allies and potential enemies. It has divided the country into doves and hawks. And the outlook today is filled with question marks. No one has all the answers, but Bob Considine has covered the country from end to end, talked to men in the field and at the top. Are we heading for victory or stalemate? This distinguished reporter tries to answer that biggest question of all in the series of articles that starts today.

By BOB CONSIDINE

SAIGON — Stop griping. We're winning this lousy war. It is not, repeat not, a stalemate.

The enemy has not won a substantial land battle for more than two years.

South Viet Nam, American, Korean, Australian, Filipino and New Zealand forces are killing 13,000 Viet Cong, North Vietnamese and guerrillas per month, and allied sources estimate that between 2,000 and 5,000 of the enemy's forces die later of wounds each month or desert.

Nearly five of the enemy die for every allied man killed.

Viet Cong recruitment has fallen off to about 3,500 a month, from twice that sum. Somewhere between 6,000 and 7,000 North Vietnamese troops reach the northern regions of South Viet Nam each month via the so-called Ho Chi Minh Trail, which is in fact a web of uncountable little roads and paths whose tendrils thread through the Demilitarized Zone along the 17th parallel and reach in and out of Laos. In short, we're killing them faster than they can be replaced.

The enemy is now outnumbered about four to one, and never had it worse. A 300-man North Vietnamese unit was reduced to 30 men during a recent 6-week trek from its North Vietnamese training base through Laos and into battle. The story of that typically disastrous deployment was a story of the twin menaces, disease and U.S. firepower. Many of the original 300 were killed in Laos, where it has now been acknowledged that we have a tacit hunting license.

Task Force Oregon, 15,000 seasoned U.S. troops culled from a number of units, has crippled the hardest-nosed VC unit in the hills that rise from the rich and heavily populated central Viet Nam lowlands around Quang Ngai halfway between Saigon and North Viet Nam. This means the VC can no longer swoop down at will and feed off the people who live and work the lowlands, traditional targets of VC food and manpower raids.

Some VC have been forced to rely upon rice which Hanoi arranges to buy at usurious rates from merchants in Cambodia. Deliveries are, of course, haphazard. There is no substitute for rice, so far as an Asiatic's stomach is concerned.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland's headquarters now has clear evidence of a widening rift among the enemy forces. The fall-off in VC recruitment has meant that VC ranks north of Saigon have had to be padded with North Vietnamese army regulars. The VC — all South Vietnamese — have come to northerners impose. This has contributed to the escalation of defections. In the Mekong Delta there is evidence of rebellion against oppressive guerrilla taxation and induction of boys.

We are sorely complicating the enemy's three basic needs: (1) food, (2) ammunition and (3) replacements. The success of task force Oregon meant a catastrophic shut-off of food particularly, and it had the side benefits of denying the enemy his taxing privileges. It also allowed a long stretch of Route 1, the French-built main coastal route, to be opened to allied traffic for the first time in years.

As for ammunition, the enemy must now depend upon the most primitive means of introducing it into South Vietnam. The U. S. Navy has frustrated nearly all attempts to bring it in by boat. Nothing bigger than a rowboat can escape the attention of, and filter through, our picket line of fast boats. Mortar shells are being carried in by bullock, bicycle and hand.

All are familiar with the fact that this is the longest war in which the U.S. has ever engaged. What is not generally recognized, is that only in the last year have we been able to exert stern pressure on the enemy. From 1965 through 1966 there wasn't enough muscle to make itself felt except in fits and starts. U.S. forces were spread through the country in sorely insufficient strength. The main strategy at that time was to keep the enemy off balance to take the calculated risk of being clobbered which would have weakened the confidence of the South Vietnamese in our ability to defend them, and shake confidence at home and among allies as well. Our tactics were those of a voluntary fire brigade, rushing hither and yon.

Only in the past year have we had enough troops to apply full pressure on the enemy. He is finally getting the message. He may fold tomorrow, or by Christmas or a year or two hence. No brain, human or electronic, can predict with confidence. But most observers agree that the odds are overwhelmingly stacked against the enemy.

We now have a solid base from which the American soldier, once here, can operate, which his predecessor did not have. The war in Viet Nam is the first the U.S. has engaged in where we attempted to mount a sustained campaign without the use of indigenous roads, ports, air strips, depots and oil tank farms. In Europe we overran and swiftly utilized massive facilities. Even in Korea after MacArthur's historic end run, we had the great port of Inchon to augment Pusan to the south.

Now, thanks to incredible feats of engineering and construction, we operate six deep-water ports, eight jet fields—some with double runways stretching 10,000 feet—countless depots, many miles of new roads, housing, training centers, hospitals, repair shops, etc. Hereafter, 75 per cent of all the troops who arrive here will be combat or close-support personnel, for there is no need to send in men to construct or maintain facilities.

The standard complaint of critics of the war—that the South Vietnamese troops do not fight as well as their fellow South Vietnamese who have joined or been impressed into the VC—does not sit well with the average American commander here.

"They keep losing more men in action than we do," one general said of the ARVN. "It's unfair to compare them with American forces. They don't have our firepower, our leadership, or our helicopter support. Their men can't look forward to going home after 12 month service, as our men can. They get no R and R (Ed. Note: The five days of "rest and recreation" given to U.S. servicemen without cost in cities of their choice.) You can't expect them to fight as well as we do.

We couldn't get along without them, of course. We'll always need them to secure the places we overrun. That fact alone gives us the mobility we must have to win this war.

Marines stationed in I Corps, which runs along the DMZ, have crushed what may have been the enemy's last attempt to launch a massive attack. North Vietnamese troops in considerable strength, perhaps three divisions, were dispersed, thrown back and killed by cascades of 180 mm shells, massive B52 drops and five amphibious operations. During July alone in that region, 3,877 enemy dead were counted, many weapons were captured, and the navy ran down a trawler with enough ammunition to supply three battalions.

In 1965 some 11,000 enemy troops accepted the Chieu Hoi (open arms) proposition. They surrendered with their arms and became what the South Vietnamese government calls "rallyers." They are not treated as prisoners of war; indeed, they have been joined by their families, have been given housing and enjoy other benefits, including their separate peace.

Last year the figure jumped to 21,000. By the end of August, 1967, more than 22,000 had crossed over, sorely sapping the enemy's already weakening strength. This is a different kind of ballgame from Waterloo or the encirclement of the Ruhr. But, whatever it is, it is not a stalemate, we're clobbering them.

United States Vs. Soviet ICBMs

NEA WASHINGTON
Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — As a result of unannounced careful studies by reputable scientists it is now believed by high Pentagon officials that U. S. intercontinental ballistic missiles at present are more vulnerable to destruction by antiballistic missile systems than are Soviet ICBMs.

The Soviets in their ICBM program moved to larger warheads and larger missiles. They stuck to more massive, more conventional circuitry which seems to be less affected by nearby atomic explosions, such as those set off by enemy ABM systems.

The United States, emphasizing small nuclear warheads and smaller missiles, moved into highly sophisticated microcircuitry which has turned out to be more vulnerable. That is, an ABM nuclear explosion at a considerable distance (relatively) seemingly can damage the warhead in flight.

Current ABM systems, it will be recalled, emasculate enemy ICBM warheads in flight by setting off counter-nuclear explosions near the incoming missile.

This finding on the relative vulnerability of Soviet and U. S. ICBMs has caused no panic in the Pentagon. The existing Soviet ABM system is believed here to be so poor in design and construction that Pentagon officials privately are confident they have time to correct the weakness in U.S. ICBMs before the situation becomes critical.

In fact, Pentagon-sponsored research has developed improved circuitry which can be added to the U.S. ICBM warheads. This new circuitry, it is believed here, would ward off the destructive effects of enemy ABM nuclear explosions on U.S. nuclear warheads unless the enemy explosions were quite close. This should mean more U.S. warheads would get through Russian defenses.

The high degree of electronic sophistication demonstrated by the Soviet unmanned landing on Venus and by the automatic docking of two Soviet earth-orbiting satellites, however, indicates the Russians will rapidly develop ABM systems superior to those they now have installed.

The new Russian ABM systems inevitably would include a capability for putting their ABMs much closer to incoming U.S. ICBM warheads before exploding. These improved Russian ABM systems would thus nullify some of the protection of the American counter-ABM circuitry.

U.S. military scientists this reporter has talked to are confident the United States will keep the lead in this esoteric electronic race.

But some equally reputable scientists worry that the United States is not putting enough effort and funds into basic research to give this country's scientists the knowledge to make these advances rapidly enough. The Soviet scientists continually come up with surprises in areas which American officials have been confident we were well in the lead.

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrink-

The fall-off in VC recruitments has meant that VC ranks north of Saigon have had to be padded with North Vietnamese army regulars. The VC — all South Vietnamese — have come to northerners' impose. This has contributed to the escalation of defections. In the Mekong Delta there is evidence of rebellion against oppressive guerrilla taxation and induction of boys.

We are sorely complicating the enemy's three basic needs: (1) food, (2) ammunition and (3) replacements. The success of task force Oregon meant a catastrophic shut-off of food particularly, and it had the side benefits of denying the enemy his taxing privileges. It also allowed a long stretch of Route 1, the French-built main coastal route, to be opened to allied traffic for the first time in years.

As for ammunition, the enemy must now depend upon the most primitive means of introducing it into South Vietnam. The U. S. Navy has frustrated nearly all attempts to bring it in by boat. Nothing bigger than a rowboat can escape the attention of, and filter through, our picket line of fast boats. Mortar shells are being carried in by bullock, bicycle and hand.

All are familiar with the fact that this is the longest war in which the U.S. has ever engaged. What is not generally recognized, is that only in the last year have we been able to exert stern pressure on the enemy. From 1965 through 1966 there wasn't enough muscle to make itself felt except in fits and starts. U.S. forces were spread through the country in sorely insufficient strength. The main strategy at that time was to keep the enemy off balance to take the calculated risk of being clobbered which would have weakened the confidence of the South Vietnamese in our ability to defend them, and shake confidence at home and among allies as well. Our tactics were those of a voluntary fire brigade, rushing hither and yon.

Only in the past year have we had enough troops to apply full pressure on the enemy. He is finally getting the message. He may fold tomorrow, or by Christmas or a year or two hence. No brain, human or electronic, can predict with confidence. But most observers agree that the odds are overwhelmingly stacked against the enemy.

We now have a solid base from which the American soldier, once here, can operate, which his predecessor did not have. The war in Viet Nam is the first the U.S. has engaged in where we attempted to mount a sustained campaign without the use of indigenous roads, ports, air strips, depots and oil tank farms. In Europe we overran and swiftly utilized massive facilities. Even in Korea after MacArthur's historic end run, we had the great port of Inchon to augment Pusan to the south.

Now, thanks to incredible feats of engineering and construction, we operate six deep-water ports, eight jet fields—some with double runways stretching 10,000 feet—countless depots, many miles of new roads, housing, training centers, hospitals, repair shops, etc. Hereafter, 75 per cent of all the troops who arrive here will be combat or close-support personnel, for there is no need to send in men to construct or maintain facilities.

The standard complaint of critics of the war—that the South Vietnamese troops do not fight as well as their fellow South Vietnamese who have joined or been impressed into the VC—does not sit well with the average American commander here.

"They keep losing more men in action than we do," one general said of the ARVN. "It's unfair to compare them with American forces. They don't have our firepower, our leadership, or our helicopter support. Their men can't look forward to going home after 12 month service, as our men can. They get no R and R (Ed. Note: The five days of "rest and recreation" given to U.S. servicemen without cost in cities of their choice.) You can't expect them to fight as well as we do.

We couldn't get along without them, of course. We'll always need them to secure the places we overrun. That fact alone gives us the mobility we must have to win this war.

Marines stationed in I Corps, which runs along the DMZ, have crushed what may have been the enemy's last attempt to launch a massive attack. North Vietnamese troops in considerable strength, perhaps three divisions, were dispersed, thrown back and killed by charging leathernecks by cascades of 180 mm shells, massive B52 drops and five amphibious operations. During July alone in that region, 3,877 enemy dead were counted, many weapons were captured, and the navy ran down a trawler with enough ammunition to supply three battalions.

In 1965 some 11,000 enemy troops accepted the Chieu Hoi (open arms) proposition. They surrendered with their arms and became what the South Vietnamese government calls "rallies." They are not treated as prisoners of war; indeed, they have been joined by their families, have been given housing and enjoy other benefits, including their separate peace.

Last year the figure jumped to 21,000. By the end of August, 1967, more than 22,000 had crossed over, sorely sapping the enemy's already weakening strength.

This is a different kind of ballgame from Waterloo or

United States Vs. Soviet ICBMs

NEA WASHINGTON
Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — As a result of unannounced careful studies by reputable scientists it is now believed by high Pentagon officials that U. S. intercontinental ballistic missiles at present are more vulnerable to destruction by antiballistic missile systems than are Soviet ICBMs.

The Soviets in their ICBM program moved to larger warheads and larger missiles. They stuck to more massive, more conventional circuitry which seems to be less affected by nearby atomic explosions, such as those set off by enemy ABM systems.

The United States, emphasizing small nuclear warheads and smaller missiles, moved into highly sophisticated microcircuitry which has turned out to be more vulnerable. That is, an ABM nuclear explosion at a considerable distance (relatively) seemingly can damage the warhead in flight.

Current ABM systems, it will be recalled, emasculate enemy ICBM warheads in flight by setting off counter-nuclear explosions near the incoming missile.

This finding on the relative vulnerability of Soviet and U. S. ICBMs has caused no panic in the Pentagon. The existing Soviet ABM system is believed here to be so poor in design and construction that Pentagon officials privately are confident they have time to correct the weakness in U.S. ICBMs before the situation becomes critical.

In fact, Pentagon-sponsored research has developed improved circuitry which can be added to the U.S. ICBM warheads. This new circuitry, it is believed here, would ward off the destructive effects of enemy ABM nuclear explosions on U.S. nuclear warheads unless the enemy explosions were quite close. This should mean more U.S. warheads would get through Russian defenses.

The high degree of electronic sophistication demonstrated by the Soviet unmanned landing on Venus and by the automatic docking of two Soviet earth-orbiting satellites, however, indicates the Russians will rapidly develop ABM systems superior to those they now have installed.

The new Russian ABM systems inevitably would include a capability for putting their ABMs much closer to incoming U.S. ICBM warheads before exploding. These improved Russian ABM systems would thus nullify some of the protection of the American counter-ABM circuitry.

U.S. military scientists this reporter has talked to are confident the United States will keep the lead in this esoteric electronic race.

But some equally reputable

scientists worry that the United States is not putting enough effort and funds into basic research to give this country's scientists the knowledge to make these advances rapidly enough. The Soviet scientists continually come up with surprises in areas which American officials have been confident we were well in the lead.

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

Dental Study Group To Meet November 15

Famed lecturer Dr. Irving Robinson Hardy of Boston, Mass., will be the guest of the Ulster-Greene Dental Study Group Wednesday, Nov. 15, at the Sky Top Restaurant.

Vitality interested in the need for continuing education, approximately 40 active dentists of the Ulster-Greene Dental Study Group attend regular monthly meetings on the third Wednesday of each month for dinner and lecture by a noted professional.

The Study Group is a component Society of the Third District of the New York State Dental Society, and is presently headed by Dr. Martin E. Kantor, president. President-elect is Dr. Milton Ratnor. Other officers are Dr. Frederick Schwitz, secretary - treasurer and Drs. Henry P. Jacobs and Thomas White, liaison officers. Dr. Joseph B. Kearney, chairman of the Committee on Continuing Education, is assisted by Drs. Paul Perlman and Edward Gurland. The Study Group is acutely aware of the necessity to be familiar with modern techniques being developed for the successful practice of dentistry.

Dr. Hardy, this month's guest lecturer, served as a captain in World War I, had a private practice in Middleboro, Mass., and later in New York City. He has been a special lecturer at Tufts University School of Dental Medicine and at Columbia University School of Dental Medicine. He served as professor of Prosthetic Dentistry at Tufts University from 1946 to 1954, and later in the post-graduate division of the same University. He is now professor emeritus at Tufts. In 1961 and '62, Dr. Hardy was a Fulbright Professor of Prosthetic Dentistry at the University of Rome, Italy. He has lectured nationally to important Dental Societies, as well as in Guadalajara, Mexico, the Royal Dental College of the University of London, in Copenhagen, Denmark, Heidelberg, Germany, Canada and South America.

Members of the Ulster-Greene Dental Study Group are looking forward to hearing Dr. Hardy Wednesday night and invite all members of the Dental Society to attend the dinner and lecture.

Japanese Ask Role In the Viet Problem

SEATTLE (AP) — Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato declared Sunday that he believes Japan should play some sort of a role in Vietnam.

He did not spell out his meaning, but he termed the Vietnam war "an Asian problem," then added that it also is a world problem.

Without clearly explaining, the 66-year-old prime minister told newsmen here that "if I were to excessively commit my country to a military burden, then I should be subject to criticism."

The Japanese constitution, drawn up after World War II, prevents Japan from having any armed forces, save those for defense.

A Japanese official with Sato explained that the comment on a military burden was a "purely hypothetical" statement and was not intended to be any sort of policy declaration. The official said there was "at present no desire to change the defense provision in the constitution. Sato plans to discuss both Vietnam and the return of Okinawa to Japanese control with president Johnson Tuesday and Wednesday in Washington, D.C.

In a news conference at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, Sato said all of the 11 Asian nations he visited in September and October "wished that some kind of solution could be reached to bring an end" to the Vietnam war.

His departure from Tokyo on a chartered jetliner was delayed for about 40 minutes when some 800 leftist students engaged police in a club-swinging, rock-throwing fracas. There were 215 policemen, 31 students and 8 bystanders injured and police arrested 333 in the demonstrations protesting Sato's visit to the U.S. and the fate of Okinawa.

It has been estimated that 12 million persons are afflicted with leprosy.

Four Years After Dallas

President's Security Aware of 1968 Politicking Hazards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four years after Dallas, a bigger Secret Service with a more efficient look faces the challenge of protecting a President campaigning in an atmosphere of war and protest demonstrations.

But several politicians questioned about the subject say they don't foresee that security problems will restrict President Johnson's or his opponent's ability to campaign in the usual open, hand-shaking style in 1968, assuming Johnson seeks re-election.

Sums It Up

A veteran Congress member familiar with problems of security as well as of politicking, summed it up this way:

"Presidents and presidential candidates are politicians, and politicians want to rub elbows with the masses, and no one will be able to stop them, even if the Secret Service would like to."

Johnson's Veterans Day tour this weekend will be his first jet swing around the country since the 1966 congressional election. The schedule limits him to the relative security of military bases.

Some observers believe the fairly limited domestic travel by a President who has in the past zest fully mixed with crowds reflects security concerns over Vietnam demonstrations as well as the pressure of state business.

For example during a short visit to New York City Thursday night antiwar demonstrators shouted out as his motorcade passed them: "Johnson murderer! Johnson murderer!" There was heavy security both at the airport and the Americana Hotel where he spoke.

For the Secret Service bodyguards the antithesis of security is presidential exposure—trumpeted schedules, limousine is bullet-proof.

If the service is concerned about possible security pitfalls on the 1968 campaign trail it doesn't do its worrying in public. But while it officially shrugs off such problems as part of the job it is acutely aware of the hazards.

Better Manned, Equipped

And it is better manned and equipped than it was Nov. 22, 1963, when President John F. Kennedy was killed by a sniper as he rode in an open limousine in a Dallas motorcade.

It has 575 special agents compared with 350 in 1963. To get a bird's-eye view of rooftops and building windows it makes use of helicopters. The presidential limousine is bullet-proof.

The service now has formal liaison with the FBI, the CIA and other security and law enforcement agencies creating a routine channel for a vastly increased flow of intelligence.

And it is making more use of scientific developments. It has installed a computer.

The most impressive gain is in the field of preventive security—the finding of troublemakers and potential assassins before they can strike.

In its assassination postmortem the Warren Commission was icily critical of the lack of communications between the Secret Service and other federal and local agencies.

Although reports on Lee Harvey Oswald were in files of the FBI, the CIA, the State Department and the Office of Naval Intelligence, the Secret Service has nothing on him.

Before the assassination the service had about 100 names in its "trip file"—persons considered to be sufficient threat to be checked out when a presidential trip is planned. Now the file has 1800 names.

This doesn't mean that many more people are becoming threats to the President only that the service is getting more information from federal state and local agencies as well as from citizens.

Civil Service Lists Exams For January 27

The Ulster County Civil Service Commission is holding two open competitive examinations on Jan. 27, 1968. The final date for filing applications is December 22.

One examination is for Public Health Sanitarian and the other Environmental Health Technician. At present there are two vacancies for Environmental Health Technician and one for Public Health Sanitarian, the salaries in both cases are to be determined.

Candidates for each position must have been residents of the county for at least four months immediately prior to the written test.

Acceptable training and experience for Public Health Sanitarian is graduation from a university or school or recognized standing with a bachelor's degree including a minimum of 30 hours in mathematics and natural science, plus a year of satisfactory experience as a Public Health Sanitarian trainee in New York state during which he received an in-service training program approved by the State Department of Public Health which includes satisfactory completion of a Public Health Council approved course in environmental health or two years of satisfactory experience in environmental health activities.

Acceptable training and experience for Environmental Health Technician requires an associate degree in applied science or completion of two years of college including 12 hours of mathematics and natural science, plus in both instances, a program plan of in-service training must be filed by the Health Unit with the State Department of Health and be approved by them; plus a year of satisfactory experience as an environmental health technician trainee or as associate degree in applied science in a course specifically approved by the Public Health Council.

Other information in relation to two examinations may be obtained from the Ulster County Civil Service Commission, UPO Box 172, County Office Building, Kingston, where applications may be secured.

Boy Scout News Cub Pack 7

The monthly meeting of Cub Scout Pack 7 was held recently at the First Presbyterian Church in Kingston and opened with a flag ceremony conducted by boys of Den 3.

Several games were held while committee chairman Bob Carlson presided over the parents business meeting where the creation of Den 4, under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Worth, was announced.

Afterwards, the pack regrouped and each den put on a skit about the monthly theme, Westward Ho.

Newcomers Paul O'Connor, James Bach, Barry and Bryan Kantner, and Pat Robbins went through the chute and were branded before being taken into the pack as Bobcats.

Matthew Klein received two silver arrows, Brian Gorman got one gold and two silver arrows, Mike Kirk was presented with one silver arrow, Jerry White won a wolf badge and a gold arrow, and Roy Anderson, Ed Whalen, and John Grogan received wolf badges.

Bob Kantner presented "Cub Day at Camp" patches to 10 boys who attended Camp Tri-Mount last summer, amongst them, John Kelly, Neil Klein, Matthew Klein, Gary McCloskey, Brian Gorman, John Grogan, Bruce Johnson, Edward Whalen and Roy Anderson.

Four Years After Dallas

President's Security Aware of 1968 Politicking Hazards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four years after Dallas, a bigger Secret Service with a more efficient look faces the challenge of protecting a President campaigning in an atmosphere of war and protest demonstrations. But several politicians questioned about the subject say they don't foresee that security problems will restrict President Johnson's or his opponent's ability to campaign in the usual open, hand-shaking style in 1968, assuming Johnson seeks re-election.

Sums It Up

A veteran Congress member familiar with problems of security as well as of politicking, summed it up this way:

"Presidents and presidential candidates are politicians, and politicians want to rub elbows with the masses, and no one will be able to stop them, even if the Secret Service would like to."

Johnson's Veterans Day tour this weekend will be his first jet swing around the country since the 1966 congressional election. The schedule limits him to the relative security of military bases.

Some observers believe the fairly limited domestic travel by a President who has in the past zestfully mixed with crowds reflects security concerns over Vietnam demonstrations as well as the pressure of state business.

For example during a short visit to New York City Thursday night antiwar demonstrators shouted out as his motorcade passed them: "Johnson murderer! Johnson murderer!" There was heavy security both at the airport and the Americana Hotel where he spoke.

Cub Pack 7

The monthly meeting of Cub Scout Pack 7 was held recently at the First Presbyterian Church in Kingston and opened with a flag ceremony conducted by boys of Den 3.

Several games were held while committee chairman Bob Carlzon presided over the parents business meeting where the creation of Den 4, under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Worth, was announced.

Afterwards, the pack regrouped and each den put on a skit about the monthly theme, Westward Ho.

Newcomers Paul O'Conner, James Bach, Barry and Bryan Kantner, and Pat Robbins went through the chute and were branded before being taken into the pack as Bobcats.

Matthew Klein received two silver arrows, Brian Gorman got one gold and two silver arrows, Mike Kirk was presented with one silver arrow, Jerry White won a wolf badge and a gold arrow, and Roy Anderson, Ed Whalen, and John Grogan received wolf badges.

For the Secret Service bodyguards the antithesis of security is presidential exposure—trumpeted schedules.

If the service is concerned about possible security pitfalls on the 1968 campaign trail it doesn't do its worrying in public. But while it officially shrugs off such problems as part of the job it is acutely aware of the hazards.

Better Manned, Equipped

And it is better manned and equipped than it was Nov. 22, 1963 when President John F. Kennedy was killed by a sniper as he rode in an open limousine in a Dallas motorcade.

It has 575 special agents compared with 350 in 1963. To get a bird's-eye view of rooftops and building windows it makes use of helicopters. The presidential limousine is bullet-proof.

The service now has formal liaison with the FBI, the CIA and other security and law enforcement agencies creating a routine channel for a vastly increased flow of intelligence.

And it is making more use of scientific developments. It has installed a computer.

The most impressive gain is in the field of preventive security—the finding of troublemakers and potential assassins before they can strike.

In its assassination postmortem the Warren Commission was icily critical of the lack of communications between the Secret Service and other federal and local agencies.

Although reports on Lee Harvey Oswald were in files of the FBI, the CIA, the State Department and the Office of Naval Intelligence, the Secret Service has nothing on him.

Before the assassination the service had about 100 names in its "trip file"—persons considered to be sufficient threat to be checked out when a presidential trip is planned. Now the file has 1800 names.

This doesn't mean that many more people are becoming threats to the President only that the service is getting more information from federal state and local agencies as well as from citizens.

Detection Is Theme of Local Diabetes Week

Ulster Chapter of the New York Diabetes Association and the Ulster County Board of Health, co-sponsors of the annual diabetes detection drive in Ulster County have announced this year's drive starting today will be headed by Mrs. Morton Brett, dietary consultant for the Ulster County Infirmary and the New York State Department of Health, Albany Regional Office.

Dr. Vernon Link, commissioner of health in Ulster County called for a heightened effort to reach as many residents of Ulster County as possible and persuade them to be tested for diabetes. "We hope to spare many residents of Ulster County the consequences that sometimes ensue when diabetes goes undetected for too long a time. For among the millions in the United States who have diabetes, there are 1,600,000 who do not know it. These are the people we want to help. And we can do so because there are three factors which can determine the future health and well-being of a person with diabetes — early detection, prompt medical treatment and proper instruction to enable the patient to control his or her condition."

Dr. Link concluded with a reminder that there is no fund raising connected with Diabetes Week. "It is a public service to the community as a whole and to our neighbors, friends and relatives who do not know it. Free testing clinics will be held at the Benedictine Hospital on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. and at the Kingston Hospital Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 2-4 p.m. and on Thursday and Friday evenings from 7-9. There will be no evening clinic on Saturday."

Resnick Speaks At Esopus Prep

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Ellenville) was the guest speaker Sunday afternoon at the first Parents Day and open house of Esopus Prep School.

The school, on the former site of Wiltwyck School, is a pre-vocational school for high school dropouts from New York City.

Ed James, assistant director, told The Freeman today that 210 parents and friends were on hand to visit the 110 boys. The youths are all between the ages of 17 and 21.

Congressman Resnick spoke on the importance of education, citing examples of how various ethnic groups raised their standards of living through learning.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Donald Miniscalco of Mt. St. Alphonsus Seminary. William K. Banks, Esopus Prep director, also spoke along with Miss Marie Duffin, deputy executive director of the New York City Youth Board. Benediction was given by the Rev. Joseph Wall, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Esopus.

They Sold the Circus For a Reported $10 Million

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Work went on with new enthusiasm at winter quarters of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Shows, Inc., today and "The Greatest Show on Earth" was under new ownership for the first time since the Ringling brothers hit the road as entertainers in 1882.

"That's great news," said workers in and around the big amphitheater here which the circus calls home for seven or eight weeks each winter. They referred to reports from Rome, Italy, that Judge Roy Hofheinz of Houston, Tex., and Irvin and Israel Feld of Washington, D.C., had bought the famous old amusement enterprise for "more than $10 million."

John Ringling North, president of the circus and since his uncle John Ringling died in 1936, said he decided to pass ownership to Hofheinz and the Feld brothers because they indicated "their concern and their dedication to maintain the concept, tradition and artistic standards of the circus."

The new owners announced the technical staff of the circus would remain the same and the 1968 season would proceed as scheduled. The circus is to close its 1967 tour in Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 19 and return to winter quarters here, where it will three days stand Jan. 11-13.

The new owners said North would continue as producer and his brother, Henry Ringling North, would remain as vice president. Offices will be moved from New York to Washington, D.C., where the Feld brothers have operated the Carter Barron Amphitheater for the past 14 years.

Hofheinz, who masterminded the Astrodome stadium in Houston, will become board chairman of the circus, with Irvin Feld president and chief executive officer and Israel Feld executive vice president and treasurer.

North, 64, who makes his home in Rome, had 450 of the 1,000 circus shares in his own name and with his brother controlled 60 more as executors of their mother's estate. Minority stockholders, who owned 490 shares, were heirs of Edith Court Ringling and her son, Robert Edward Ringling.

The Circuit Court last Thursday approved sale of the minority stock and Judge Lynn Silverthorn said the court acted for beneficiaries of the trusts.

Rumors of the sale circulated for some time and a year ago John Ringling North put the price of his shares at $5.1 million. Minority stockholders said their shares were worth $4.9 million.

Explosion Rocks Plane Carrying 78

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — High over Colorado, an explosion rocked an American Airlines jetliner with 78 persons aboard, shattering suitcases in the plane's rear baggage compartment.

The plane, on a nonstop flight Sunday from Chicago to San Diego, dropped about 600 feet over Alamosa, Colo.

After the Boeing 727 landed two hours later in San Diego, fragments of what appeared to be a homemade bomb were found in the luggage debris.

"There's no question about that," said Mel Zikes, a public relations officer for American.

Parts of a crudely made bomb with a timing device — a face of a clock, some mechanism and a battery — were found.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation refused to comment except to say persons were being questioned.

None of the 72 passengers or six crew members was reported injured.

Coach Tony Succi and seven members of San Diego State College track team were flying home after repeating as champions of the national college cross-country meet at Wheaton, Ill., College.

The pilot, Dwain C. Duncan of Barrington, Ill., said he believed something was wrong with the automatic pressure system, but that manual control brought the pressure back to normal.

Quell Barn Fire

Ulster Hose Company in charge of Fire Chief W. E. Fishback and Assistant Chief William Williams responded to an alarm at 12:20 p.m. Saturday after fire was discovered in a small frame barn owned by Edgar Elliott on Morton Boulevard. Fire officials said the blaze, which destroyed the building, was started by two boys. Fire units were back in service at 1:10 p.m. At 10:35 a.m. the same day the fire companies checked a fire in the Town of Ulster dump. Capt. Charles Crespin and Lieut. A. Auchmoody were in charge of the firefighters.

Terrorists Explode Two Bombs

BONN, Germany (AP) — A terrorist group which claims to have set off explosions at the Greek and Bolivian embassies in Bonn announced today it is planning new actions throughout the world to avenge the death of Ernesto Che Guevara.

The organization calling itself "The Group of the 1st of May," made the announcement in a letter to the Bonn office of The Associated Press. The letter, typewritten in Spanish, did not say when or where the new actions might take place. It was mailed at a Bonn post office Sunday.

"Since the tragic and heroic death of Che Guevara, brought about by mercenary troops of (Bolivian Gen. Rene) Barrientos — trained and paid by Yankee militarists — our efforts to create an international movement of revolutionary solidarity call for an increase in direct actions throughout the world against representatives of North American imperialism and its lackeys," the letter said.

"This movement will try to see by future deeds and actions that from today on the crimes of imperialism and dictatorship and those in their service do not go unpunished."

The explosions at the Greek and Bolivian embassies in the early morning hours of Sunday caused minor property damage but no injuries. No arrests have been made.

Select Jury

Selection of a jury to hear the evidence in the case of Bernard J. Kearney, also known as Barney Kearney, was taken up Monday morning in county court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino. Kearney is charged with criminally receiving stolen property, criminally concealing and withholding stolen and wrongfully acquired property. The charge grows out of an entrance to Kingston Terminal Warehouse, Pine Grove Avenue, last February 25.

William Mullany appears for Kearney and Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt appears for the prosecution.

4 Deserters Ask Asylum

TOKYO (AP) — Four U.S. Navy men from the 7th Fleet aircraft carrier Intrepid have deserted and asked for political asylum outside the United States because they oppose the war in Vietnam, the Japan Peace for Vietnam Committee said today.

It said a representative of "The American Peace Movement" came to Japan a week ago to confer with the sailors. The Japanese committee added that David Dellinger, an anti-war leader who helped organize the march on the Pentagon in Washington last month, had been informed of the defection.

A spokesman for the committee, which opposes the war, said the four were John M. Barilla, 20, airman; Richard D. Bailey, 19, airman; Michael A. Lindner, 19, airman apprentice; and Craig W. Anderson, 20, airman apprentice.

No home addresses were given.

The peace committee spokesman said the four discarded their uniforms upon landing at Yokosuka and have not reported back to the Navy.

"They left their aircraft carrier with the determination to oppose the Vietnam war," the spokesman added.

The U.S. Navy confirmed that the four were absent without leave after the Intrepid sailed from Yokosuka Oct. 25.

The carrier, whose planes have been bombing North Vietnam, came to Japan for a week's recreation for her crew.

Purse-Snatching

Accused of snatching pocketbooks from two women Friday, Wade Robinson, 26, of 142 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, was apprehended by police in that city and held on charges of petit larceny.

Robinson, also known as Wade Brooks, was accused of taking a pocketbook from Mrs. Norman Westervelt, of 31 South Clinton Street, as she was standing on the sidewalk in Church Street. Within an hour, Miss Loretta Scott, of North Road, Highland, complained to police her purse was taken as she waited for her father at South Hamilton and Cannon Streets. Patrolmen Robert F. Oakley and Donald F. Leuzzi apprehended the suspect as he was walking near the scene of the second theft.

$2.8 Million Stolen From London Office

LONDON (AP) — Thieves working all weekend with blow torches cleaned out the London headquarters of the national cooperative store chain and may have gotten away with as much as a million pounds — $2.8 million, police said today.

The headquarters in the Stratford section of East London is the depository for huge sums spent by Britons in the various co-ops operated as a giant chain store system.

The master safe and some deposit boxes were burned open and rifled, police said.

The raiders must have spent much of Saturday and Sunday using "thermal lances" which burn through metal slowly but silently.

Officials of the cooperative were unable to assess the loss immediately but a quick estimate put it at a million pounds.

Under the cooperative system, customers can buy an enormous variety of items, have their purchases listed in their stamps book and then receive discounts periodically. Many small communities as well as the big cities have co-op stores.

An all-day battle Saturday was fought at such close quarters that 92 enemy bodies were found only 25 yards outside the U.S. defense perimeter.

Units of the 173rd Airborne Brigade reported killing 12 North Vietnamese troops Sunday in scattered contacts throughout the day in the same general area where the paratroopers fought the hard battle Saturday.

The paratroopers made sporadic contact several times Sunday with enemy troops entrenched in bunker complexes and called in artillery and air strikes on the Communist positions. One paratrooper was killed and 36 wounded.

More enemy attacks were expected.

Air Force B52 bombers kept after the North Vietnamese Sunday, saturating suspected Red defensive positions, infiltration routes and storage areas 15 miles southwest of Dak To with about 150,000 pounds of bombs.

The eight-engine Stratofortresses raided suspected enemy positions near the demilitarized zone Sunday night and today, hitting areas two and nine miles north of the U.S. Marine outpost at Con Thien.

The first is former Mayor of New York City Robert F. Wagner. Wagner has been out of the spotlight since the John V. Lindsay win in the big city. However, the former mayor already battled Javits for the Senate and lost.

The other "possible" is new-comer Morris Abram, senior advisor to the American mission to the United Nations.

Abram has had a public relations organization in operation for a month, pushing for his nomination.

Anti-Poverty Supporters Plan Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — House supporters of the administration's antipoverty program plan to fight for the full $2.06 billion requested instead of seeking a compromise to head off a deep cut proposed by Republicans.

A GOP amendment to slash the program by $660 million is slated for action today as the House resumes consideration of the controversial legislation.

A plan by some Democrats who back the bill to agree to a lesser cut in hopes of defeating the Republican move was abandoned after a series of weekend strategy huddles and after President Johnson's fighting denunciation of "standpatters and nay-sayers."

In a New York speech Thursday night, Johnson blasted the "old coalition" he said has always opposed reform and is now using the Vietnam war as an excuse to oppose his domestic program.

The decision to stand by the administration request was taken even though the Republican bid to cut the total spending to $1.4 billion is likely to succeed. The economy-minded House has already indicated in an earlier vote it thinks the Office of Economic Opportunity can get along with as little as $1.2 billion.

The reason House Democrats can view such a potential defeat calmly is that the Senate has already passed a bill authorizing $2.2 billion and an eventual compromise bill could go as high as $1.8 billion no matter what the House decides.

The money amendment is only the opening of the Republican fight to rewrite the antipoverty bill. The GOP has several dozen other proposals ready to go and final action on the bill is not expected until midweek.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., who proposed the cut to $1.4 billion, said if the House goes along with the rest of the GOP amendments it will have created a program that would generate $3 billion to fight poverty through additional state, local and private contributions.

The GOP bill would end some programs, but others under different administration and enlarge the role of private industry in job training.

Democratic strategists feel confident they can defeat most, if not all, of the GOP amendments.

The House bill also would require Community Action agencies to be units of a state or local government. Of the 1,600 such agencies now in operation, 80 per cent are private, non-profit organizations.

Supporters of the amendment hope it will end the kind of complaints — aired at a Senate hearing into last summer's riots — that allege a link between civic agitation and antipoverty workers connected with private organizations.

North Viets..

the North Vietnamese have rushed more troops to the Dak To area, apparently doubling their strength there, but the Reds made only three mortar attacks on U.S. positions in the area today.

Initial reports said two infantrymen were wounded.

American officers reported that two enemy regiments were shifted to Dak To from the Pleiku area, about 75 miles farther south, to give the North Vietnamese a fighting force of about 8,000 men around Dak To.

Some 5,000 or 6,000 American soldiers face the Communists on what became known as the second front — the first is below the demilitarized zone — after fierce, large-scale fighting erupted there Nov. 1.

The U.S. Command, revising its casualty figures, said 92 American and 635 North Vietnamese troops have been killed in the heavy fighting. Headquarters said 500 U.S. troops were wounded, but about half of them were treated at medical clearing stations and returned to duty.

D-DAY TUESDAY—On Tuesday Nov. 14 voters in California's 11th Congressional District go to the polls in a special election to fill the House seat of the late Rep. J. Arthur Younger. The race has gained national prominence because of one candidate, former child movie star Shirley Temple Black. Four Republicans and six Democrats are vying for the seat. Since a majority vote is necessary for a candidate to go directly to Congress, a runoff election is likely Dec. 12 between the top Republican and Democrat. The Republican candidates are: L-R: Mrs. Shirley Temple Black, Paul N. McCloskey, William H. Draper III, and Earl B. Whitmore. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Detection Is Theme of Local Diabetes Week

Ulster Chapter of the New York Diabetes Association and the Ulster County Board of Health, co-sponsors of the annual diabetes detection drive in Ulster County have announced this year's drive starting today will be headed by Mrs. Morton Brett, dietary consultant for the Ulster County Infirmary and the New York State Department of Health, Albany Regional Office.

Dr. Vernon Link, commissioner of health in Ulster County called for a heightened effort to reach as many residents of Ulster County as possible and persuade them to be tested for diabetes. "We hope to spare many residents of Ulster County the consequences that sometimes ensue when diabetes goes uncontrolled for too long a time. For among the millions in the United States who have diabetes, there are 1,600,000 who do not know it. These are the people we want to help. And we can do so because there are three factors which can determine the future health and well-being of a person with diabetes — early detection, prompt medical treatment and proper instruction to enable the patient to control his or her condition."

Dr. Link concluded with a reminder that there is no fund raising connected with Diabetes Week. "It is a public service to the community as a whole and to our neighbors, friends and relatives who may have diabetes and do not know it. Free testing clinics will be held at the Benedictine Hospital on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. and at the Kingston Hospital Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 2-4 p.m. and on Thursday and Friday evenings from 7-9. There will be no evening clinic on Saturday."

They Sold the Circus For a Reported $10 Million

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Work went on with new enthusiasm at winter quarters of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Shows, Inc., today and "The Greatest Show on Earth" was under new ownership for the first time since the Ringling brothers hit the road as entertainers in 1882.

"That's great news," said workers in and around the big amphitheater here which the circus calls home for seven or eight weeks each winter. They referred to reports from Rome, Italy, that Judge Roy Hofheinz of Houston, Tex., and Irvin and Israel Feld of Washington, D.C., had bought the famous old amusement enterprise for "more than $10 million."

John Ringling North, president of the circus off and on since his uncle John Ringling died in 1936, said he decided to pass ownership to Hofheinz and the Feld brothers because they indicated "their concern and their dedication to maintain the concept, tradition and artistic standards of the circus."

The new owners announced the technical staff of the circus would remain the same and the 1968 season would proceed as scheduled. The circus is to close its 1967 tour in Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 19 and return to winter quarters here, where it will three days stand Jan. 11-13.

The new owners said North would continue as producer and his brother, Henry Ringling North, would remain as vice president. Offices will be moved from New York to Washington, D.C., where the Feld brothers have operated the Carter Barron Amphitheater for the past 14 years.

Hofheinz, who masterminded the Astrodom stadium in Houston, will become board chairman of the circus, with Irvin Feld president and chief executive officer and Israel Feld executive vice president and treasurer.

North, 64, who makes his home in Rome, had 450 of the 1,000 circus shares in his own name and with his brother controlled 60 more as executor of their mother's estate. Minority stockholders, who owned 490 shares, were heirs of Edith Conway Ringling and her son, Robert Edward Ringling.

The Circuit Court last Thursday approved sale of the minority stock and Judge Lynn Silverthorn said the court acted for beneficiaries of the trusts.

Rumors of the sale circulated for some time and a year ago John Ringling North put the price of his shares at $5.1 million. Minority stockholders said their shares were worth $4.9 million.

Explosion Rocks Plane Carrying 78

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — High over Colorado, an explosion rocked an American Airlines jetliner with 78 persons aboard, shattering suitcases in the plane's rear baggage compartment.

The plane, on a nonstop flight Sunday from Chicago to San Diego, dropped about 600 feet over Alamosa, Colo.

After the Boeing 727 landed two hours later in San Diego, fragments of what appeared to be a homemade bomb were found in the luggage debris.

"There's no question about that," said Mel Zikes, a public relations officer for American.

"Parts of a crudely made bomb with a timing device—a face of a clock, some mechanism and a battery—were found."

The Federal Bureau of Investigation refused to comment except to say persons were being questioned.

None of the 72 passengers or six crew members was reported injured.

Coach Tony Succi and seven members of San Diego State College track team were flying home after repeating as champions of the national college cross-country meet at Wheaton, Ill., College.

The pilot, Duane C. Duncan of Barrington, Ill., said he believed something was wrong with the automatic pressure system, but that manual control brought the pressure back to normal.

Resnick Speaks At Esopus Prep

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Ellenville) was the guest speaker Sunday afternoon at the first Parents Day and open house of Esopus Prep School.

The school, on the former site of Wiltwyck School, is a pre-collegiate school for high school dropouts from New York City.

Ed James, assistant director, told The Freeman today that 210 parents and friends were on hand to visit the 110 boys. The youths are all between the ages of 17 and 21.

Congressman Resnick spoke on the importance of education, citing examples of how various ethnic groups raised their standards of living through learning.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Donald Miniscalco of Mt. St. Alphonsus Seminary, William K. Banks, Esopus Prep director, also spoke along with Miss Marie Duffin, deputy executive director of the New York City Youth Board. Benediction was given by the Rev. Joseph Wall, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Esopus.

Quell Barn Fire

Ulster Hose Company in charge of Fire Chief W. E. Fishman and Assistant Chief William Williams responded to an alarm at 12:20 p.m. Saturday after fire was discovered in a small frame barn owned by Edgar Elliott on Morton Boulevard. Fire officials said the blaze, which destroyed the building, was started by two boys. Fire units were back in service at 1:10 p.m. At 10:35 a.m. the same day the fire companies checked a fire in the Town of Ulster dump. Capt. Charles Crespo and Lieut. A. Auchmoody were in charge of the firefighters.

Terrorists Explode Two Bombs

BONN, Germany (AP) — A terrorist group which claims to have set off explosions at the Greek and Bolivian embassies in Bonn announced today it is planning new actions throughout the world to avenge the death of Ernesto Che Guevara.

The organization calling itself "The Group of the 1st of May," made the announcement in a letter to the Bonn office of The Associated Press. The letter, typewritten in Spanish, did not say when or where the new actions might take place. It was mailed at a Bonn post office Sunday.

"Since the tragic and heroic death of Che Guevara, brought about by mercenary troops of (Bolivian Gen. Rene) Barrientos—trained and paid by Yankee militarists—our efforts to create an international movement of revolutionary solidarity call for an increase in direct actions throughout the world against representatives of North American imperialism and its lackeys," the letter said.

"This movement will try to see by future deeds and actions that from today on the crimes of imperialism and dictatorships and those in their service do not go unpunished."

The explosions at the Greek and Bolivian embassies in the early morning hours of Sunday caused minor property damage but no injuries. No arrests have been made.

Select Jury

Selection of a jury to hear the evidence in the case of Bernard J. Kearney, also known as Barney Kearney, was taken up Monday morning in county court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino. Kearney is charged with criminally receiving stolen property, criminally concealing and withholding stolen and wrongfully acquired property. The charge grows out of an entrance to Kingston Terminal Warehouse, Pine Grove Avenue, last February 25.

William Mullany appears for Kearney and Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt appears for the prosecution.

4 Deserters Ask Asylum

TOKYO (AP) — Four U.S. Navy men from the 7th Fleet aircraft carrier Intrepid have deserted and asked for political asylum outside the United States because they oppose the war in Vietnam, the Japan Peace for Vietnam Committee said today.

"It said a representative of 'The American Peace Movement' came to Japan a week ago to confer with the sailors. The Japanese committee added that David Dellinger, an anti-war leader who helped organize the march on the Pentagon in Washington last month, had been informed of the defection.

A spokesman for the committee, which opposes the war, said the four were John M. Barilla, 20, airman; Richard D. Bailey, 19, airman; Michael A. Lindner, 19, airman apprentice; and Craig W. Anderson, 20, airman apprentice.

No home addresses were given.

The peace committee spokesman said the four discarded their uniforms upon landing at Yokosuka and have not reported back to the Navy.

"They left their aircraft carrier with a firm determination to oppose the Vietnam war," the spokesman said.

The four were absent without leave after the Intrepid sailed from Yokosuka Oct. 25.

Purse-Snatching

Accused of snatching pocket-books from two women Friday, Wade Robinson, 26, of 142 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, was apprehended by police in that city and held on charges of petit larceny. Robinson, also known as Wade Brooks, was accused of taking a pocket-book from Mrs. Norman Westervelt, of 31 South Clinton Street, as she was standing on the sidewalk in Church Street. Within an hour, Miss Loretta Scott, of North Road, Highland, complained to police her purse was taken as she waited for her father at South Hamilton and Cannon Streets. Patrolmen Robert F. Oakley and Donald F. Leuzzi apprehended the suspect as he was walking near the scene of the second theft.

Action Settled

An automobile negligence action brought in Supreme Court by Patrick Sanglein against Holly Ruff was settled prior to being submitted to the jury. Gaffney and Hill by Joseph Hill as trial counsel, appeared for Sanglein and the defendant Ruff was represented by Flood and McCloskey. The action was tried before Supreme Court Justice R. Waldron Herzberg.

$2.8 Million Stolen From London Office

LONDON (AP) — Thieves working all weekend with blow torches cleaned out the London headquarters of the national cooperative store chain and may have gotten away with as much as a million pounds—$2.8 million, police said today.

The headquarters in the Stratford section of East London is the depository for huge sums spent by Britons in the various co-ops operated as a giant chain store system.

The master safe and some deposit boxes were burned open and rifled, police said.

The raiders must have spent much of Saturday and Sunday using "thermal lances" which burn through metal slowly but silently.

Officials of the cooperative were unable to assess the loss immediately but a quick estimate put it at a million pounds. Under the cooperative system, customers can buy an enormous variety of items, have their purchases listed in their stamps book and then receive discounts periodically. Many small communities as well as the big cities have co-op stores.

An all-day battle Saturday was fought at such close quarters that 92 enemy bodies were found only 25 yards outside the U.S. defense perimeter.

Units of the 13th Airborne Brigade reported killing 12 North Vietnamese troops Sunday in scattered contacts throughout the day in the same general area where the paratroopers fought the hard battle Saturday.

The paratroopers made sporadic contact several times Sunday with enemy troops entrenched in bunker complexes and called in artillery and strikes on the Communist positions. One paratrooper was killed and 36 wounded.

More enemy attacks were expected.

Air Force B52 bombers kept after the North Vietnamese Sunday, saturating suspected Red defensive positions, infiltration routes and storage areas 15 miles southwest of Dak To with about 150,000 pounds of bombs.

The eight-engine Stratofortresses raided suspected enemy positions near the demilitarized zone Sunday night and today, hitting areas two and nine miles north of the U.S. Marine outpost at Con Thien.

Catskill Burglary

Catskill village police today investigated a burglary at Stewart's Ice Cream store in that town. The man, Milton Tompkins of Mt. View Avenue, said the auto was taken from the drawer of the cash register which had been left open.

Car Stolen

A Hurley man reported his car stolen Sunday from Broadway near St. James Street, city, police said. The man, Milton Tompkins of Mt. View Avenue, said the auto was taken from where it was parked around 1:30 p.m.

Anti-Poverty Supporters Plan Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — House supporters of the administration's antipoverty program plan to fight for the full $2.06 billion requested instead of seeking a compromise to head off a deep cut proposed by Republicans.

A GOP amendment to slash the program by $660 million is slated for action today as the House resumes consideration of the controversial legislation.

A plan by some Democrats who back the bill to agree to a lesser cut in hopes of defeating the Republican move was abandoned after a series of weekend strategy huddles and after President Johnson's fighting denunciation of "standpatters and nay-sayers."

In a New York speech Thursday night, Johnson blasted the "old coalition" he said has always opposed reform and is now using the Vietnam war as an excuse to oppose his domestic program.

The decision to stand by the administration request was taken even though the Republican bid to cut the total spending to $1.4 billion is likely to succeed. The economy-minded House has already indicated in an earlier vote it thinks the Office of Economic Opportunity can get along with as little as $1.2 billion.

The reason House Democrats can view such a potential defeat calmly is that the Senate has already passed a bill authorizing $2.2 billion and an eventual compromise bill could go as high as $1.8 billion no matter what the House decides.

The money amendment is only the opening of the Republican fight to rewrite the antipoverty bill. The GOP has several dozen other proposals ready to go and final action on the bill is not expected until midweek.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., who proposed the cut to $1.4 billion, said if the House goes along with the rest of the GOP amendments it will have created a program that would generate $3 billion to fight poverty through additional state, local and private contributions.

The GOP bill would end some programs but others under different administration and enlarge the role of private industry in job training.

Democratic strategists feel confident they can defeat most, if not all, of the GOP amendments.

The House bill also would require Community Action agencies to be units of a state or local government. Of the 1,050 such agencies now in operation, 80 per cent are private, non-profit organizations.

Supporters of the amendment hope it will end the kind of complaints—aired at a Senate hearing into last summer's riots—that allege a link between civic agitation and antipoverty workers connected with private organizations.

Longer Paid Vacations Very Probable, AFL-CIO Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The old two-week vacation is practically a thing of the past, the AFL-CIO says. Most American workers can get at least four weeks and in some cases up to 13 weeks of paid time off a year.

Long vacations "have spread from the university campus to the steel mill," reported the AFL-CIO's magazine, The American Federationist.

5-13 Are Rare

Although vacations of five to 13 weeks are rare, 60 per cent of American workers under major labor contracts get at least four weeks after a certain number of years on the job.

The report by AFL-CIO economist Rudy Oswald is based on Labor Department figures.

Extra long vacations have been written into some contracts to increase job openings for younger workers, to help older workers adjust for eventual retirement, and in some cases to avoid payless layoffs during slack business periods. Paid holidays have also increased to seven in most cases and very frequently to nine or ten per year, Oswald said.

The United Steel Workers Union and the International Association of Machinists have negotiated agreements in the manufacturing industry providing 13 weeks of vacation every fifth year to workers with 15 years or more of seniority.

In the steel industry, all workers in the top half of the seniority list get 13 weeks of vacation every fifth year.

Sabbatical or extended vacation were introduced into the mainstream of collective bargaining by the Steelworkers in its negotiations of 1962 and 1963, Oswald said.

The union plan was based on the experience of university professors with sabbaticals, he said.

The United Packinghouse Workers has contract in the sugar industry providing increasingly longer vacations to workers approaching retirement age.

At age 57 and 58, workers get six weeks of vacation. At age 59 and 60 vacations go to seven weeks and to eight weeks the next two years. At ages 63 and 64, the worker is entitled to 12 weeks off.

The Brewery Workers Union has contracts in St. Louis providing seven weeks of vacation for workers with 20 years of service and eight weeks for 25 years of seniority.

"However, the so-called extra vacations must be used during the slack winter season," Oswald said.

Over-all, 60 per cent of major union contracts provide four-week vacations after varying lengths of service, 22 per cent provide three weeks, 13 per cent provide five or more weeks and 5 per cent provide for less than three weeks.

"Twenty years ago, the majority of contracts had a maximum vacation allowance of two weeks," Oswald reported.

Originally, American employers viewed the paid vacation and the paid holiday as a privilege appropriate only for the worker of white-collar status," he said.

White collar workers still have the edge on vacation time but blue-collar factory workers are rapidly catching up.

Also awaiting action is a three-year extension of the federal aid to education program.

Mansfield said Southern senators "have some question" about that one, too.

Mansfield said the Senate will go to work next week on a bill raising Social Security benefits by an average 15 per cent. He said the Senate also will deal with the education bill.

Mansfield outlined for the month ahead.

One of them, civil rights legislation, is likely to ignite a Southern filibuster. That bill, one section of the broader legislation the administration sought, would make it a federal crime to use force or intimidation to interfere with minorities exercising their civil rights.

Mansfield said he could not forecast the outlook for that bill.

LBJ's Cabinet Men Are Robust and Athletic Lot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big-league scouts wouldn't give them a second look—unless they recognized them as celebrities. They'll never qualify for the Olympics. But the 12 men who make up President Johnson's Cabinet are a robust lot with a considerable athletic bent.

Not all of them, of course. But every team needs a rooting section.

Stewart L. Udall, the sturdy secretary of the interior, donned running pants and sweatshirt this week to inaugurate Washington's first jogging trail along the Potomac.

That was chickenfeed for the 47-year-old Udall. He shoots rapids, climbs mountains, plays a powerful game of tennis.

But his first love is basketball. He has converted a department file room into a gym, where he often dribbles and shoots baskets in spare moments.

Mac on Slopes

A close runnerup to Udall for the Cabinet spryness award is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, 51. When the cold winds blow, his heart is on the ski slopes. He insists that skiing is not skiing unless it's on the challenging slopes of the Rocky Mountains, where he takes an annual vacation.

McNamara plays a mean game of squash in the Pentagon gym, often competing at slugging the hard rubber ball around four walls with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, 49.

One subordinate who tangled with his boss at squash wished he hadn't. Eugene Zuckert, former secretary of the air force, racked himself up in one game and wound up in bandages.

Other Cabinet members favor solitary, noncompetitive sports. John W. Gardner, 55, secretary of health, education and welfare, takes long vigorous walks through Rock Creek Park, which cuts through Washington, or on the Ellipse behind the White House.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, 39, swims summer mornings in the lake near his home. He also lifts weights, sweats out the Royal Canadian Air Force exercises and regularly squeezes a hand-strengthening device.

Alan S. Boyd, 45, the secretary of transportation, occasionally battles the golf course or rides a collapsible bike.

The youngest Cabinet member, Commerce Secretary Alexander Trowbridge, 37, skis in an entirely different league from McNamara's—on the hills around his home. One snowstorm last winter found him shuffling along on his boards in a gently rolling public park. He plays tennis with his father in better weather.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, 55, is less athletic than he looks. While he dabbles at golf and deep-sea fishing, he's happiest strolling along a beach collecting seashells.

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, an erstwhile golfer, has retired at age 50 to the spectator ranks, favoring pro football. No discernible athletic prowess has come to light in Henry H. Fowler, 55, of the Treasury or Robert C. Weaver, 59, of Housing and Urban Development.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Monday, Nov. 13, the 317th day of 1967. There are 48 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, the naval Battle of Guadalcanal began in the Pacific war. It was a defeat for Japan.

On this date:
In 1775, Montreal was surrendered to a colonial Army under Gen. Richard Montgomery.

In 1949, California adopted a state Constitution.

In 1918, the Republic of Austria was proclaimed.

In 1941, the British aircraft carrier "Ark Royal" was torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean during World War II.

In 1942, also during World War II, British troops occupied Tobruk in Libya.

In 1956, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that segregation of the races on public Buses was unconstitutional.

Ten years ago King Hussein of Jordan said his defense agreement with Egypt and Syria was not worth the paper it was written on.

Five years ago Pope John XXIII decreed the first change since the early seventh century in the canon of the Roman Catholic Mass.

One year ago Israeli forces swept two miles into Jordan and attacked three towns to retaliate for Arab terrorist activities.

Longer Paid Vacations Very Probable, AFL-CIO Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The old two-week vacation is practically a thing of the past, the AFL-CIO says. Most American workers can get at least four weeks and in some cases up to 13 weeks of paid time off a year.

Long vacations "have spread from the university campus to the steel mill," reported the AFL-CIO's magazine, The American Federationist.

5-13 Are Rare

Although vacations of five to 13 weeks are rare, 60 per cent of American workers under major labor contracts get at least four weeks after a certain number of years on the job.

The report by AFL-CIO economist Rudy Oswald is based on Labor Department figures.

Extra long vacations have been written into some contracts to increase job openings for younger workers, to help older workers adjust for eventual retirement, and in some cases to avoid payless layoffs during slack business periods.

Paid holidays have also increased to seven in most cases and very frequently to nine or ten per year, Oswald said.

The United Steel Workers Union and the International Association of Machinists have negotiated agreements in the manufacturing industry providing 13 weeks of vacation every fifth year to workers with 15 years or more of seniority.

In the steel industry, all workers in the top half of the seniority list get 13 weeks of vacation every fifth year.

Sabbatical or extended vacation were introduced into the mainstream of collective bargaining by the Steelworkers in its negotiations of 1962 and 1963, Oswald said.

The union plan was based on the experience of university professors with sabbaticals, he said.

The United Packinghouse Workers has contract in the sugar industry providing increasingly longer vacations to workers approaching retirement age.

At age 57 and 58, workers get six weeks of vacation. At age 59 and 60 vacations go to seven weeks and to eight weeks the next two years. At ages 63 and 64, the worker is entitled to 12 weeks off.

The Brewery Workers Union has contracts in St. Louis providing seven weeks of vacation for workers with 20 years of service and eight weeks for 25 years of seniority.

"However, the so-called extra vacations must be used during the slack winter season," Oswald said.

Over-all, 60 per cent of major union contracts provide four-week vacations after varying lengths of service, 22 per cent provide three weeks, 13 per cent provide five or more weeks and 5 per cent provide for less than three weeks.

"Twenty years ago, the majority of contracts had a maximum vacation allowance of two weeks," Oswald reported.

Originally, American employers viewed the paid vacation and the paid holiday as a privilege appropriate only for the worker of white-collar status," he said.

White-collar workers still have the edge on vacation time but blue-collar factory workers are rapidly catching up.

Also awaiting action is a three-year extension of the federal aid to education program. Mansfield said Southern senators "have some question" about that one, too.

Mansfield said the Senate will go to work next week on a bill raising Social Security benefits by an average 15 per cent. He said the Senate also will deal with the education bill.

Mansfield Expects LBJ To Renew Pitch for Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield expects no dramatic, election-year legislative proposals from President Johnson in 1968, but predicts the President will press his fight for a tax hike if he doesn't get it in the current session.

The Montana senator said Friday the second session of the 90th Congress may be much like the first—which still is weeks from adjournment.

"I think on the Senate side it has been a responsible, top, look and listen session," Mansfield told newsmen. He said the Senate has approved much of what President Johnson requested.

But he acknowledged that the House, which has pressed budget-cutting demands and balked at the size of the proposed anti-poverty program, may be more representative of the American mood now than the Senate.

You may not like what they're doing," Mansfield said, "but it's quite possible that they reflect very accurately what the people are thinking."

Mansfield said the current session of Congress probably will adjourn at mid-December—probably without acting on the $7 billion tax increase President Johnson seeks on the basis it would combat inflation.

"I feel he'll ask for a tax increase next year if he doesn't get it this year," Mansfield said. "If we don't face up to it this year, we'll have to do it next year when it will be far worse. It will be more unpopular."

LBJ's Cabinet Men Are Robust and Athletic Lot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big-league scouts wouldn't give them a second look—unless they recognized them as celebrities. They'll never qualify for the Olympics. But the 12 men who make up President Johnson's Cabinet are a robust lot with a considerable athletic bent.

Not all of them, of course. But every team needs a rooting section.

Stewart L. Udall, the sturdy secretary of the interior, donned running pants and sweatshirt this week to inaugurate Washington's first jogging trail along the Potomac.

That was chickenfeed for the 47-year-old Udall. He shoots rapids, climbs mountains, plays a powerful game of tennis.

But his first love is basketball. He has converted a department file room into a gym, where he often dribbles and shoots baskets in spare moments.

Mac on Slopes

A close runner-up to Udall for the Cabinet spryness award is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, 51. When the cold winds blow, his heart is on the ski slopes. He insists that skiing is not skiing unless it's on the challenging slopes of the Rocky Mountains, where he takes an annual vacation.

McNamara plays a mean game of squash in the Pentagon gym, often competing at slugging the hard rubber ball around four walls with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, 49.

One subordinate who tangled with his boss at squash wished he hadn't. Eugene Zuckert, former secretary of the air force, racked himself up in one game and wound up in bandages.

Other Cabinet members favor solitary, noncompetitive sports. John W. Gardner, 55, secretary of health, education and welfare, takes long vigorous walks through Rock Creek Park, which cuts through Washington, or on the Ellipse behind the White House.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, 39, swims summer mornings in the lake near his home. He also lifts weights, sweats out the Royal Canadian Air Force exercises and regularly squeezes a hand-strengthening device.

Alan S. Boyd, 45, the secretary of transportation, occasionally battles the golf course or rides a collapsible bike.

The youngest Cabinet member, Commerce Secretary Alexander Trowbridge, 37, skis in an entirely different league from McNamara's—on the hills around his home. One snowstorm last winter found him shuffling along on his boards in a gently rolling public park. He plays tennis with his father in better weather.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, 55, is less athletic than he looks. While he dabbles at golf and deep-sea fishing, he's happiest strolling along a beach collecting seashells.

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, an erstwhile golfer, has retired at age 50 to the spectator ranks, favoring pro football. No discernible athletic prowess has come to light in Henry H. Fowler, 59, of the Treasury or Robert C. Weaver, 59, of Housing and Urban Development.

which are scheduled for acquisition. An information letter will be given each occupant outlining the services available. This survey will update the information obtained in 1963.

Following completion of the residential survey, the relocation staff will undertake a similar resurvey of commercial enterprises. Owners of properties scheduled under the plan for rehabilitation, will be visited in the near future and the benefits of the rehabilitation services available will be explained by agency staff members.

The Uptown Plan is being reviewed by Raymond and May Associates, the agency's planning consultants, particularly with regard to the clearance of the old Montgomery Ward store on North Front Street and the construction of a 500-car parking garage on the site. The engineering in connection with the street improvements scheduled for the Broadway East and Uptown Urban Renewal area is being prepared by the agency's engineering consultants, Brimmer & Larios-Newman & Doll. Preliminary plans should be ready for review within the next 60 days.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels put on a show of strength as the stock market resumed its rally early Monday. Trading was active. Gains outnumbered losses by better than 2 to 1 and the Dow Jones industrial average was up about 4 points.

Reports that demand for steel appears ready to rise sharply brought buying into that group. The over-all market still seemed to be making a technical recovery from a deeply oversold condition, brokers said.

Jones & Laughlin climbed about 2 points while advances of around a point were made by such major producers as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel.

The leading auto stocks were unanimously ahead, but their gains were fractional. Brunswick, up a fraction, took an early lead on volume but was closely followed in turnover by Occidental Petroleum which picked up another point to add to its strong rise of recent weeks.

Some of the glamor issues were deflated a bit more. Colins Radio and E.G. & G. sank more than a point each on heavy volume.

Quotations by Wood, Walker & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 62 Wall Street, New York City; branch office, 52 Main Street, Lowell, S. Brooks, manager.

Rockefeller To Begin Area Meetings

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller will visit Plattsburgh and Poughkeepsie Friday to launch a new series of "town meetings."

Trips to other communities across the state are scheduled into December.

Rockefeller said he would "seek local views on the impact of state programs and discuss possible problems or changes" in preparing his 1968 legislative program.

He will be in Plattsburgh Friday morning in a hall on the campus of the State University College at Plattsburgh.

The Poughkeepsie session will begin in mid-afternoon at the Hudson River State Hospital.

Cancel Purchase

NEW YORK — Penn-Dixie Cement Corporation announced today that the agreement in principle to purchase approximately 900,000 shares of the common stock of Fulton Industries has been terminated by mutual consent.

Successful Investing....

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor & Analyst
Rising Stock Price Curve
Needed as Inflation Hedge

Q—My husband is nine years away from retirement. We own our home, clear, have 16,500 in savings and 13,500 in E bonds. We are deeply worried about inflation. How can we invest our surplus earnings and protect ourselves against that menace?

A—Inflation is becoming a matter of grave national concern, and the best we can hope for is that it will be kept within moderate bounds. Stocks with a rising pattern of earnings, dividends and prices offer long-term protection against inflation, since their potential rise in value over a period of years should at least keep pace with the dollar's depreciation. Crown Zellerbach, in my opinion, is a financially strong and well-managed company. However, like many other stocks in the paper production group, it has failed to make much progress over the past decade. It is an excellent holding for good, secure income, but its expansion has been accompanied by a lowering of the earnings multiple, which is the principal determinant of a stock's market value. For your purpose, I prefer Georgia-Pacific, which has had a generally rising earnings and price pattern since 1957.

Q—We are in our 30s with two children. We have about 1500 in savings, a rental house with a small mortgage and a home worth 110,200 on which we carry a debt of 18,800. Should we clear up our mortgages or invest in stocks, and should we sell our rental property?—R.S.

A—I advise you to reduce your home mortgage and build up your cash position before embarking on a stock-purchase program. All stocks are subject to fluctuation and should never be considered as an emergency reserve. If your rental property pays you a reasonable return and is well situated, I see no reason for you to sell it. Rising costs of new building should enhance its value in the years ahead.

Given 30-Day Term For Shoplifting

An unemployed Poughkeepsie laborer pleaded guilty to stealing a $10.94 winter jacket from a Kingston store and was sentenced to 30 days in the Ulster County jail.

According to Herbert O'Brien of R. B. Security, the organization guarding Big Scot department store, Charles Smith, 35, of 43 High Street, Poughkeepsie, was seen leaving the store with the jacket.

Smith reportedly had not paid for the garment.

He was picked up in the area parking lot by O'Brien and State Trooper John H. Kohland and taken before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly.

Pleading guilty, he was sentenced to 30 days by Justice Reilly.

Quell Chimney Fire

Bloomington firemen in command of Chief Herbert Faurote today extinguished a stubborn chimney fire at the home of Joseph Bades on Church Hill, Eddyville. The alarm sounded at 8:40 a. m. and fire units were back in service at 10:24 a. m. The blaze was confined to the chimney.

Christmas Club a Boon To Banks and Customers

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Bright red and green checks are going through the mails these first two weeks of November to 15.4 million Christmas Club members who saved $1,987,984,000 in the preceding 50 weeks.

These figures, of a size usually associated with the Federal debt, come from the files of that oddly named, 57-year-old organization called Christmas Club a Corporation.

The history of its unusual name may be somewhat dim, but as a spokesman says, "If it's worth asking questions about it's worth saving in its present form."

Founded in 1910, CCaC is now a profitable Madison Avenue operation dedicated to the proposition that people can accumulate money for Christmas shopping by making a contract with themselves to save a bit each week.

CCaC's primary service is to provide banks and other savings institutions with promotional literature, envelopes, blank checks and other printed products. It handles no deposits; it is a printer and the promoter of an idea.

To acquire the business of thousands of banks, the club has a fulltime, year-round sales force spilling forth the benefits of Christmas Clubs to banks. And what do they sell? Exposure.

CCaC tells banks, and can back up its arguments with a storm of statistics, that every CCaC membership brings a customer through its doors an average of 35 times a year. On each trip the member becomes a potential customer for a savings or checking account, a loan or some other service.

No wonder banks are willing to take a loss on such accounts. A loss? Why everyone knows that few Christmas Clubs pay any interest. True, but banks incur so many expenses in handling small transactions that penses exceed income.

Mine Rescue

ISSAQUAH, Wash. (AP) — Gas almost killed a 14-year-old Issaquah boy and five others who tried to rescue him from an old coal mine shaft Sunday.

A neighbor noticed the youth, Mike O'Neal, lying unconscious inside a shaft that had been uncovered at a housing development.

Virgil Nickel and his 14-year-old son, Virgil Jr., who live across the street, climbed in to help young O'Neal.

Police Patrolman Frank Perker, police Sgt. O. Raymond Febus and an unidentified fireman were next. All were overcome by a deadly gas often found in coal mines.

Other firemen finally rescued all six.

"I guess I'm pretty lucky," said the O'Neal boy.

What is it, then, that Christmas Club a Corporation offers? "A little bit of ability," the spokesman says. "We supply the best materials, checks, advertising. We prepare and sell these at a price the bank couldn't match."

This can be disputed by CCaC's few competitors, and by some banks which print their own club materials, but the fact is that CCaC continues to grow and, according to its stockholders, prosper as well.

What is it that accounts for the success of this idea, which brings no dividends to its members and which costs its sponsors money? "Psychology," replied the CCaC spokesman.

Contract With Yourself

"It is a contract with yourself," he continues. "It is the same thing as paying back an installment loan. People feel duty bound. That is why the coupon books are a better device than passbooks."

Nevertheless, a good many Christmas Club members fail to live up to their self-imposed obligations. Dropouts are common, although the CCaC spokesman insists that most people do, indeed, fulfill their commitments.

The largest club now is $20 a week, which means a payment of $1,000 after 50 weeks. The smallest, 25 cents a week, often is used by young but potentially big customers.

This year the average club totaled $129, a $3 gain over 1966 but more than seven times the $18 average of 50 years ago.

Of this average, only $48 will be spent for Christmas gifts. About $40 will go into permanent savings accounts and the rest will be used for such things as winter vacations and, increasingly, the payment of taxes. None of this unusual behavior is mystifying when you consider that, according to CCaC, seven out of every 10 Christmas Club checks are mailed to women.

Schedule Resurvey Of Uptown UR Area

Ward Tongue, acting urban renewal director, today announced that the relocation staff, under the direction of Ralph Marallo, relocation director, will this week begin a resurvey of residential properties in the Uptown Project area which are scheduled for acquisition. An information letter will be given each occupant outlining the services available. This survey will update the information obtained in 1963.

Following completion of the residential survey, the relocation staff will undertake a similar resurvey of commercial enterprises. Owners of properties scheduled under the plan for rehabilitation will be visited in the near future and the benefits of the rehabilitation services available will be explained by agency staff members.

The Uptown Plan is being reviewed by Raymond and May Associates, the agency's planning consultants, particularly with regard to the clearance of the old Montgomery Ward store on North Front Street and the construction of a 300-car parking garage on the site. The engineering in connection with the street improvements scheduled for the Broadway East and Uptown Urban Renewal area is being prepared by the agency's engineering consultants, Brimmer & Larios-Newman & Doll. Preliminary plans should be ready for review within the next 60 days.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels put on a show of strength as the stock market resumed its rally early Monday. Trading was active. Gains outnumbered losses by better than 2 to 1 and the Dow Jones industrial average was up about 4 points.

Reports that demand for steel appears ready to rise sharply brought buying into that group. The over-all market still seemed to be making a technical recovery from a deeply oversold condition, brokers said.

Jones & Laughlin climbed about 2 points while advances of around a point were made by such major producers as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel.

The leading auto stocks were unanimously ahead, but their gains were fractional.

Brunswick, up a fraction, took an early lead on volume but was closely followed in turnover by Occidental Petroleum which picked up another point to add to its strong rise of recent weeks.

Some of the glamor issues were deflated a bit more. Collins Radio and E.G. & G. sank more than a point each on heavy volume.

Rockefeller To Begin Area Meetings

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller will visit Plattsburgh and Poughkeepsie Friday to launch a new series of "town meetings."

Trips to other communities across the state are scheduled into December.

Rockefeller said he would "seek local views on the impact of state programs and discuss possible problems or changes" in preparing his 1968 legislative program.

He will be in Plattsburgh Friday morning in a hall on the campus of the State University College at Plattsburgh.

The Poughkeepsie session will begin in mid-afternoon at the Hudson River State Hospital.

Cancel Purchase

NEW YORK (AP) — Penn-Dixie Cement Corporation announced today that the agreement in principle to purchase approximately 900,000 shares of the common stock of Fulton Industries has been terminated by mutual consent.

Given 30-Day Term For Shoplifting

An unemployed Poughkeepsie laborer pleaded guilty to stealing a $10.94 winter jacket from a Kingston store and was sentenced to 30 days in the Ulster County jail.

According to Herbert O'Brien of R. B. Security, the organization guarding Big Scot department store, Charles Smith, 35, of 43 High Street, Poughkeepsie, was seen leaving the store with the jacket.

Smith reportedly had not paid for the garment.

He was picked up in the area parking lot by O'Brien and State Trooper John H. Kohlman and taken before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly.

Pleading guilty, he was sentenced to 30 days by Justice Reilly.

Quell Chimney Fire

Bloomington firemen in command of Chief Herbert Faure today extinguished a stubborn chimney fire at the home of Joseph Bandes on Church Hill, Eddyville. The alarm sounded at 8:40 a. m. and fire units were back in service at 10:24 a. m. The blaze was confined to the chimney.

Successful Investing....

Investment Advisor & Analyst

Needed as Inflation Hedge

Q—My husband is nine years away from retirement. We own our home, clear, have 16,500 in savings and 13,500 in E. bonds. We are deeply worried about inflation. How can we invest our surplus earnings and protect ourselves against that menace?

A—Would Crown Zellerbach be a good investment for our particular purpose?—W.J.

A—Inflation is becoming a matter of grave national concern, and the best we can hope for is that it will be kept within moderate bounds. Stocks with a rising pattern of earnings, dividends and prices offer long-term protection against inflation, since their potential rise in value over a period of years should at least keep pace with the dollar's depreciation. Crown Zellerbach, in my opinion, is a financially strong and well-managed company. However, like many other stocks in the paper production group, it has failed to make much progress over the past decade. It is an excellent holding for good, secure income, but its expansion has been accompanied by a lowering of the earnings multiple, which is the principal determinant of a stock's market value. For your purpose, I prefer Georgia-Pacific, which has had a generally rising earnings and price pattern since 1957.

Q—We are in our 30s with two children. We have about 1500 in savings, a rental house with a small mortgage and a home worth 110,200 on which we carry a debt of 18,800. Should we clear up our mortgages or invest in stocks, and should we sell our rental property?—R.S.

A—I advise you to reduce your home mortgage and build up your cash position before embarking on a stock-purchase program. All stocks are subject to fluctuation and should never be considered as an emergency reserve. If your rental property pays you a reasonable return and is well situated, I see no reason for you to sell it. Rising costs of new building should enhance its value in the years ahead.

Christmas Club a Boon To Banks and Customers

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Bright red and green checks are going through the mails these first two weeks of November to 15.4 million Christmas Club members who saved $1,987,984,000 in the preceding 50 weeks.

These figures, of a size usually associated with the Federal debt, come from the files of that oddly named, 57-year-old organization called Christmas Club a Corporation.

Profitable Operation

The history of its unusual name may be somewhat dim, but as a spokesman says, "If it's worth asking questions about it's worth saving in its present form."

Founded in 1910, CCaC is now a profitable Madison Avenue operation dedicated to the proposition that people can accumulate money for Christmas shopping by making a contract with themselves to save a bit each week.

CCaC's primary service is to provide banks and other savings institutions with promotional literature, envelopes, blank checks and other printed products. It handles no deposits; it is a printer and the promoter of an idea.

To acquire the business of thousands of banks, the club has a fulltime, year-round sales force spilling forth the benefits of Christmas Clubs to banks. And what do they sell? Exposure.

CCaC tells banks, and can back up its arguments with a storm of statistics, that every CCaC membership brings a customer through its doors an average of 35 times a year. On each trip the member becomes a potential customer for a savings or checking account, a loan or some other service.

No wonder banks are willing to take a loss on such accounts. A loss? Why everyone knows that few Christmas Clubs pay any interest. True, but banks incur so many expenses in handling small transactions that losses exceed income.

Mine Rescue

ISSAQUAH, Wash. (AP) — Gas almost killed a 14-year-old Issaquah boy and five others who tried to rescue him from an old coal mine shaft Sunday.

A neighbor noticed the youth, Mike O'Neal, lying unconscious inside a shaft that had been uncovered at a housing development.

Virgil Nickel and his 14-year-old son, Virgil Jr., who live across the street, climbed in to help young O'Neal.

Police Patrolman Frank Perker, police Sgt. O. Raymond Febus and an unidentified fireman were next. All were overcome by a deadly gas often found in coal mines.

Other firemen finally rescued all six.

"I guess I'm pretty lucky," said the O'Neal boy.

What is it, then, that Christmas Club a Corporation offers? "A little bit of ability," the spokesman says. "We supply the best materials, checks, advertising. We prepare and sell these at a price the bank couldn't match."

This can be disputed by CCaC's few competitors, and by some banks which print their own club materials, but the fact is that CCaC continues to grow and, according to its stockholders, prosper as well.

What is it that accounts for the success of this idea, which brings no dividends to its members and which costs its sponsors money? "Psychology," replied the CCaC spokesman.

Contract With Yourself

"It is a contract with yourself," he continues. "It is the same thing as paying back an installment loan. People feel duty bound. That is why the coupon books are a better device than passbooks."

Nevertheless, a good many Christmas Club members fail to live up to their self-imposed obligations. Dropouts are common, although the CCaC spokesman insists that most people do, indeed, fulfill their commitments.

The largest club now is $20 a week, which means a payment of $1,000 after 50 weeks. The smallest, 25 cents a week, often is used by young but potentially big customers.

This year the average club totaled $129, a $3 gain over 1966 but more than seven times the $18 average of 50 years ago.

Of this average, only $48 will be spent for Christmas gifts. About $40 will go into permanent savings accounts and the rest will be used for such things as winter vacations and, increasingly, the payment of taxes. None of this unusual behavior is mystifying when you consider that, according to CCaC, seven out of every 10 Christmas Club checks are mailed to women.

Salvage Project

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Republicans have set to work to salvage what they call "meritorious" features of the rejected new constitution by appointing an 18-member committee of state lawmakers.

Earl W. Brydges, Republican majority leader of the Senate, and Perry B. Duryea Jr., who leads the GOP minority in the Democratic-ruled Assembly, set up the unit Sunday and designated themselves as members. The committee, they said, would study the document and recommend incorporating some of its features into the current Constitution. The proposed constitution was spurned by New York voters in last Tuesday's election.

Also designated as members were: Senators John H. Hughes, Syracuse; John J. Marchi, Staten Island; D. Clinton Dominick III, Newburgh; Warren M. An-constitution through the legislative process of amending the state charter.

The procedure requires approval of each proposed amendment by two separately elected sessions of the Legislature, then submission to the voters for the final say. It takes at least two years.

The announcement by Brydges and Duryea indirectly criticized the approach of Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia, a Democrat, toward legislative action on the constitution.

Travia, who presided over the Democratic-controlled convention, said Wednesday that he would try to push all of the convention's proposals through the Assembly, which he runs. He predicted the Brydges-led Senate would kill most of them. "Obviously," they said, "it would be a gratuitous insult to the people have made it very their intelligence to attempt to present it again in its entirety, even split up into segments."

ATTENTION ALL CITIZENS OF 4th WARD

I wish to thank each and everyone of you for giving me the privilege of representing you at the Common Council for the coming year.

Your hospitality offered to Joe Turck and myself during our house to house canvass of the entire ward definitely does not go unrecognized.

I wish to publicly thank Mr. Turck for giving me his undivided attention during the campaign to the point where his own election is still in doubt. I have his assurance that when needed he will be ready to assist me in my first year as alderman.

I will do my best to press for better City Government and to resolve ward problems.

Most appreciatively yours

Frank "Bud" Jablonski

My sincere thanks to the voters of the First Ward who supported me in the recent election.

It has been a pleasure serving you for the past two years.

Napanoch Job Included in Bids to State

General C. V. R. Schuyler, commissioner of General Services announced today that his office will open bid proposals on 16 projects for construction repairs and alterations to various State-owned facilities.

The bids will be opened at 10:30 a.m. Nov. 15 at the Department of Transportation Administration and Engineering Building, Albany.

Included in the projects are separate proposals covering construction heating, sanitary and electric work for addition to Administration Building No. 22, Catskill Reformatory in Napanoch.

To Air Ulster Sewer District Plans Tonight

Supervisor Thaddeus Musial-Kiewicz, Town of Ulster, today reminded residents that a public hearing will be held at 7:30 p. m. today at Lake Katrine Grange Hall, to discuss details of the proposed sewer district.

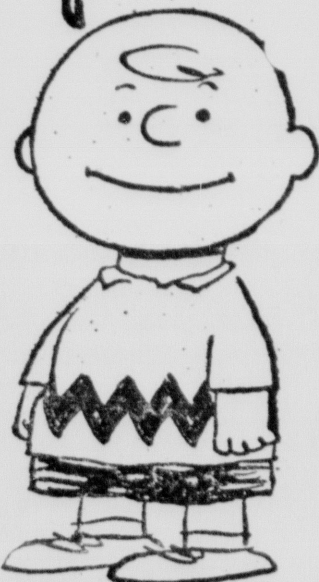

He said the district will include that area from the Kingston city line to Leggs Mills Road, and residents living within that part of the township will be involved in the cost of the project.

Taxpayers will have an opportunity to discuss the pros and cons of the proposal during tonight's hearing.

Vet of Year

ALBANY, Ore. (AP) — Huro Kato, a Japanese American who won two Purple Hearts with the 442nd Regiment in Europe in World War II, was named Linn County Veteran of the Year Saturday night. While Kato was fighting, his family was interned in a Utah relocation camp for Americans of Japanese ancestry.

Also, Assemblymen Edward J. Crawford, Oswego; Charles D. Henderson, Hornell; John H. Terry, Syracuse; John E. Kingston, Westbury; Alfred D. Lerne, Queens; John M. Burns, Manhattan; George Van Cott, Mount Vernon, and Constance E. Cook, Ithaca.

Senators Hughes, Marchi and Dominick and Assemblymen Crawford and Henderson served as Republican delegates to the Constitutional Convention, along with Brydges and Duryea.

Families, School Must Leave Perilous Hillside

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With the land literally slipping from under them, 17 families and a 300-pupil Roman Catholic grade school are under state orders today to abandon a perilously sliding hillside within 30 days.

Man-Caused
Landslides aren't a novelty to

San Francisco, but the residents of this century-old Portero Hill neighborhood say that the two bloc's of instability was man-caused rather than an act of nature.

It's a $10 million goof, in fact, the residents asserted Friday as they got the order from the State of California and computed what it meant in terms of state money and their own.

Residents say the trouble started with the construction of a freeway below their vintage hillside. To shield the freeway from the hill and to stabilize the ground beneath the homes and the school, the state built a 1,200-foot-long, 65-foot-high concrete bulkhead.

Trouble is, say engineers, the hill is not only slipping from under the houses — causing cracks in walls and ruining the plumbing—but moving the huge bulkhead right along too.

Could Be Critical

Engineers say the situation may be critical when the heavy raints come. Residents say the state should do more than just issue a 30-day eviction notice, threatening condemnation proceedings if they don't get out.

Residents say they cannot possibly replace their homes with what the state will pay for them — let alone the magnificent views the site commands.

Modest Proposal

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., said he was a bit mystified when a constituent asked for help in having his wife discharged from the Army. Recalling that he had received numerous requests from wives to have husbands released from service, he decided to investigate. He found that the wife in question is a lieutenant in the Army Nurses Corps—and is expecting her first child.

Families, School Must Leave Perilous Hillside

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With the land literally slipping from under them, 17 families and a 300-pupil Roman Catholic grade school are under state orders today to abandon a perilously sliding hillside within 30 days.

Man-Caused
Landslides aren't a novelty to

San Francisco, but the residents of this century-old Portero Hill neighborhood say that the two bloc's of instability was man-caused rather than an act of nature.

It's a $10 million goof, in fact, the residents asserted Friday as they got the order from the State of California and computed what it meant in terms of state money and their own.

Residents say the trouble started with the construction of a freeway below their vintage hillside. To shield the freeway from the hill and to stabilize the ground beneath the homes and the school, the state built a 1,200-foot-long, 65-foot-high concrete bulkhead.

Trouble is, say engineers, the hill is not only slipping from under the houses — causing cracks in walls and ruining the plumbing—but moving the huge bulkhead right along too.

Could Be Critical
Engineers say the situation may be critical when the heavy rains come. Residents say the state should do more than just issue a 30-day eviction notice, threatening condemnation proceedings if they don't get out.

Residents say they cannot possibly replace their homes with what the state will pay for them —let alone the magnificent views the site commands.

Modest Proposal
PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., said he was a bit mystified when a constituent asked for help in having his wife discharged from the Army.

Recalling that he had received numerous requests from wives to have husbands released from service, he decided to investigate.

He found that the wife in question is a lieutenant in the Army Nurses Corps—and is expecting her first child.

Some Watchdog

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A Denver woman told police she was robbed at knifepoint while taking her dog for a walk Saturday night.

Mrs. Sally Gilbert said she gave the man $17.50 from her purse, and he struck her on the side of the head before fleeing. The dog—a wirehaired fox terrier—didn't provide much protection.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

Mandarin language from Huhehot, capital of Inner Mongolia, has named Liu Shao-chi, the chairman of government and "president" of China, as the chief opponent of Mao's thinking.

This was a rupture of the Rules of the Communist party Central Committee. In August 1966 it ruled that no official newspaper or radio could criticize high-ranking leaders by name except by express permission of the committee.

The ice has been broken in remote Inner Mongolia, where Maoists claim to have established full control and ousted their enemies, including the fieriest nationalist Communist.

Ulanfu, who was a Peking Politburo member, commander of the Inner Mongolia military district and supporter of President

Li. If this breach of the rules is followed up by others, it will indicate that Liu has come to the end of his rope. He is believed to be under a form of house arrest in Peking.

Extravagant Praise
While attacks on Liu have been increasing in violence along, Peking propaganda has been extravagant in praise of Lin Piao, the saturnine army marshal who was Mao's choice in 1959 to control China's military after the purge of Peng Teh-huai. At 59 Lin Piao is the youngest of the top Chinese leaders.

The defense minister invariably is called Mao's "closest comrade in arms." The party and people have been told that Mao personally chose Lin as his heir apparent. The construction of the Lin cult even brings into question Mao's own personal authority, and, in fact, whether the aging and ailing Mao any longer is competent to rule at all.

In a tirade against Mao's opponents, the Inner Mongolian official radio told its listeners that "we must penetratingly criticize and completely discredit China's Khrushchev, Liu Shao-chi, and his agent Ulanfu and his ilk in Inner Mongolia, so as to eliminate once and for all their remnant poison and strive for even greater victory."

Up to now, the only top leaders criticized directly by name had been those who clearly had been toppled from high positions and publicly discredited.

The emergence in total control of the Lin Piao faction would foretell a continuing policy of hostility to those Lin calls "revisionists," which includes the Soviet leaders and all who support them inside or outside Red China. It would mean control of China by a faction which propagates the theory of "people's wars" and of constant insurrection to spread the Pe-king brand of communism.

During the recent celebrations of the 50th Bolshevik anniversary, the Russians, including party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, appealed once again to foreign parties to support the Moscow bid for a world meeting of Communist leaders. The original idea of this was to bring about a condemnation of Peking's policies. The Soviet bid failed, as it has consistently ever since Nikita Khrushchev tried a similar tack, just before he was deposed in 1964. There is considerable opposition to such a meeting among European parties, who the rug.

seem fearful that it will harm the international revolutionary cause.

Should Liu's defeat in China seem complete, however, the Russians may yet be able to make a start on the world meeting, probably by first summoning a preliminary preparatory group to lay the groundwork. The ascent of Lin Piao to undisputed power, probably supported by Premier Chou En-lai as Liu's successor in the presidency, might be read by many Communists as the sort of threat to the movement which could no longer be swept under the rug.

NO SCAFFLAW THOUGH—Police Commissioner John Napoleon has installed a city parking meter next to his desk so WGHQ staff members can put in their nickels, thus avoiding a parking ticket. Staffers also leave a sign reminder on their parked autos noting that "money has been deposited upstairs." The commissioner stresses that he did not get any of the 15 meter violation he shows to the cameraman.

Equalization Rates Finalized for Area

Final equalization rates for area communities today were reported by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment.

The rates are the ratio between assessed value and actual value as determined by the state. For example, if a locality's state equalization rate is 50, then its assessed valuation represents one-half of its full valuation of real property. When the market value rises but the assessments do not, the rates drop. Lower rates usually means an increased share of school taxes and a lesser portion of state aid where centralized districts are involved.

The new rates are based on 1967 rolls. Ulster County villages assessed are: Ellenville—55 prior roll, 55 new roll; New Paltz—23 prior roll, 23 new roll and Saugerties—60 prior roll, 60 new roll.

Dutchess County villages assessed are: Millbrook—24 prior roll, 24 new roll; Miller-ton—30 prior roll, 76 new roll; Pawling—66 prior roll, 66 new roll; Red Hook—20 prior roll, 20 new roll; Rhinebeck—105 prior roll, 104 new roll; and Tivoli—26 prior roll, 26 new roll.

Immunization Clinic

A clinic for immunizations against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox will be conducted by the Ulster County Health Department at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Friday, Nov. 17, from 10:30 to 11:15. Immunizations for whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus should be started at three months of age; small pox vaccination should be given some time during the first year of life; and polio immunization should be started from three to six months of age. Measles vaccine will also be given. These clinics serve those who are referred by their physician or those who are otherwise unable to secure these immunizations.

What World Will Be Like by 2017

A systematic attempt to collect the thoughts of the world's leading authorities on this subject has been made by a special staff headed by William R. Ewald, Jr., consultant and program chairman for the American Institute of Planners' two-year national consultation project.

Pattern's founders and is now serving as Chairman of the Board of Directors.

The small library's major component is a bibliography containing 292 titles of serious works on the future listed under the 16 topic headings with reference to 230 subjects.

Other Sections

Other sections include: — Two thousand newspaper and periodical clippings reproduced and classified under the topic headings and covering the last three years.

— Fourteen original and substantive background papers prepared especially by the committee of correspondence of the American Institute of Planners' 50 Year Consultation, plus all conference papers and publications.

— Twenty authoritative trend-predicting books and monographs looking to the near future as well as the distant future—all considered important reading.

According to C. David Locks, Pattern's president, "the effort involved in developing this resource was indeed significant. It is also clear that any institution seriously committed to dealing with the future should have access to this information."

In addition to Pattern's own research program, Locks said, the material should be of particular use to the area's institutions of higher education in augmenting their academic offerings in urban studies, planning and environmental development.

"I would also feel," he added, "that this resource would be of direct interest to senior management in some of our businesses and industries, particularly those concerned with long-range planning and decision making—or with programs devoted to civic leadership training and education similar to those developed by the Brookings Institute."

Council to Hear Proposal Making Academy Green Gateway to Uptown

By JEAN F. DOLAN
A new setting for historic Common Council. The site under consideration is Kingston is the aim of a group Academy Green and the bronze who will be presenting their plan to be set is the complex of statues commemorating three sig- nificant personalities who fig- ured largely in the development of the mid-Hudson Valley and the first state capital in particu- lar.

That they should have been placed in Academy Green was apropos, Peter Styvesant is be- lieved to have made his treaty with the Esopus Indians at the site. The famous wampum belt of that transaction is on display at the Senate House Museum and is considered a treasure of its kind.

Rescued From Heap

The statues of Henry Hudson, discoverer, Peter Styvesant, peacemaker and George Clinton, governor were presented to the city by the late Mrs. Emily Chadbourne who rescued them from a rubbish heap fate to be inscribed where they belonged. Mrs. Chadbourne, long a patron of area historical ventures, spotted the statues which formerly adorned the Exchange Court Building in New York City, purchased them and had them shipped to Kingston.

The green has been a cross-roads of sorts in the community since the days of the Old Stockade. Until 1800 it was held as a common where early settlers grazed their livestock and collected wood. When the land was put up for sale residents adja- cent to the common purchased plots for $25 to $17 depending on size. Even in private ownership it was maintained as an open area with a portion designated for a school.

Kingston Academy was built there in 1805 and was main- tained as a private school until becoming a part of the city school system in 1864. Although the building was demolished in 1915 and its students absorbed into the new Kingston High School Kingston Academy lives on in the form of a board of directors.

These trustees oversee the use of the green which is to remain a city park.

Garden Gateway?

In connection with the city beautification program which is gaining impetus the recreation and parks group has high hopes of transforming the existing Academy Green into a garden gateway to historical and commercial aspects of Kingston today.

The statues would be the focal point of the verdant triangle with a lighted fountain high- lighting the scene for visitors night and day.

Plans also call for replacing of present paths with brick or bluestone in keeping with the Plantings would include replace- ments as well as new trees.

New trees are slated for plant- ing across the street by the city beautification committee which has enhanced a number of up- town streets within the past few months with leafy decorations. It is the hope of the park planners to provide a spot of beauty in keeping with King- ston's historic past and hopes for the future.

Residential Activity

State Housing on Upswing

The volume of residential construction activity in New York State during the third quarter ending September 30 has exceeded the level for the same quarter in 1966. State Housing Commissioner James William Gaynor revealed today in releasing the State's monthly report on construction activity. Building permits authorizing the construction of 20,493 new housing units were issued during the quarter, up 15 per cent over the same period in 1966. September accounted for the largest increase of the quarter, 38 per cent, with the construction of 6,675 new housing units authorized as compared to 4,864 units authorized during September of 1966. The value of residential construction authorized during September was $94,251,000, an increase of 33 per cent over the same month last year. "The figures indicate that the decline in construction activity in New York State during the first six months of the year has leveled off and has begun to reverse itself," Commissioner Gaynor said. "While the tight money market contributed to the decline in construction activity during 1966 and the early part of 1967, people are now beginning to realize that tight money situation is no longer a temporary condition. As the need for new housing increases, higher costs are no longer serving as a brake on the pace of construction."

NAACP to Probe

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A new militant Negro organization at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill—the Black Student Movement—will be investigated by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Dissident members said the militants had taken over the university NAACP chapter last Thursday and changed the name. The chapter president, Kelly Alexander, Jr., was re-investigated. moved as the group pledged "more militant action to get in the mood of 1967."

Alexander's father, Kelly Alexander Sr. of Charlotte, is president of the North Carolina chapter of the NAACP.

The senior Alexander said Sunday any group has a democratic right to organize, "but as to representing the NAACP they must conform to its policies, philosophy and procedure." He said the student group would be investigated.

State BPW Membership Meeting Here This Weekend

Arrangements are being completed here for a statewide membership meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc., according to Ulster County BPW President Dorothy A. Narel.

The meeting, which has a special theme, will convene at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 17, 18 and 19, with State BPW President Lorraine Rouget presiding. The weekend will feature a reception at the hotel on Friday night, luncheon and dinner Saturday, workshop sessions, continental breakfasts and a summation meeting on Sunday.

Guest speaker for the banquet Saturday night at The Hedges in West Park will be George W. Tamke, general manager of the IBM Systems Manufacturing Plant in Kingston. As general manager, Mr. Tamke serves as senior IBM executive in the Kingston area.

Another guest speaker will be Osta Underwood, membership chairman for the BPW on a national level.

Local Chairmen
Mrs. Narel has announced the following members of the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club are serving as chairmen for the state membership jamboree.

Miss Beverly Reese is serving as co-chairman with the club president. In charge of reservations is Mrs. Mary Fisher of 52 Harding Avenue with Nancy Hussey as co-chairman.

Also serving as committee chairmen are: Virginia Neher, banquet; Hilda Krum, luncheon; McLean Reynolds, breakfast; Ethel Howard, treasurer; Shirley Gippert, hospitality; Vera Bishop, reception; Collette Sonnenberg, awards; Charlotte McGraw, cocktail party; Margaret McCardle, historian.

Other Guests

Among those attending the three-day conference in Kingston, the first of its kind to be held here, will be state officers Mildred B. Freeman, first vice president; Carolyn E. DeLaMater, second vice president; Alma M. Danaher, third vice president; Evelyn J. Robbins, treasurer; Katherine Abel, district director.

Appearing on a program of entertainment Saturday night will be Pete Mathews and Tony Pizzarelli, banjo players, and for the banquet at The Hedges Harry Maisenbelder, pianist.

BPW Meeting Tuesday

A regular dinner-meeting of the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club will be held Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 6:30 p. m. in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Guests will be Guin Hall, deputy commissioner of the Woman's Program New York State Department of Commerce, and Carolyn DeLaMater, second vice president of the New York State BPW Federation.

Miss Hall will discuss the upcoming Small Business Clinic which will be sponsored by the local club, and a Teenage Consumer Assembly in local schools. Mrs. DeLaMater will discuss details of the upcoming membership jamboree. All members are urged to attend.

Philharmonic Tonight

Bearing such accolades from the critics as that of "a musician of utmost competence and artistic taste" and "a golden-toned violinist," Walter Trampler will return to the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra tonight in the Kingston Community Theatre. The concert will begin at 8:30 and will be conducted by Maestro Claude Montoux.

Mr. Trampler was born in Germany, where at 18 he had already established a brilliant career. Fortunately, he was able to escape to America a few days before the war broke out. In 1947, he became founder-member of the New Music Quartet which in nine years made quartet history. In recent years he has appeared as featured artist at the Casals and Aspen Festivals, and as soloist with symphony orchestras, as well as in recitals throughout the world. He appears in chamber music concerts with distinguished international artists, as well as with the Budapest and Juilliard Quartets — and everywhere he touches his audiences with his consummate artistry. Among Mr. Trampler's most prestigious engagements were a concert at the White House as well as a private recital for the late Queen Mother Elizabeth of Belgium. Apart from his usual touring he spends a good part of his year teaching at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

Recently Mr. Trampler acquired a magnificent viola made by the brothers Hieronymus and Antonius Amati, ca. 1620. Its sound is the perfect combination of mellowness, richness and brilliance, a rare quality to be found in violas. In addition to performing a larger repertoire of viola music than has been generally played in the last few decades, Mr. Trampler frequently varies his programs by including selections on a Carcassi viola d'amore (1743), a comparatively little-known instrument which is being reappraised, thanks to this extraordinary interpreter.

The program will open with Maestro Montoux conducting the orchestra in Mozart's Overture, "Don Giovanni," followed by the Toccata, "Don Juan," Op. 20, by Richard Strauss. Mr. Trampler will be featured in Ernest Bloch's Suite for Viola and Orchestra. The work which appears to have been performed only once before in the United States (New York Philharmonic) is described by Maestro Montoux as "a major work which may well surpass Bloch's 'Scherzo' in importance."

Tickets will be available at the door in Kingston.

Club Notices

Vanderlyn Council

A meeting of Vanderlyn Council No. 41 will be held Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 8 p. m. in the American Legion Hall, 18 West O'Reilly Street, Kingston.

Olive Rebekah Lodge

Olive Rebekah Lodge 470 of Olivebridge held its regular meeting on November 8. Another meeting is slated for Wednesday, Nov. 22 at 8 p. m. at which time "Secret Pals" will be revealed. A Christmas party is scheduled for December 13. Preceding the meeting and party, a covered dish supper will be held at 6 p. m. All members and their families are invited to attend.

The Mature Parent

by MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Up in the backwoods of Yankee mountain country, people seem to get married awfully early. Mind you I haven't checked the statistics on the ages of Vermont adolescents who apply for marriage licenses but I've got an impression of their rush into matrimony. And its consequences.

Two of those consequences are a couple of babies whose 18-year-old mother recently gave me a glass of water to quench a thirst I'd acquired on a long walk up a mountain path.

She was waiting for her mother to come in from the bean patch so that she could leave for her pantry-girl job in a tourist motel 10 miles away. One of her front teeth was missing.

Trying to detach her infant's clutch from a lock of hair, she said, "I guess I'll have to get a divorce sometime. I keep trying to make things up with him but he don't come around enough to give me a chance. He was 19 when we got married and still likes to horse around. I'd like to, too, but I can't not with the kids and tired as I get on my job. We just don't see things the same way. Not since the kids and..."

Then, interrupting herself still wrestling with her squirming infant, she said hastily, "There's ma on the back porch. Don't let on, please, that I said anything about how him and me are separated."

I didn't get a chance to let on anything. For ma, a tall, gaunt, mountain woman, a bushel basket of beans in her arms, saw me, turned to her daughter and said, "What's that fancy woman doing in my house?"

And the child who had been made a mother at 15, said, "Just a lady who asked for a glass of water."

In cities, of course, it's slightly different for the married children. The beer and the horsing around are more accessible to the teen-age fathers. But they're not for the teenage mothers. Just try to accompany your 18-year-old husband to the beer parlor down the street and in no time flat, your next-door neighbor has reported your "neglect" of your baby to the Society for the Prevention of Children.

As well, there are many kinds of cruelty to children. One kind is premature matrimony. No, I can't see much difference in teen-age motherhood in the country or the city. In the country you wash baby's diapers in the backyard's galvanized tub. In the city, there's the corner coin laundry. But the loneliness of the present, like the bleakness of the future, is pretty much the same. "Cruelty to children"—Hah!

Quiz Bowl

The second edition of the Hudson Valley High School Quiz Bowl, sponsored by Station WGHQ, will begin Saturday, Nov. 18, with a match broadcast live at 10 a. m. from George Washington School, Kingston. A replay of the match will be heard on WGHQ-FM Tuesday evening, Nov. 21.

Rondout Valley Central High School, which finished third in last season's Bowl competition, will have its initial match, against Fallsburgh, Jan. 13. An expanded schedule will see 13 schools competing for the first four "money" places, with winnings to be used for scholarship purposes. Rondout's third place finish last season earned the school $50, for the Rondout Valley Scholarship Fund.

The team which will represent Rondout Valley in the Quiz Bowl has not yet been selected. It is expected that selection will be made at a competitive elimination assembly, as was the procedure last season. The first place team in the Hudson Valley contest will meet the winner of the Westchester County Quiz Bowl to determine the "Grand Champion."

Participating schools are: Rondout Valley, Ellenville, New Paltz, Red Hook, Rhinebeck, Saugerties, Kingston, Fallsburgh, Onteora, Marlboro, Highland, Washingtonville, and Pine Plains.

Country Wife

By DOROTHY VAN DOREN

The children in our town are not entitled to federal funds for the disadvantaged. This is because, although we are by no means a rich locality, we are not poor either. Not by the terms laid down under Title I of the Education Act.

However, we have recently received a windfall from our national government, a modest sum given to six schools in our State for an arts project. The six schools chosen range from one in a large city to one in a small, rural area—ours.

When the proposal was first suggested, our School Board had some hesitations. The vote to accept the money was very close. Some of the teachers didn't like the idea. Some of the parents were dubious. And it was strongly stipulated by everybody concerned that arts or no arts, money or no money, the regular program of the school must not suffer. Art if you must, but remember you must learn to read, write, and add first of all.

The program will consist of three performances by professional actors, with the children more or less involved, and the first show was given a few days ago. It was a series of skits with gloriously improvised costumes, a good deal of running around, but each word spoken clearly and audibly. The children loved it.

Nevertheless, there were the usual complaints. One parent, sniffing, said one would think our school had never seen improvisation. Another, also sniffing, said it was a little pretty simple-minded, as if the actors thought they were playing to hicks. The most resistant of the teachers said the little plays her Fourth Grade did last year were just as good. And there were the inevitable remarks about the taxpayers' money. Although a cynical view would be that since the money had already been appropriated, our school might enjoy it as well as another.

There was one unfortunate aspect of the matter, however. Into the local grocery store came, on the day of the play, persons who were described with a good deal of sniffing and nose lifting—as nothing less than hippies. Of all things, they were inquiring the way to our school. The grocery man said he had a mind to follow them and see if the school was really their destination. He need not have troubled himself. The persons in question were the actors, come to put on the play. Strolling players, if you will, not perhaps wearing their Sunday clothes. One of the young ladies had long blonde hair; one of the men, a tall beanpole of a lad, could have used a haircut.

Tiny Tips

Hearty Stew

If you like to offer hearty servings of stew, count on a pound of boneless meat to make two portions.

Instant minced onion is a good addition to baked rice. Serve the rice with meat or fish.

Sticking Stoppers

If your perfume bottle stoppers get stuck, refrigerate them until they are ice cold. Then they will open easily.

When sending bananas in a lunch box wrap them in aluminum foil and fold edges tightly three or four times. This prevents any banana odor from getting into the rest of the lunch.

An attractive chairside planter may be made by gluing together the bottoms of two 10- or 12-inch clay pots and running a dowel through both drainage holes. The top of one pot will sit solidly on the floor and the other will hold the plant.

Coleman School Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Parent's Association of John A. Coleman Catholic High School will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium. Teachers will be available before the meeting.

Mexican Poncho Captures Spring Highlight

By NADEANE WALKER

LONDON (AP)—The Mexican poncho, worn over trouser suits or dresses as a successor to the cape, is Hylan Booker's most eye-catching contribution to spring style in his new collection shown today.

The young American designer, in his first presentation since he won the Yardley Award earlier this year, kept the hemline riding high about eight inches above the knee. Booker's colors are pink with navy, gray on banana yellow shadow checks, off-white and oyster jerseys, pistachio green and soft blue.

A quarter-circle seaming under the armpit shapes the bustline on his narrow shifts. Yokes are used on dresses and coats, and the shirtwaister turns up in coats as well as dresses. The coat and dress ensemble is still a Booker classic.

Booker, 28, from Detroit, is rated at the top of British ready-to-wear since he won the $1,000 Yardley Award, top American prize for English designers.

Booker's triangular ponchos are striped in soft pinks, yellows and greens. With them his models wear big wooden-framed sunglasses.

As for that miniskirt, Booker admitted after the collection that this may be the last time he is able to hold out against longer skirts. He doesn't like or ready-to-wear has a new them, but thinks that may come price range. His coat and back anyway.

Besides new premises, Book-tail for just over $100.

COUNTRY FAIR CHRISTMAS BAZAAR—On Saturday, Nov. 18, the ladies of West Hurley Methodist Church will hold their annual Christmas bazaar. In an old country store setting, articles such as holiday aprons, handmade gifts, homebaked goods, cookbooks compiled of favorite recipes, a table for "treasure hunters", plants and dried arrangements, featuring novelty nautical wreaths, display from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. A snack bar will offer refreshments and there will be entertainment for the children.

Country Wife

By DOROTHY VAN DOREN

The children in our town are not entitled to federal funds for the disadvantaged. This is because, although we are by no means a rich locality, we are not poor either. Not by the terms laid down under Title I of the Education Act.

However, we have recently received a windfall from our national government, a modest sum given to six schools in our State for an arts project. The six schools chosen range from one in a large city to one in a small, rural area—ours.

When the proposal was first suggested, our School Board had some hesitations. The vote to accept the money was very close. Some of the teachers didn't like the idea. Some of the parents were dubious. And it was strongly stipulated by everybody concerned that arts or no arts, money or no money, the regular program of the school must not suffer. Art if you must, but remember you must learn to read, write, and add first of all.

The program will consist of three performances by professional actors, with the children more or less involved, and the first show was given a few days ago. It was a series of skits with gloriously improvised costumes, a good deal of running around, but each word spoken clearly and audibly. The children loved it.

Nevertheless, there were the usual complaints. One parent, sniffing, said one would think our school had never seen improvisation. Another, also sniffing, said it was a pretty simple-minded, as if the actors thought they were playing to hicks. The most resistant of the teachers said the little plays her Fourth Grade did last year were just as good. And there were the inevitable remarks about the taxpayers' money. Although a cynical view would be that since the money had already been appropriated, our school might enjoy it as well as another.

There was one unfortunate aspect of the matter, however. Into the local grocery store came, on the day of the play, persons who were described with a good deal of sniffing and nose lifting—as nothing less than hippies. Of all things, they were inquiring the way to our school. The grocery man said he had a mind to follow them and see if the school was really their destination. He need not have troubled himself. # No Kooky Togs for FitzSimon

NEW YORK — (NEA)—Bronwyn FitzSimon, perky daughter of Maureen O'Hara, Ireland's contribution to the American cinema, is much in the news as one of the B.Y.P. (Beautiful Young People). And her view on fashion is interesting because it's different from others in that group. "Kooky, far-out fads are not for me," she said. And coming from a 22-year-old Hollywood girl, that was a surprise.

Apparently, Bronwyn has a good deal of fashion savvy tucked away in her pretty head. Definitely no throw-back to the bosomless flapper era, she knows enough to stay away from the little girl styles that look so silly on anyone who is round where she ought to be round.

She was here in New York last week for some theater and shopping and I caught up with her at the Pattullo-Jo Copeland showroom where she selected four stunning fall outfits.

"When I am in New York,"

Bronwyn said, "my trip would not be complete without a visit to Jo. She designs with that 'pretty look' in mind. And her clothes are always chic."

In her native California, Miss FitzSimon likes the designs of Mike Anthony of Los Angeles who also knows how to make a woman look beautiful rather than bizarre.

Many a middle-aged matron could learn a simple but important truth from this young lady. To be chic is to wear what looks best on you. If your neighbor looks great in her 10-year-old party dress, don't start shopping for your clothes in the children's departments unless you, too, are straight up and down and skinny. There are fashions that are as au courant as the little girl nonsense and far more befitting a beautiful woman.

Bronwyn FitzSimon recognizes that.

The image of her mother

even to the few freckles dotting her nose, she has been successful in many fields.

An actress in her own right, she has just completed an engagement in "Molly Bawn," an Irish play, with the West Coast. She has had more than her share of featured billing in television and has appeared on numerous network programs such as Kraft Theater, Alfred Hitchcock Presents, Jimmy Dean and the Alcoa Theater. On the movie screen she teamed with her mother and Henry Fonda in "Spencer's Mountain," and with John Saxon in "The Ravagers."

Aside from her acting chores, Bronwyn FitzSimon leads a busy go-go life. She has a full-time position as an account supervisor with a California finance company which affords her an opportunity to travel and she loves it.

Two nights a week she teaches Spanish at a local school, devotes another night each week to giving guitar lessons and teaches cooking to eight housewives in her Los Angeles neighborhood.

On weekends she often junkets to her mother's home in Acapulco.

"My home life is most important to me," Bronwyn said. Mom and I are very close. Being Irish, we're very family conscious.

YES, that's what the lady said — "22."

Well, if we've made it to the moon by the time her hoped-for kids are teen-agers and they should just happen to be all girls, the United States may have a distinction it hadn't planned on in the space era.

With a mother like that, 22 of the best-dressed moon maidens will be one of our contributions to the space age.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Watch Watchers Watch Was Changed

By BOB COCHNAR
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA)—Question: When is a watch not a watch? Answer: When it's an alarm or a yacht timer or a pulse measurer or a calendar or a barometer or a calculator.

Somewhere, somewhere in Switzerland constructs a timepiece that does considerably more than merely tell you hours, minutes and seconds. In fact, the Swiss will match the watch to your profession or favorite sport.

And no longer need this special-purpose watch be unsightly. Some of the dials may appear confusing to the uninitiated, but once mastered, determining, say the atmospheric pressure or altitude is a snap. Most are contained in smart, stylish cases and are offered with handsome leather straps or bracelets.

If you're the kind of chap who wants more from his watch than the time, consider these items:

—The Medicus watch (Corum) is designed for physicians although anybody can buy it should he desire to take a pulse.

The old doc starts the second hand at 12 or 6 and feels the patient's pulse beats. On the 15th beat he can read on the dial the exact number of beats per minute.

—Pilots and skippers might find the Navigator (Tissot) an aid to precise reckoning. The oversized dial marks the time in 26 important cities of the world. The hour hand makes one complete rotation every 24 hours.

—You're a mountain climber, glider pilot, parachutist, hiker? Then you certainly want to know the time, altitude and barometric pressure, right? Then the Bivouac (Favre-Leuba) is your, er, speed.

—You yachtsmen aren't neglected by the watch industry, either. There's the Regate (Heuer). You push a button and five circles instantly appear on the dial. They represent the five minutes between warning signal and starting gun. As the minutes tick by, the circles disappear one by one.

—Travelers who can't be bothered with alarm clocks might find the alarm watches useful. Vulcan and Le Coultre have interesting timepieces.

—Breitling Wakman offers a watch which would make any architect, engineer, salesman or mathematician happy. Calibrations on the dial permit the wearer to multiply, divide and take cube and square roots. Also great for students at exam time.

—You say you must know the exact time in 64 cities? The waterproof time piece (Enicar-Sherpa) has six secondary dials. Next to each is shown the names of the cities to which they correspond, with the necessary instructions to make corrections.

—Motor racing enthusiasts would find a chronograph useful. Heuer specializes here.

—Skindiving or snorkeling? You'll want a really watertight watch which will work to 600 feet below water level. The Airvac 400 (Jaquet Girard) features a bold luminous dial and sweep second hand. The watch is vacuum-proof, which keeps it waterproof.

Although these specialty watches only account for a small percentage of all watches sold, they are designed to meet a specific problem.

Unfortunately, in most cases the time of day is secondary. The gadget-watch wearer must inspect the dial carefully if he knows the exact time in a hurry.

Health for All

WAR OF ATTRITION
An intelligence report has just been issued on the status of an old health enemy. He's hurting, and his long-range prospects aren't rosy. But he's far from ready to throw in the towel.

The venerable foe is TB. The report, by the National Tuberculosis Association, confirms previous estimates of another step accomplished in the long slow march to victory over this stubborn disease. Fifteen years ago it was chalking up over 80,000 new cases yearly. The figure for 1965 was just over 49,000. Behind these mechanical-looking figures, a bitter war of attrition has raged for a long time.

TB can't be rooted out overnight like other contagious diseases. It's like a time bomb. It settles in the body and often sits for months or years without doing anything, but it can break out into active disease at any time. Of 25,000,000 Americans who have the infection right now, most will never be sick with the disease. But some 47,000, or more or less, will be TB cases next year.

Can we beat this insidious game? Of course—but only by degrees. Preventing drugs could make a majority of those 25,000,000 germ bearers safe from active disease in a short time. If we were able to find and treat them all at once. But we can't resources just don't exist for so vast an effort.

What's to be done? A plan for long-range but sure progress has been worked out. It's spearheaded by Government health forces with the cooperation of the TB Association and its 1,700 regional and local groups. Preventive drug therapy (chemoprophylaxis) will be given to the infected people who are at greatest risk of breaking down into active disease—at the rate of 2,000,000 a year. In 15 years, it's calculated, the annual crop of new TB cases will be whittled down to about 19,000. And by the end of the century, who knows—total eradication is at least possible. Happy 2000 A.D.!

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute

OPENING COLLEGE DAY SHOULD BE FAMILY AFFAIR

Dear Mrs. Post: I am taking our daughter to college tomorrow for the first time. I was confronted with the problem of taking a girl friend of hers along. Had she been interested in the college it would be another thing, but she has no interest whatsoever. Our daughter's time will be taken up with meeting classmates, roommates, getting schedules, meeting the house mother and professors. I feel this is a special day for parents and their son or daughter and should not be intruded upon. I have no objection if this girl goes along with our daughter on weekends to see the college. Am I wrong in not wanting to take her on this special occasion?

Confused

Dear Confused: You had every right to object to taking your daughter's girl friend along to opening college day. It was not only the fact that she was not interested in the college, but the fact that her presence would distract your daughter from the duties she is required to perform as a new student. It's too late now, but if the situation arises again, make it clear that it's a "family only" affair.

Disappearing Father Doesn't Reappear in Announcement

Dear Mrs. Post: I am 22 years old and became engaged two weeks ago. I would like to put an announcement in the paper. My parents have been divorced since 1949, when I was just four years old. There has never been any contact of any kind between the three of us since then. How should the engagement announcement read?

Sharon

Dear Sharon: If your father had had any contact with you, or taken an interest in your upbringing, his name would be mentioned in the announcement. "Miss Jones is also the daughter of Mr. William Jones of New York." But since he has had no part in your life, or your mother's announcement should go out in her name: "Mrs. ... announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary, etc."

Short Wives Get Place on Aisle

Dear Mrs. Post: I know that it is proper for those on the aisle at a wedding to keep their seats and let later arrivals climb past them into the pews. Since I am very short and would see nothing when the guests stand during the entire ceremony, I always take the seat on the aisle and let my husband walk past me to be seated. I realize now that this looks awkward since I go down the aisle ahead of him.

I'm afraid now that I have been wrong all these years, but am excusing myself because I am short. I won't do it anymore if you say so—Mrs. D.B.

Dear Mrs. D. B.: You have not been wrong, and let me issue a plea to all tall men to let their wives take the place nearest the aisle. Rather than having him climb past you, you might wait a moment and ask him to go in first.

Watts Writers' Workshop: Voice From the Ashes'

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

WATTS, Calif. (AP) — They served cold cuts and potato salad, and a keg of beer was available for those who wanted to partake of it.

In Manhattan, the event might have signaled a party at 21 or the Plaza Hotel. But in the Los Angeles Negro enclave of Watts, the publication of a book was marked by a reception in what was a supermarket—until it was burned out by Molotov cocktails in the August riots of 1965. Folks down here still refer to it as a revolt.

Two Years of Work

The site has a new wooden roof, and the front on 103rd Street is now bricked over. It was the location of the reception for the Watts Writers' Workshop, founded by novelist Budd Schulberg in the wake of the 1966 outbreak. The harvest of two years' work has been published by New American Library in an anthology called "From the Ashes: The Voices of Watts."

Little seems changed in Watts today. There is the same atmosphere of depression and despair that he refurbished buildings

Saucer Find

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Richard Cummings, 53, a farmer, found a 23-inch, stainless steel sphere recently that has the Air Force, the Weather Bureau and the state Civil Defense agency puzzled.

Engraved on the silvery object in an area the size of a dime are the words "Inspected by 2TSL." A "string" protruding from a small hole apparently is attached to a spring inside the object.

Cummings, who found the sphere in a wooded area 10 miles north of here, says it's so shiny "you can see it 20 miles away."

No one has been able to tell him what the object is or where it came from.

cannot disguise. But inside the once-bombed grocery there was evidence of gaiety and hope, as expressed by the writing in bright red ink on the sheet cake: "From the Ashes—Watts Writers Workshop."

"I'm a published author!" Edna Gipson exclaimed to a reporter as she gazed happily at a table containing up-ended copies of "From the Ashes." Indeed she was. The book contained one of her short stories, as well as a biographical sketch that explained she "stayed clear of people" in her childhood because of a severe speech impediment.

Miss Gipson, 28, spoke falteringly but intensely as she told of "becoming bored with a novel I'm writing" and turning back to short stories until she gets the enthusiasm to return to the longer work.

Joanne Bruno is not represented in the anthology, but she told of her own accomplishment: Her short play, "Play Crazy and Lay Dead," will soon be filmed by the cinema department of the University of Southern California.

Bustling about the reception was retired Harry Dolan, prize product of the workshop and its director. His teleplay, "Losers Weepers," was widely acclaimed on NBC, and he has already been signed by Warner Bros. Seven Arts to adapt the Broadway show "No Strings" to the screen.

No Dropouts

Schulberg said, "When we started out with the workshop 2½ years ago, there were seven people involved. I'm happy to say that all seven are still with us. In fact, in an area that is known for its dropouts, not a single person has left the workshop except for those who moved out of the state or had some other compelling reason to quit."

"This is a self-propelled, non-dropout school," he said. Now 125 are involved in the workshop, which has added a branch in the western part of Los Angeles, Schulberg said.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Local Rotary Seeks Applicants For Two Grants

The Rotary Club of Woodstock will join more than 12,900 other Rotary clubs in 134 countries in next week's world-wide observance of Rotary Foundation Week, Nov. 12-18. This year's celebration marks the culmination of a year-long observance by Rotary Clubs everywhere for the 50th anniversary of the Rotary Foundation, according to club president Jim Myers.

The objective of the Foundation is to further understanding and friendly relations between peoples of different nations. Supported by contributions from Rotary clubs and Rotarians around the world, the Foundation received more than $1 million last year.

The Woodstock Club is soliciting applications for three programs: Graduate fellowship — Travel, living and educational expenses for one year of study abroad. Applicants must be unmarried, age 18-24 and have completed two years or more of university work, but not have attained a bachelor's degree.

Technical training awards — Made to young technicians and artisans for up to one year of study abroad. Awards made to men only, married or unmarried, age 21 through 35. Award covers travel, living and training expenses. Interested applicants should contact Sam Cali, Box 727, Woodstock.

Shark Tooth Found

SWANSEA, Mass. (AP) — A teen-ager looking for specimens for biology class has found the tooth of a shark that lived about 20 million years ago.

"I thought at first it was just a rock, and I walked on a few feet, then I walked back," the boy found the fossilized tooth on Swansea's South Beach. A family friend, Steve Cogswell Narragansett, R.I., federal marine laboratory research statistician, says that analysis of the tooth indicates it came from a giant prehistoric shark that roamed the seas once covering Swansea and much of the East coast.

The fish, Carcharodon Megalodon, grew to 40 feet, Cogswell says, adding that only one other specimen of tooth so big has been reported.

Houst New Chamber President

The board of directors of the Woodstock Chamber of Commerce, at its November meeting, elected Ned Houst president for the balance of the 1967-68 year. As former vice president, he succeeds Richard Langham, who resigned and will continue as a member of the board. Business commitments prompted Langham's resignation.

Houst launched his term of office by outlining a proposed Christmas promotion for Woodstock stores. Under the slogan "All Roads Lead to Woodstock," the program, supported by strong newspaper and point-of-purchase advertising, will stress the advantage of shopping in Woodstock. Starting Dec. 10, until Christmas Eve, stores will remain open evenings.

The directors elected Hal Martin as vice president to succeed Houst. Martin also will serve as secretary.

Board member Oscar Vanden Dooren described the objective of the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre and the benefits that can accrue from having this organization in Woodstock. The board voted unanimous approval of the undertaking and will support it in every way possible.

Area Events Scheduled

Notices of meetings, suppers and other events to be listed in this column should be sent to the City Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman as far in advance as possible.

Society of Little Gardens Luncheon Held

Saugerties Society of Little Gardens held its annual luncheon recently at the Bon Fire Restaurant, Cairo.

Table decorations of fall arrangements were created by Mrs. William Waldele and Mrs. Donald Becker.

Corsages presented to Mrs. Frank Greco, Mrs. William Waldele and Miss Jane Ziegler, were made by Mrs. Daniel Lamb and Mrs. Brendan Dooley.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Smith and Mrs. Joseph W. Benjamin. The prizes were the handiwork of Mrs. Daniel Lamb.

A short meeting conducted by Miss Jane Ziegler, second vice president, followed the luncheon.

It was announced that the club's 1967 yearbook received honorable mention at the Third District fall meeting in New Paltz.

Dried arrangements to be distributed among the shut-ins at Thanksgiving are to be delivered by club members to the home of Miss Jane Ziegler by Nov. 20. Those needing containers may contact Mrs. Waldele.

Memory trees will again be lighted at Christmas time at the Ellen Russell Finger Home and the Lynch Fire Hose Company. Those wishing to remember a loved one in this manner should contact Mrs. John Writenor, chairman of the fund.

Officers elected for the coming year are: Mrs. Frank Greco, president; Mrs. Francis Lawless, first vice president; Miss Jane Ziegler, second vice president; Mrs. Robert H. Finger, treasurer; Mrs. William Cowley, recording secretary; Mrs. George Sawutz, assistant secretary; Mrs. Donald Becker, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Daniel Lamb, librarian.

The luncheon arrangements were made by Mrs. William J. Everts, chairman; Mrs. Henry Brietenbach and Mrs. Brendan Dooley.

Mrs. Armstrong told the members that the sea is like a grab bag stuffed with riches out of which man has been taking only those few packages he can lay hands on easily, often by blindly groping. There are living riches that represent a large and relatively untapped food resource. It is from here that food must come to feed the hungry of the world. Sea farming and much improved fishing techniques will be necessary to accomplish this goal, she explained.

WATTS, Calif. (AP) — They served cold cuts and potato salad, and a keg of beer was available for those who wanted to partake of it.

In Manhattan, the event might have signaled a party at 21 or the Plaza Hotel. But in the Los Angeles Negro enclave of Watts, the publication of a book was marked by a reception in what was a supermarket—until it was burned out by Molotov cocktails in the August riots of 1965. Folks down here still refer to it as a revolt.

Two Years of Work
The site has a new wooden roof, and the front on 103rd Street is now bricked over. It was the location of the reception for the Watts Writers' Workshop, founded by novelist Budd Schulberg in the wake of the 1965 outbreak. The harvest of two years' work has been published by New American Library in an anthology called "From the Ashes: The Voices of Watt."

Little seems changed in Watts today. There is the same atmosphere of depression and despair that the refurbished buildings

Saucer Find
CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Richard Cummings, 53, a farmer, found a 23-inch, stainless steel saucer recently that has the Air Force, the Weather Bureau and the state Civil Defense agency puzzled.

Engraved on the silvery object in an area the size of a dime are the words "Inspected by 2TSL." A "string" protruding from a small hole apparently is attached to a spring inside the object.

Cummings, who found the saucer in a wooded area 10 miles north of here, says it's so shiny "you can see it 20 miles away."

No one has been able to tell him what the object is or where it came from.

cannot disguise. But inside the once-bombed grocery there was evidence of gaiety and hope, as expressed by the writing in bright red icing on the sheet cake: "From the Ashes—Watts Writers Workshop."

"I'm a published author!" Edna Gipson exclaimed to a reporter as she gazed happily at a table containing up-ended copies of "From the Ashes." Indeed she was. The book contained one of her short stories, as well as a biographical sketch that explained she "stayed clear of people" in her childhood because of a severe speech impediment.

Miss Gipson, 28, spoke falteringly but intensely as she told of "becoming bored with a novel I'm writing" and turning back to short stories until she gets the enthusiasm to return to the longer work.

Joanne Bruno is not represented in the anthology, but she told of her own accomplishment: Her short play, "Play Crazy and Lay Dead," will soon be filmed by the cinema department of the University of South in California.

Bustling about the reception was rotund Harry Dolan, prize product of the workshop and is director. His teleplay, "Losers Weepers," was widely acclaimed on NBC, and he has already been signed by Warner Bros. Seven Arts to adapt the Broadway show "No Strings" to the screen.

No Dropouts
Schulberg said, "When we started out with the workshop 2½ years ago, there were seven people involved. I'm happy to say that all seven are still with us. In fact, in an area that is known for its dropouts, not a single person has left the workshop except for those who moved out of the state or had some other compelling reason to quit."

"This is a self-propelled, non-dropout school,"
Now 125 are involved in the workshop, which has added a branch in the western part of Los Angeles, Schulberg said.

Local Rotary Seeks Applicants For Two Grants

The Rotary Club of Woodstock will join more than 12,900 other Rotary clubs in 134 countries in next week's world-wide observance of Rotary Foundation Week, Nov. 12-18. This year's celebration marks the culmination of a year-long observance by Rotary Clubs everywhere for the 50th anniversary of the Rotary Foundation, according to club president Jim Myers.

The objective of the Foundation is to further understanding and friendly relations between peoples of different nations. Supported by contributions from Rotary clubs and Rotarians around the world, the Foundation received more than $1 million last year.

The Woodstock Club is soliciting applications for three programs:
Graduate fellowship — Travel, living and educational expenses for one year of study abroad. Applicants must be unmarried, age 18-24 and have completed two years or more of university work, but not have attained a bachelor's degree.

Technical training awards — Made to young technicians and artisans for up to one year of study abroad. Awards made to men only, married or unmarried, age 21 through 35. Award covers travel, living and training expenses.

Interested applicants should contact Sam Call, Box 727, Woodstock.

Shark Tooth Found

SWANSEA, Mass. (AP) — A teen-ager looking for specimens for biology class has found the tooth of a shark that lived about 20 million years ago.

"I thought at first it was just a rock, and I walked on a few feet, then I walked back,"
The boy found the fossilized tooth on Swansea's South Beach. A family friend, Steve Cogswell Narragansett, R.I., federal marine laboratory research statistician, says that analysis of the tooth indicates it came from a giant prehistoric shark that roamed the seas once covering Swansea and much of the East coast.

The fish, Carcharodon, Polygurus, grew to 40 feet, Cogswell says, adding that only one other specimen of tooth so big has been reported.

Houst New Chamber President

The board of directors of the Woodstock Chamber of Commerce, at its November meeting, elected Ned Houst president for the balance of the 1967-68 year. As former vice president, he succeeds Richard Langham, who resigned and will continue as a member of the board. Business commitments prompted Langham's resignation.

Houst launched his term of office by outlining a proposed Christmas promotion for Woodstock stores. Under the slogan "All Roads Lead to Woodstock" the program, supported by strong newspaper and point-of-purchase advertising, will stress the advantage of shopping in Woodstock. Starting Dec. 10, until Christmas Eve, stores will remain open evenings.

The directors elected Hal Martin as vice president to succeed Houst. Martin also will serve as secretary.

Board member Oscar Vanden Dooren described the objective of the Hudson Valley Repertory Theatre and the benefits that can accrue from having this organization in Woodstock. The board voted unanimous approval of the undertaking and will support it in every way possible.

Society of Little Gardens Luncheon Held

Saugerties Society of Little Gardens held its annual luncheon recently at the Bon Fire Restaurant, Cairo.

Table decorations of fall arrangements were created by Mrs. William Waldele and Mrs. Donald Beckert.
Corsages presented to Mrs. Frank Greco, Mrs. William Waldele and Miss Jane Ziegler, were made by Mrs. Daniel Lamb and Mrs. Brendan Dooley.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Smith and Mrs. Joseph W. Benjamin. The prizes were the handiwork of Mrs. Daniel Lamb.

A short meeting conducted by Miss Jane Ziegler, second vice president, followed the luncheon. It was announced that the club's 1967 yearbook received honorable mention at the Third District fall meeting in New Paltz.

Dried arrangements to be distributed among the shut-ins at Thanksgiving are to be delivered by club members to the home of Miss Jane Ziegler by Nov. 20. Those needing containers may contact Mrs. Waldele.

Memory trees will again be lighted at Christmas time at the Ellen Russell Elmer Home and the Lynch Fire Hose Company. Those wishing to remember a loved one in this manner should contact Mrs. John Writener, chairman of the fund.

Officers elected for the coming year are: Mrs. Frank Greco, president; Mrs. Francis Lawless, first vice president; Miss

Quick Portrait Sketches at Christmas Sale

Quick portrait sketches will highlight the Christmas sale of the Ladies Auxiliary to Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 16 and 17, in the former Delson building, Main and Partition Streets.

Mrs. Maxine Wingate of Bearsville will sketch her subjects in 15 minute sittings from 11 to 3 each day. Teen-agers and children are her specialties.

A day-long demonstration of liquid embroidery will also be featured. Among the sale items will be aprons for holidays and every day, tree ornaments, centerpieces and miscellaneous gifts.

The doors will be open from 10 to 5 each day.
Profits derived are used in the Auxiliary's hospital and rehabilitation work.

Fire Company Auxiliary News

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Washington Hook and Ladder Fire Company, Saugerties, held its regular monthly meeting recently in the company rooms with president Helen Hornbeck, presiding.

The usual December meeting will not be held. Instead, the Christmas party will be held Dec. 8 at the Cloverleaf Inn at 7:30 p.m. All members wishing to attend should call Gladys Amend, chairman, or Peggy Wade, co-chairman by Dec. 1, for reservations and choice of menu.

On Dec. 17, the members of the company and the auxiliary plan a trip to the Firemen's Home at Hudson to give gifts to the five men from Saugerties who are patients there. The group will leave the firehouse at 1:30 p.m. Anyone needing transportation should be there by that time.

Sharon Andrews and Clara Dawson were appointed to the refreshments committee for January. The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 4.

Sea's Wealth Described to Monday Club

"Nutrition from the sea" was the topic presented by Mrs. Milton Armstrong at the regular meeting of the Monday Club held at the home of Mrs. George Sawatz on Finger Street recently.

Mrs. Armstrong told the members that the sea is like a grab bag stuffed with riches out of which man has been taking only those few packages he can lay hands on easily, often by blindly groping. There are living riches that represent a large and relatively untapped food resource. It is from here that food must come to feed the hungry of the world. Sea farming and much improved fishing techniques will be necessary to accomplish this goal, she explained.

Middletown Rally Nips KHS Gridders, 20-18

Field Gets Clincher With 10 Seconds Left

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Ten seconds too long. That's the only way to describe Kingston High School's football fortunes Saturday as the locals were nipped, 20-18, by Middletown in a gigantic DUSO struggle before a disappointing turnout of about 1,500 at Dietz Stadium.

Favored by as many as four touchdowns, the Middies fought for their gridiron lives and were forced to pull out all the stops in the final 1:30 of the game before quarterback Paul Hughes connected with halfback Dick Field for the winning points only 10 seconds from the end of the bruising contest.

It was a heartbreaking defeat for coach Bill Hurley's gridders. The home side played the defending champions off their feet from start to finish in their narrow bid for one of the biggest upsets in DUSO history.

Two Early Scores

The KHS eleven tallied twice in the opening half with quarterback Mike Hoffman connecting on an eight yard toss to halfback Jeff Perry and guard John Bernardi scampering eight yards with a recovered fumble.

The Middies stormed back for a pair of third quarter scores as Bob Zimmer went over from the six and Field, a clutch performer, tallied from the one.

Hoffman targeted Fred Kachura for a 20 yard payoff and a KHS lead early in the fourth quarter. Then came those final seconds and one of the toughest losses Hurley will ever suffer.

Kingston's Bill Kidd pounced on a Middle fumble on the 29 late in the first quarter and Hoffman directed the home side to a touchdown in nine plays.

The big gainer in the drive was a pass interference penalty on the Middies, just one play after Perry dropped an apparent TD pass in the end zone.

Hoffman threw to his halfback from the eight after the infraction had moved the pigskin to that spot on the field. This time Jeff clutched the ball and the surprised Middies were on the short end of a 6-0 count. Tim Bowens missed the extra point, the first of three straight failures for the usually reliable KHS kicker.

The Middies, coming off a pair of consecutive setbacks to Mont Pleasant and White Plains, moved from the 30 and picked up four straight first downs. They were on the KHS 13 as the second quarter began.

KHS Line Stiffens

Three plays later, the pigskin was back to the 27 as the tenacious Maroon line was equal to the occasion.

A Hughes pass near midfield late in the quarter and he ran it back to the M 18. However, this threat fizzled as Field picked one of Hoffman's tosses off in the end zone and ran it to the 20.

On the first play, Bernardi came storming in and creamed Hughes as he was set to throw. The ball hit the turf and bounced towards the goal line. Bernardi swooped it up and ran eight yards for a second Maroon TD. Though Bowens missed his conversion attempt, it was a 12-0 game. The visitors were in a state of shock.

Tackle Ed Kain recovered a Perry fumble on the KHS 19 after the intermission and this served to fire up the Middies. Field and Zimmer carried the pigskin to the six and then Zimmer, following his blocking, went through a big hole for a touchdown. Field was perfect with his placement. It was now a 12-7 game and you could sense that the high powered Middies were back in business.

Middies Go Ahead

It took the visitors only six plays to tally again and it was Field, a tremendous two-way performer, who turned the trick.

The 150 pound ace picked off one of Hoffman's tosses on the 45 and ran all the way to the 10 before being shoved out of bounds.

Four plays later, the same Mr. Field bulled over from a yard out. His attempted placement was wide but it was now a 13-12 game in favor of the visitors.

Instead of falling apart, the Maroon players rose to the occasion. They marched 58 yards in nine plays, scoring the go-ahead touchdown early in the last period.

Byrd, an exciting runner, made a couple of big gains to highlight this drive. The march was aided by a roughing the passer penalty after the Middies had intercepted a toss on the 20.

The payoff toss from Hoffman to Kachura was complete when the lanky end made a diving catch in the end zone. This play covered 20 yards and it was an 18-13 game with 9:30 to play.

It was now up to the KHS defense to hold that margin.

Both sides waged a punting duel for most of the quarter. Finally, the Middies put a punt in play at midfield. There was only 1:30 to go and the visitors were faced with their final chance.

Hughes, mixing his plays and throwing the ball like a pro, picked the defense part. He moved the visitors towards the goal as the clock kept moving. It was a race against time and the veteran quarterback did his job.

Hughes passed twice to end Jim Ella, moving the pigskin to the 25.

Harry Lyons of Kingston knocked down the next toss and two more were incomplete. It was now a fourth and 10 situation. If this pass failed, the ball would change hands.

The Big Play

Hughes faded back and heaved one to co-captain John Peterson. He snared the ball on the 13 and the Middies were still in business. It was a first down and the field clock showed less than 30 seconds to play.

Again Hughes threw to Peterson. Once more the Middle end caught the pigskin. He was downed on the eight and immediately requested a time out, the last one remaining for the visitors. There were 15 seconds to play.

Most of the KHS students had left the stands, waiting to grab the goal posts. There was time for only a couple of plays. Hughes was cool, calm and collected. After play was resumed, he stepped back and threw in the flat to Field, his bread and butter back. Field caught the ball on the six, found an opening and just made it to paydirt for the clincher. His extra point success was just some frosting on the victory cake.

Though stunned, the KHS gridders didn't go down without one more try. They put the kickoff in play on the 35 and requested their last time out. When the action began again, Hoffman threw a screen pass to Byrd.

Marshall fought his way to midfield and narrowly missed breaking a tackle which would have given him clear sailing. As he was hit, time expired.

It was a frustrating defeat. Middletown can clinch the DUSO title by beating Port Jervis on Thanksgiving Day. Kingston, now 2-5 for the season, is out of contention but can squash Newburgh's slim pennant hopes by beating the Goldbacks on Turkey Day.

PHS Rips Arlington, 25-6, Tie DCSL

Poughkeepsie High's powerful Pioneers spotted arch-rival a first quarter touchdown and then stormed past the Admirals, 25-6, before an SRO crowd Saturday at the Freedom Plains field.

The win enabled the unbeaten Pioneers to tie Wappingers for DCSL honors. Both clubs finished with 7-0-1 marks, having played a scoreless tie against each other on opening day.

Admirals Tally Early

Arlington, which won the championship last season, shocked the visitors early in the game as Bob Fenn intercepted a pass and ran 15 yards for a touchdown.

Quarterback Dave Jones started his club on the road back in the second quarter. A couple of passes moved the pigskin to the three and halfback Bill Green carried it over for the tying points.

Just moments later, a PHS punt was fumbled and the visitors recovered on the Arlington 39.

Four plays later, Jones threw a flat pass to Charlie Ellis. He caught the ball, broke two tackles and went 25 yards for a score. The Admirals didn't recover from this sudden surge.

Another recovered fumble, this one in the third quarter, led to another PHS touchdown. Jones hit Green from 22 yards away for the score.

Clinch Verdict

Sensing an unbeaten season, the high scoring winners put this one out of reach, going 54 yards in seven plays.

Jones hit Rocky Veronesi for a 32 yard key gain and Green lugged it over from three yards out for the score. Bill Watkins put the finishing touches on the season by kicking the point after.

Arlington was 3-3 in the league and closed its season with a 4-4 mark.

Lakers Squeeze Past Chi Bulls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bulls got within two seconds of their second National Basketball Association victory Sunday night, but then salvation, in the unlikely form of Reggie Harding, came to the Los Angeles Lakers.

The last seconds of the Lakers' National Basketball Association 97-96 victory over the Bulls went something like this:

Mel Counts hit a jump shot with 13 seconds left, drawing Los Angeles within three points. Gail Goodrich hit a layup, making the margin a point, Clem Haskins of the Bulls was fouled, but missed three straight shots.

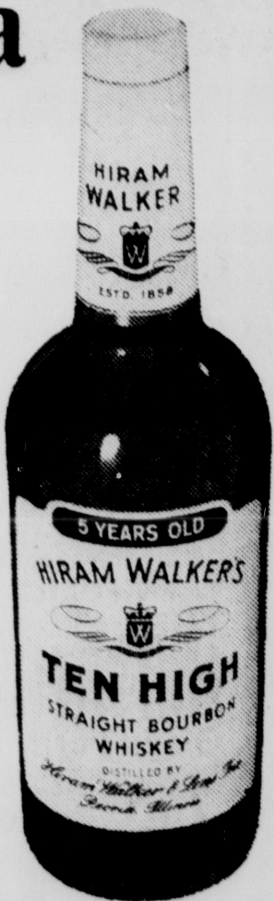

Still the Bulls seemed in control. But Los Angeles Archie Clark threw wildly. Harding pushed Counts and with two seconds left, Mel sunk a pair from the foul line and won the game.

In the only other NBA game Sunday night, St. Louis beat San Diego 116-105.

Palmer Captures World Title

By PAUL H. FINCH

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the easy going golf master from Latrobe, Pa., was off to new conquests today after capturing his first World Cup individual prize in six tries as coveinor of the American team.

Jack Nicklaus, 27-year-old teammate from Columbus, Ohio, came in second as individual winner plus coholder of the team trophy by the United States for the sixth time.

"I owe my partner a great deal for getting those clubs right," said Palmer.

"I came here to help win the team championship," added Nicklaus. "If I couldn't win the individual prize I'm glad Arnold did."

The two U.S. stars, who outstripped a field of 80 golfers from 40 nations, territories and regions, fired a combined 567 for the two rounds, 13 strokes below their nearest competitors, southpaw Bob Charles and Walter Godfrey of New Zealand.

Palmer, who nursed an eye scratched by sand from a trap shot for the last two days, fired a five-under par 67 in the final round for a total of 276.

Nicklaus and Charles tied for second place, five strokes behind Palmer.

Palmer got only $1,000 for the best individual score and shared $2,000 with Nicklaus for the team victory. Nicklaus and Charles split $500 for second place while Tony Cerda of Argentina won $400 for his 284 and third place, and Ted Makalena of Hawaii, fourth with 285, got $200.

Field Gets Clincher With 10 Seconds Left

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Ten seconds too long.
That's the only way to describe Kingston High School's football fortunes Saturday as the locals were nipped, 20-18, by Middletown in a gigantic DUSO struggle before a disappointing turnout of about 1,500 at Dietz Stadium.

Favored by as many as four touchdowns, the Middies fought for their gridiron lives and were forced to pull out all the stops in the final 1:30 of the game before quarterback Paul Hughes connected with half-back Dick Field for the winning points only 10 seconds from the end of the bruising contest.

It was a heartbreaking defeat for coach Bill Hurley's gridders. The home side played the defending champions off their feet from start to finish in their narrow bid for one of the biggest upsets in DUSO history.

Two Early Scores

The KHS eleven tallied twice in the opening half with quarterback Mike Hoffman connecting on an eight yard toss to half-back Jeff Perry and guard John Berardi scampering eight yards with a recovered fumble.

The Middies stormed back for a pair of third quarter scores as Bob Zimmer went over from the six and Field, a clutch performer, tallied from the one.

Hoffman targeted Fred Kachura for a 20 yard payoff and a KHS lead early in the fourth quarter. Then came those final seconds and one of the toughest losses Hurley will ever suffer.

Kingston's Bill Kidd pounced on a Middle fumble on the 29 late in the first quarter and Hoffman directed the home side to a touchdown in nine plays.

The big gainer in the drive was a pass interference penalty on the Middies, just one play after Perry dropped an apparent TD pass in the end zone.

Hoffman threw to his half back from the eight after the infraction had moved the pigskin to that spot on the field. This time Jeff clutched the ball and the surprised Middies went on the short end of a 6-0 count. Tim Bowens missed the extra point, the first of three straight failures for the usually reliable KHS kicker.

The Middies, coming off a pair of consecutive setbacks to Mont Pleasant and White Plains, moved from the 30 and picked up four straight first downs. They were on the KHS 13 as the second quarter began.

KHS Line Stiffens

Three plays later, the pigskin was back to the 27 as the tenacious Maroon line was equal to the occasion.

Little Marshall Byrd swiped a Hughes pass near midfield late in the quarter and he ran it back to the M 18. However, this threat fizzled as Field picked one of Hoffman's tosses off in the end zone and ran it to the 20.

On the first play, Berardi came storming in and creamed Hughes as he was set to throw. The ball hit the turf and bounced towards the goal line. Berardi swooped it up and ran eight yards for a second Maroon TD. Though Bowens missed his conversion attempt, it was a 12-0 game. The visitors were in a state of shock.

Tackle Ed Kain recovered a Perry fumble on the KHS 19 after the intermission and this served to fire up the Middies. Field and Zimmer carried the pigskin to the six and then Zimmer, following his blocking, went through a big hole for a touchdown. Field was perfect with his placement. It was now a 12-7 game and you could sense that the high powered Middies were back in business.

Middies Go Ahead

It took the visitors only six plays to tally again and it was Field, a tremendous two-way performer, who turned the trick.

The 150 pound ace picked off one of Hoffman's tosses on the 45 and ran all the way to the 10 before being shoved out of bounds.

Four plays later, the same Mr. Field bulldozed over from a yard out. His attempted placement was wide but it was now a 13-12 game in favor of the visitors.

Instead of falling apart, the Maroon players rose to the occasion. They marched 58 yards in nine plays, scoring the go-ahead touchdown early in the last period.

Byrd, an exciting runner, made a couple of big gains to highlight this drive. The march was aided by a roughing the passer penalty after the Middies had intercepted a toss on the 20.

The payoff toss from Hoffman to Kachura was complete when the lanky end made a diving catch in the end zone. This play covered 20 yards and it was an 18-13 game with 9:30 to play.

It was now up to the KHS defense to hold that margin.

Both sides waged a punting duel for most of the quarter. Finally, the Middies put a punt in play at midfield. There was only 1:30 to go and the visitors were faced with their final chance.

Hughes, mixing his plays and throwing the ball like a pro, picked the defense part. He moved the visitors towards the goal as the clock kept moving. It was a race against time and the veteran quarterback did his job.

Hughes passed twice to end Jim Elia, moving the pigskin to the 25.

Harry Lyons of Kingston knocked down the next toss and two more were incomplete. It was now a fourth and 10 situation. If this pass failed, the ball would change hands.

The Big Play

Hughes faded back and heaved one to co-captain John Peterson. He snared the ball on the 13 and the Middies were still in business. It was a first down and the field clock showed less than 30 seconds to play.

Again Hughes threw to Peterson. Once more the Middle end caught the pigskin. He was downed on the eight and immediately requested a time out, the last one remaining for the visitors. There were 15 seconds to play.

Most of the KHS students had left the stands, waiting to grab the goal posts. There was time for only a couple of plays.

Hughes was cool, calm and collected. After play was resumed, he stepped back and threw in the flat to Field, his bread and butter back. Field caught the ball on the six, found an opening and just made it to paydirt for the clincher. His extra point success was just some frosting on the victory cake.

Though stunned, the KHS gridders didn't go down without one more try.

They put the kickoff in play on the 35 and requested their last time out. When the action began again, Hoffman threw a screen pass to Byrd.

Marshall fought his way to midfield and narrowly missed breaking a tackle which would have given him clear sailing. As he was hit, time expired.

It was a frustrating defeat. Middletown can clinch the DUSO title by beating Port Jervis on Thanksgiving Day. Kingston, now 2-5 for the season, is out of contention but can squish Newburgh's slim pennant hopes by beating the Goldbacks on Turkey Day.

PHS Rips Arlington, 25-6, Tie DCSL

Poughkeepsie High's powerful Pioneers spotted arch-rival Arlington a first quarter touchdown and then stormed past the Admirals, 25-6, before an SRO crowd Saturday at the Freedom Plains field.

The win enabled the unbeaten Pioneers to tie Wappingers for DCSL honors. Both clubs finished with 7-0-1 marks, having played a scoreless tie against each other on opening day.

Admirals Tally Early

Arlington, which won the championship last season, shocked the visitors early in the game as Bob Fenn intercepted a pass and ran 15 yards for a touchdown.

Quarterback Dave Jones started his club on the road back in the second quarter. A couple of passes moved the pigskin to the three and half-back Bill Green carried it over for the tying points.

Just moments later, a PHS punt was fumbled and the visitors recovered on the Arlington 39.

Four plays later, Jones threw a flat pass to Charlie Ellis. He caught the ball, broke two tackles and went 25 yards for a score. The Admirals didn't recover from this sudden surge.

Another recovered fumble, this one in the third quarter, led to another PHS touchdown. Jones hit Green from 22 yards away for the score.

Clinch Verdict

Sensing an unbeaten season, the high scoring winners put this one out of reach, going 54 yards in seven plays.

Jones hit Rocky Veronesi for a 32 yard key gain and Green lugged it over from three yards out for the score. Bill Watkins put the finishing touches on the season by kicking the point after.

Arlington was 3-3 in the league and closed its season with a 4-4 mark.

Lakers Squeeze Past Chi Bulls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bulls got within two seconds of their second National Basketball Association victory Sunday night, but then salvation, in the unlikely form of Reggie Harding, came to the Los Angeles Lakers.

The last seconds of the Lakers' National Basketball Association 97-96 victory over the Bulls went something like this:

Mel Counts hit a jump shot with 13 seconds left, drawing Los Angeles within three points. Gail Goodrich hit a layup, making the margin a point. Clem Haskins of the Bulls was fouled, but missed three straight shots.

In the only other NBA game Sunday night, St. Louis beat San Diego 116-105.

About That 55-7 Rout

Packer History Routed Browns, Says Lombardi

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Green Bay rookie Travis Williams couldn't believe it. Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier didn't want to. And, as usual, Packer Coach Vince Lombardi had the last word.

"That's been our history. The Packers always rise to the occasion," said Lombardi after the Packers, led by Williams' record-tying heroics, stunned Cleveland 55-7 Sunday.

"When we've had an injury," Lombardi added, "we always play a little better."

The Packers had the injuries—starting running backs Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts are out—and they certainly played well, running up a 35-7 first-period margin and romping in from there.

Baltimore remained unbeaten and on top of the Coastal Division with a 49-7 romp over Atlanta, with Johnny Unitas providing a spectacular passing game and the Colts showing no letdown after the previous week's important victory over Green Bay.

Dallas Widens Lead

Dallas moved three games in front in the Capitol Division standings after a 27-0 decision over New Orleans, while St. Louis maintained a precarious hold on the Century Division lead with a 14-14 tie with Pittsburgh.

Chicago humbled New York

13-7, Minnesota and Detroit battled to a 10-10 tie, Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 33-17 and Washington clipped San Francisco 31-28 in the other NFL games.

"I couldn't believe it was happening," Williams said after returning kickoffs for touchdowns on runs of 87 and 84 yards for the Packers. His feat matched the league record of two kickoff returns for touchdowns set last year by Philadelphia's Timmy Brown.

Set League Record

And the 35 points run up by the Packers in the first period set a league record.

Donny Anderson and Ben Wilson filled in admirably for the ailing Pitts and Grabowski. Anderson scoring four touchdowns and Wilson rushing for 100 yards.

"The story of the game," Lombardi insisted, however, "was Bart Starr." Starr completed 14 of 21 passes for 249 yards and two touchdowns.

"I still don't know what happened," said the dazed Collier. "I think we wanted to win so badly we were too tight and couldn't play our game."

Colt quarterback Unitas played his game—perhaps even a little above his usual outstanding performance. He completed 17 of 20 throws for 370 yards and four touchdowns, the scores coming on plays covering 25, 11, 64 and 5 yards, in the rout of Atlanta.

End Frank Clarke, who lined up in the backfield on a tight-I formation, broke open the game for Dallas, racing 56 yards for a touchdown that put the Cowboys in front of New Orleans 17-0. They coasted in from there.

Pittsburgh, with quarterback

Bill Nelsen calling the shots, moved 90 yards in nine plays in the last minute of play to gain the tie with St. Louis. Nelson capped it with a six-yard toss to Roy Jefferson. St. Louis, however, remained one-half game in front of Cleveland.

Record 11 Fumbles

Detroit established a negative record, fumbling 11 times, in the tie with Minnesota, an offensive nightmare for both teams. Mel Farr carried 24 times for 197 yards for the Lions, who tied it on Wayne Walker's 12-yard field goal in the third period.

Sub quarterback Larry Rakestraw was the big gun for the Bears against stumbling New York. Rakestraw flipped scoring passes of 23, 18 and 6 yards and scored twice himself. Defensive tackle Frank Cornish set up three touchdowns by intercepting two Frank Tarkenton passes and recovering a fumble.

Sonny Jurgensen passed for three touchdowns, the last a 15-yarder to Jerry Smith with 7:01 remaining, in Washington's comeback against San Francisco. He completed 22 of 41 for 291 yards. The Redskins scored twice in the third period, both after fumble recoveries.

The Rams rushed in 20 points in the second quarter, breaking it open against Philadelphia. Bruce Gossett kicked field goals of 21, 12, 27 and 31 yards for the winners, and Roman Gabriel passed for two touchdowns.

New Formation

Gives Sawyers

Early Margin

Beacon's Bulldogs were shocked by the "polecat" offensive formation of visiting Saugerties as the Sawyers routed the home side, 25-0, in a DCSL game Saturday at the South Dutchess gridiron.

In escaping the league basement, the Sawyers tallied twice in the opening session and added touchdowns in the third and fourth periods to hand the Beacons their sixth straight setback.

Strange Formation

The "polecat formation," consisting of five linemen positioned on one side, plus two backfield men directly behind the five linemen, one to the rear of the end and the other in the shotgun, gave the Sawyers their early lead.

On the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Jack Warns threw for 28 yards to halfback Tony Konopka, putting the pigskin on the Beacon 48.

On the next play, Konopka hit Holly Carnright for a 48 yard touchdown.

After the home side was forced to punt, the Sawyers struck again. They had a touchdown called back. But, on the next play, Konopka executed well from the "polecat" and galloped 28 yards for a score. Roger Praetorius booted the point.

The winners played conventional football the rest of the way but the toothless Bulldogs didn't recover from the early shock.

In the third period, the SHS eleven ripped off 61 yards in 12 plays. The payoff was a five yard toss from Warns to end Drew Craig.

Rich Praetorius capped an 85 yard drive in the fourth stanza when he plunged over from the one.

Two Scores Nullified

Beacon reached the SHS 12 in the first half but Carnright swiped a pass. In the third period, the Bulldogs had two touchdowns nullified because of penalties.

The triumph gave the Sawyers a 2-6 record for the season, including a 1-5 league mark. Beacon was 1-7 overall and didn't win a league tilt in six tries.

Newburgh Overpowers Port Jervis, 26-7

Flashy Wayne Youngs passed for two touchdowns and Newburgh's powerful Goldbacks crushed Port Jervis, 26-7, to knock the Raiders out of a first place DUSO League deadlock Saturday at Glennette Field.

Youngs did most of his damage in the third and fourth periods as the scrappy Raiders held the visitors to a 7-7 deadlock for the opening half.

The NFA quarterback put his team on the scoreboard in the opening session as he tossed 25 yards to Nano DiEduardo. Bill Briggs added the extra point.

Port's Bill Gastmeyer evened the count in the second quarter after the Raiders recovered a blocked punt on the NFA 35. Gastmeyer threw to wingback Bill Lain for the TD and Carl DeGroat booted the extra point.

The second half was a different story. Whereas the Raiders were halted twice in the first quarter inside the 10, they didn't do much penetrating in the third and fourth quarters.

Newburgh went 59 yards to a third quarter score. Halfback Jim Butler tallied on a 23 yard run.

Just 2:17 later, Youngs passed to tight end Pat Yates, the play covering 74 yards. The 225-Yates took the pass at Midfield and raced to paydirt. Briggs kicked the PAT.

The final NFA touchdown came when George Butwell circled left end from the 10 to cap a 56 yard surge. Youngs' 41 yard heave to DiEduardo was a highlight.

In completing 10 of 20 passes for 221 yards, Youngs was just too much for the fired-up Raiders to handle.

Newburgh is now 4-2 for the season and will play its annual Thanksgiving Day game with Kingston at Dietz Stadium.

In State Meet

Craig Hubbell of Ontario finished eighth in the Class B Intersectional Cross Country championships Saturday in Buffalo. The OCS ace covered the 2.4 miles in 13:51. Winner Jim Inyegneri of Fox Lane was timed in 13:37.

Section One, composed of schools in the Westchester County area, swept honors in the three classes.

Kingston High finished eighth in Class A. Maroon ace Gary Boice didn't finish. He was in third place but was bumped twice and was forced to drop from the race.

The closest KHS finisher was Bill Brinnier, who was 68th in a field of 154. Other Kingston runners were Jim Gilpatrick (94), Gary Sickler (101), Gary Flowers (110), John Salzmann (111), Gene Ballou (117) and Boice.

Hubbell's good run in Class B marked the second time in Ontario history a runner has been near the top.

Winning schools in the championships were Ossining, Class A; Fox Lane, Class B and Wheatley, L.I., Class C. Suffern, the Section 9 Class B representative, was third and Highland Falls was fifth in Class C.

About That 55-7 Rout

Packer History Routed Browns, Says Lombardi

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Green Bay rookie Travis Williams couldn't believe it. Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier didn't want to. And, as usual, Packer Coach Vince Lombardi had the last word.

"That's been our history. The Packers always rise to the occasion," said Lombardi after the Packers, led by Williams' record-tying heroics, stunned Cleveland 55-7 Sunday.

"When we've had an injury," Lombardi added, "we always play a little better."
The Packers had the injuries—starting running backs Jim Grabowski and Elijah Pitts are out—and they certainly played well, running up a 35-7 first-period margin and romping in from there.

The victory, spiced by Williams' record-matching two kickoff returns for touchdowns, kept the defending champion Packers atop the National Football League's Central Division. Baltimore remained unbeaten and on top of the Coastal Division with a 49-7 romp over Atlanta, with Johnny Unitas providing a spectacular passing game and the Colts showing no letdown after the previous week's important victory over Green Bay.

Dallas Widens Lead

Dallas moved three games in front in the Capitol Division standings after a 27-10 decision over New Orleans, while St. Louis maintained a precarious hold on the Century Division lead with a 14-14 tie with Pittsburgh.

Chicago humbled New York

24-7, Minnesota and Detroit battled to a 10-10 tie. Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 33-17 and Washington clipped San Francisco 31-28 in the other NFL games.

"I couldn't believe it was happening," Williams said after returning kickoffs for touchdowns on runs of 87 and 84 yards for the Packers. His feat matched the league record of two kickoff returns for touchdowns set last year by Philadelphia's Timmy Brown.

Set League Record

And the 35 points run up by the Packers in the first period set a league record.
Donny Anderson and Ben Wilson filled in admirably for the ailing Pitts and Grabowski. Anderson scoring four touchdowns and Wilson rushing for 100 yards.

"The story of the game," Lombardi insisted, however, "was Bart Starr." Starr completed 14 of 21 passes for 249 yards and two touchdowns.
"I still don't know what happened," said the dazed Collier. "I think we wanted to win so badly we were too tight and couldn't play our game."

Colt quarterback Unitas played his game—perhaps even a little above his usual outstanding performance. He completed 17 of 20 throws for 370 yards and four touchdowns, the scores coming on plays covering 25, 11, 64 and 5 yards, in the rout of Atlanta.

End Frank Clarke, who lined up in the backfield on a tight-I formation, broke open the game for Dallas, racing 56 yards for a touchdown that put the Cowboys in front of New Orleans 37-0. They coasted in from there.

Pittsburgh, with quarterback

Bill Nelsen calling the shots, moved 90 yards in nine plays in the last minute of play to gain the tie with St. Louis. Nelsen capped it with a six-yard toss to Roy Jefferson. St. Louis, however, remained one-half game in front of Cleveland.

Record 11 Fumbles

Detroit established a negative record, fumbling 11 times, in the tie with Minnesota, an offensive nightmare for both teams. Mel Farr carried 24 times for 197 yards for the Lions, who tied it on Wayne Walker's 12-yard field goal in the third period.

Sub quarterback Larry Rakestraw was the big gun for the Bears against stumbling New York. Rakestraw flipped scoring passes of 23, 18 and 6 yards and scored twice himself. Defensive tackle Frank Cornish set up three touchdowns by intercepting two Frank Tarkenton passes and recovering a fumble.

Sonny Jurgensen passed for three touchdowns, the last a 15-yarder to Jerry Smith with 7:01 remaining, in Washington's comeback against San Francisco. He completed 22 of 41 for 291 yards. The Redskins scored twice in the third period, both after fumble recoveries.

The Rams rushed in 20 points in the second quarter, breaking it open against Philadelphia. Bruce Gossett kicked field goals of 21, 12, 27 and 31 yards for the winners, and Roman Gabriel passed for two touchdowns.

New Formation Gives Sawyers Early Margin

Beacon's Bulldogs were shocked by the "polecat" offensive formation of visiting Saugerties as the Sawyers routed the home side, 25-0, in a DCSL game Saturday at the South Dutchess gridiron.

In escaping the league basement, the Sawyers tallied twice in the opening session and added touchdowns in the third and fourth periods to hand the Beacons their sixth straight setback.

Strange Formation

The "polecat formation," consisting of five linemen positioned on one side, plus two backfield men directly behind the five linemen, one to the rear of the end and the other in the shotgun, gave the Sawyers their early lead.

On the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Jack Warren threw for 23 yards to halfback Tony Konopka, putting the pigskin on the Beacon 48.

On the next play, Konopka hit Holly Carnright for a 48 yard touchdown.

After the home side was forced to punt, the Sawyers struck again. They had a touchdown called back. But, on the next play, Konopka executed well from the "polecat" and galloped 28 yards for a score. Roger Praetorius booted the point.

The winners played conventional football the rest of the way but the toothless Bulldogs didn't recover from the early shock.

In the third period, the SHS eleven ripped off 61 yards in 12 plays. The payoff was a five yard toss from Warren to end Drew Craig.

Two Scores Nullified

Beacon reached the SHS 12 in the first half but Carnright swiped a pass. In the third period, the Bulldogs had two touchdowns nullified because of penalties.

The triumph gave the Sawyers a 2-6 record for the season, including a 1-5 league mark. Beacon was 1-7 overall and didn't win a league tilt in six tries.

Idleness Doesn't Pay

Chargers Close Gap On Leading Raiders

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oakland Raiders have found out that idleness won't win them any American Football League titles, not with the San Diego Chargers and Kansas City Chiefs hard at work.

Playing the role of the idle Raiders poorer as the Chargers and Chiefs each rolled to victory and narrowed the gap that separates them from leading Oakland in the Western Division.

The Chargers, 6-1-1, stumped Miami 24-0 and the Chiefs, 6-3, hammered Boston 33-10 while the Raiders relaxed with an open date and a 7-1 mark.

The New York Jets had to work hard to retain their one-game lead over Houston in the Eastern Division with a 20-10 victory over Buffalo while the Oilers struggled by lowly Denver 20-18 in the other AFL games.

Were Bit Rusty

San Diego, off last week, also suffered the effects of idleness against the Dolphins as the high-powered Chargers managed only a 7-0 lead into the fourth quarter before blowing open the game.

"Two weeks layoff was too much," said Charger Coach Sid Gillman. "I think we will be a better football team from here on out."

"We were sluggish and our timing was off," agreed quarterback John Hadl, who pitched for two touchdowns, but had four other passes intercepted. "We might have been looking ahead to Kansas City. I'm just glad we didn't play the Chiefs today."

The Chargers and Chiefs collide Sunday while Oakland, if it can avoid rustiness, hosts weak Miami and can pick up ground on at least one challenger with a victory.

The Chiefs readied themselves for the San Diego clash after spotting Boston a 10-7 lead and then crushing the Patriots for their third straight romp in a final drive to rain the AFL title they won last year.

The Chiefs' Len Dawson pitched for two touchdowns and defensive back Emmitt Thomas returned an intercepted pass 57 yards for another score and intercepted a second pass and recovered a fumble to set up a TD and a field goal.

Stram Confident

"We're in good shape," Coach Hank Stram of Kansas City said. "We play both Oakland and San Diego again and they play each other once. We just have to keep winning."

The loss all but eliminated the Patriots in the East race, and the New York victory did the same to Buffalo as each suffered its sixth defeat.

The Jets, meanwhile, won for the sixth time in nine games in a contest dominated by the defenses which blocked several field goal attempts, intercepted four passes and recovered one fumble.

Joe Namath threw for one touchdown and set up two field goals by Jim Turner, but a 41-yard TD run in the final period by cornerback Johnny Sample with a pass deflected by teammate Ralph Baker proved to be the clincher.

The Bills needed an interception by George Salmes and two roughing the kicker penalties to get its TD and a 10-10 tie at the half.

Houston, noted for its defense, won its fifth game with an usual 20-point outburst in the first three periods on a scoring pass by Pete Beathard and the running of Hoyle Granger and Woodie Campbell.

But the Broncos, able to cross midfield only twice and trailing 20-0, gave the Oilers a scare as Steve Tensi tossed two TD passes and Bob Humphreys kicked a 43-yard field goal in less than six minutes during the final quarter before the Houston defenses regrouped.

Volkswagen builds strong bodies 8 ways.

The following stories are true:
A 1949 VW is still running around on its original engine.
A VW owner went 135,384 miles on his original set of tires.
Another owner went 308,700 miles before trade-in time.
Conclusion: Volkswagens are tough.
For instance, look underneath any VW and you'll see our famous sealed bottom. This ingenious device protects a VW's insides against everything on the outside. Including time. (No other car has anything quite like it.)
A Volkswagen convertible is made so well, so airtight, it helps to open the window a crack to close the door.

(No wonder it takes two men one day just to make two convertible tops.)
Like all VWs, the Squareback and Fastback sedans are both painted 3 times over. To make what you see look nicer. And to make what you don't see last longer.
Then there's the VW Karmann Ghia. Its body is practically hand-made.
The Ghia is hand-shaped, hand-welded, hand-smoothed, hand-padded, hand-fitted, hand-stitched, hand-painted and would you believe, hand-sanded.

(Whew.)
The VW Station Wagon and Camper are different, too. They don't have frames like other wagons. And they're not bolted together either. Each one is a solid hunk of unitized steel, welded together 12,598 times.
Finally, we make trucks.
(And if we make cars as strong as we do, you can well imagine how we make trucks.)
So next time you look at a Volkswagen, look at it this way:
It's not the most beautiful body in the world, but it's one of the healthiest.

Kickers Trounce Schwaben, 6-3, to Retain Soccer Lead

Boost Goal Total to 43

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

The scoring fever is getting contagious at Oehler's Mountain Lodge where the Kingston Sport Club Kickers are acting like a club with championship aspirations these days.

The latest barrage of goals produced a 6-3 rout of Schwaben of New York Sunday and kept the Kickers a point ahead of runnerup Yonkers in the League Division race.

Yonkers blew over fourth place Bavarians, 7-3, while White Plains battled to a 3-3 tie with the lowly Dalmatians.

As a result of Sunday's action, the first four teams line up as follows:

Trailing 1-0 after seven minutes, Coach Bob Graves' Kickers turned the game into a rout with a four-goal explosion within 15 minutes.

Kingston's seven goals boosted its seasonal total to 43 in nine games, just under the magic-5 mark.

Two players crashed the scoring column for the first time — Bill Newmershinsky and Gene Fros. The team's two stalwarts — All-American Gene Ventriglia and Elliott-Obbie Asare accounted for two goals each.

Trailing 1-0 after seven minutes, Coach Bob Graves' Kickers turned the game into a rout with a four-goal explosion within 15 minutes.

Asare opened the Kickers' scoring on an assist from Reinier Schwebel at 17:10. Ventriglia then drilled two in a row — at 21 and 25 minutes, the first on a Schwebel assist. Newmershinsky crashed through with his season's first at 32 minutes. Baer hit for Schwaben at 35 minutes and the half ended, 4-2, Kingston.

Eleven minutes into the second half, Jake Fros hit the scoreboard for the first time this year. Asare zoomed through for a solo at 65 minutes to make it 6-2. A free kick accounted for Schwaben's third goal at 75 minutes.

Graves Pleased
Except for a few defensive lapses, Coach Graves was highly pleased with his club's work. "It was a near perfect performance," he said. "We travel to American Czechs next Sunday and have the momentum to win."

Alexander Francisco, of the state of Angola, made his debut in the Kickers' lineup. He is attending State U. at New Paltz.

Kingston lineup: Goal — Lickoski; RFB — Biggers; LFB — Roberts; CHB — Fros; RBH — Soddemann; LHB — Schwebel; IR — Lotze; OR — Lotze; CF — Asare; IL — Ventriglia; OL — Newmershinsky.

Kingston scoring: Asare (17:10); Ventriglia (21:00 and 25:00); Newmershinsky (32:00); Fros (61:00); Asare (65); Schwaben — Gross (7:00); Baer (35).

Kingston reserves: Grasmier, Francisco.

Hartwick Booters Finish Unbeaten

Al Miller, who directed New Paltz State to its greatest heights in soccer, has made it big in his first year as coach at Hartwick College.

By beating Newark College of Engineering, 3-0, Saturday in New Jersey, Hartwick finished with its first unbeaten season in history. The upstarters were 10-0 for the season and immediately after the game, accepted a bid to the Atlantic Coast College regional, scheduled this weekend at the Coast Guard Academy in New London.

"The boys did a great job and the entire student body is elated over the first unbeaten team it has had in any sport," Miller said.

Pete's Shell Captures 'B' Title in 'Y' Basketball

Pete's Shell rallied from a 33-30 first half deficit to trim Flair, 75-69, and capture the YMCBA 'B' Basketball league championship. The clubs had finished the regular season deadlocked for first place.

The champions won this one at the foul line, making 17 charity flaps against only nine for the losers.

Gene Bruno of Flair led both clubs with 23 points.

Seals Sinking But Black Hawks Back in Swim

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Oakland Seals are still sinking in the West, but the Chicago Black Hawks are back in the National Hockey League swim... thanks to Bobby Hull's goal-a-game stroke.

Oakland's month-long winless streak reached the 14-game mark Sunday night when the floundering Seals, last place expansion club in the NHL's new West Division, bowed to the New York Rangers 3-3.

The victory sent the Rangers into a tie for the East Division lead with Toronto and Detroit. The three front-runners, however, are only six points ahead of the last-place Black Hawks, who ran their unbeaten string to five games by whipping St. Louis 5-2 as Hull blasted his 13th and 14th goals.

Elsewhere, Detroit downed Montreal 3-1 and Philadelphia surprised Boston 4-2.

"It was nice to come back to New York, but it would have been a lot nicer to go back home with a win," Oakland defenseman Larry Cahoon, a former Ranger, said after the Seals wound up another lost weekend in the East.

Beaten 2-1 in Boston Saturday night, they almost erased a 4-1 first period deficit against the Rangers before Reg Fleming's second goal of the game shot New York beyond reach.

Jets Triumph, Giants Bombed

While the New York Jets were beating Buffalo, 20-10, before 62,671 Sunday at Shea Stadium, the Giants suffered a 34-7 beating at the hands of the Chicago Bears in Wrigley Field.

Johnny Sample, Jet defensive ace, intercepted a Jack Kemp pass and returned it 41 yards to a touchdown as the Jets retained their one-game lead in the Eastern division of the American Football League.

Joe Namath passed for 338 yards and one touchdown while the Jet defensive unit did a good job on the Bills.

The Giants took a 7-0 first period lead when Darrell Dess, a guard, took a lateral from Fran Tarkenton and went over for a score.

However, the Bears scored 20 points in the second quarter and their defense limited Tarkenton and reserve Earl Morrall to only nine completions in 26 attempts.

Roosevelt Raps NYMA Club, 19-0

Quarterback Gary Luhnmann threw three touchdown passes and Roosevelt closed its season with a 19-0 non-league triumph Saturday at New York Military Academy.

The FDR quarterback connected with wingback Andy Johnson for a five yard touchdown pass in the opening quarter; hit tailback Perry Drake for the three for a second period score and targeted Dave Bethea for a 19 yard pass in the final session. Lenny Seiferts threw to Dave Johnson for an extra point.

Luhnmann finished with 12 completions in 19 attempts, good for 115 yards. The Presidents added 141 yards on the ground.

Roosevelt had a 4-4 record for the season and was 3-3 in DCSL action.

Kickers Trounce Schwaben, 6-3, to Retain Soccer Lead

Boost Goal Totals to 43

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

The scoring fever is getting contagious at Oehler's Mountain Lodge where the Kingston Sport Club Kickers are acting like a club with championship aspirations these days.

The latest barrage of goals produced a 6-3 rout of Schwaben of New York Sunday and kept the Kickers a point ahead of runner-up Yonkers in the League Division race.

Yonkers blew over fourth place Bavarians, 7-3, while White Plains pulled to a 3-3 tie with the lowly Dalmatians.

As a result of Sunday's action, the first four teams line up as follows:

Team	W	L	T	Pts.
Kingston	7	2	0	16
Yonkers	6	3	1	15
White Plains	5	3	1	13
Bavarian	4	5	0	13

Kingston's seven goals boosted its seasonal total to 43 in nine games, just under the magic-5 mark.

Two players crashed the scoring column for the first time—Bill Newmehinsky and Gene Froese. The team's two stalwarts—All-American Gene Ventriglia and Elliott-Obbie Asara accounted for two goals each.

Trailing 1-0 after seven minutes, Coach Bob Graves' Kickers turned the game into a rout with a four-goal explosion within 15 minutes.

Asara opened the Kickers scoring on an assist from Reiner Schwabel at 17:10. Ventriglia then drilled two in a row—at 21 and 25 minutes, the first on a Schwabel assist. Newmehinsky crashed through with his season's first at 32 minutes. Baer hit for Schwaben at 35 minutes and the half ended, 4-2, Kingston.

Eleven minutes into the second half, Jake Froese hit the scoreboard for the first time this year. Asara zoomed through for a solo at 65 minutes to make it 6-2. A free kick accounted for Schwaben's third goal at 75 minutes.

Graves Pleased

Except for a few defensive lapses, Coach Graves was highly pleased with his team's work.

"It was a near perfect performance," he said. "We travel to American Czechs next Sunday and have the momentum to win."

The Kingston lineup:

Goal: Liekosi; RFB: Biggers; LFB: Roberts; CHB: Froese; RBH: Soddemann; LHB: Schwabel; IR: Lotze; OR: Lotze; CF: Asara; IL: Ventriglia; OL: Newmehinsky.

Kingston scoring: Asara (17:10); Ventriglia (21:00 and 25:00); Newmehinsky (32:00); Froese (61:00); Asara (65); Schwaben—Gross (7:00); Baer (35).

Kingston reserves: Grasmier, Francisco.

The victory sent the Rangers into a tie for the East Division lead with Toronto and Detroit. The three front-runners, however, are only six points ahead of the last-place Black Hawks, who ran their unbeaten string to five games by whipping St. Louis 5-2 as Hull blasted his 13th and 14th goals.

Elsewhere, Detroit downed Montreal 3-1 and Philadelphia surprised Boston 4-2.

"It was nice to come back to New York, but it would have been a lot nicer to go back home with a win," Oakland defenseman Larry Cahan, a former Ranger, said after the Seals wound up another lost weekend in the East.

Beaten 2-1 in Boston Saturday night, they almost erased a 4-1 first period deficit against the Rangers before Reg Fleming's second goal of the game shot New York beyond reach.

Jets Triumph, Giants Bombed

While the New York Jets were beating Buffalo, 20-10, before 62,671 Sunday at Shea Stadium, the Giants suffered a 34-7 beating at the hands of the Chicago Bears in Wrigley Field.

Johnny Sample, Jet defensive end, intercepted a Jack Kemp pass and returned it 41 yards to a touchdown as the Jets retained their one-game lead in the Eastern division of the American Football League.

Joe Namath passed for 338 yards and one touchdown while the Jet defensive unit did a good job on the Bills.

The Giants took a 7-0 first period lead when Darrell Dess, a guard, took a lateral from Fran Tarkenton and went over for a score.

However, the Bears scored 20 points in the second quarter and their defense limited Tarkenton and reserve Earl Morrall to only nine completions in 26 attempts.

Quarterback Gary Luhnmann threw three touchdown passes and Roosevelt closed its season with a 19-0 non-league triumph Saturday at New York Military Academy.

The FDR quarterback connected with wingback Andy Johnson for a five yard touchdown pass in the opening quarter; hit tailback Perry Drake from the three for a second period score and targeted Dave Bethea for a 19 yard loss in the final session. Lenny Seifis threw to Dave Johnson for an extra point.

Luhnmann finished with 12 completions in 19 attempts, good for 115 yards. The Presidents added 141 yards on the ground.

Roosevelt had a 4-4 record for the season and was 3-3 in DCSL action.

Dear Abby

Matter of Personal Morals

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1967 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR READERS: I recently published a letter asking my opinion about letting a child see his mother in the nude. It produced an avalanche of mail. Here is the letter again, a repeat of my reply, and some typically vigorous reactions.

P.S. I must say, on second thought, I agree with the reactions. DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's all right for a little boy, say around 4 or 5, to see his mother undressed? I have a friend who thinks it's perfectly all right to let her little boy hang around and watch her dress from the skin out and she thinks nothing of letting him come into the bathroom while she is in the tub. He comes in and asks her questions, or to just sit and visit while he gets his eyes full.

Maybe I am wrong, but I don't approve of this. My friend says it is better to let the boy KNOW than to have him curious. What is your opinion?

DAILY READER: DEAR ABBY: I am old-fashioned, but I still believe in modesty. A mother shouldn't make a federal case out of it if her 4-year-old son accidentally catches her in the bathroom, but the bathroom door should be locked while mother is bathing.

DEAR ABBY: Please reconsider your answer to DAILY READER. A 4-year-old boy is NOT a dirty-old man watching a stripper in a burlesque show. He is only a child wanting to be close to his mother. Why do you have to drag "sex" into everything? You and Dr. Freud would have made a peach of a pair!

DISGUSTED IN BUFFALO: DEAR ABBY: I say it is better to have the natural curiosity of a youngster satisfied by seeing his own mother unclothed than to satisfy it later with smutty magazines or, heaven forbid, with some sweet little 15-year-old girl down the block.

MICHIGAN MOTHER: DEAR ABBY: I can forgive the ignorance of Daily Reader, but not yours, Abby! Ever since that first moment of birth, I've seen our son naked, so why shouldn't he see me naked? In our house nakedness is natural. NOT flaunted, just natural. When younger, our son (now 10) never found it necessary to chase little girls and pull up their skirts as many of his friends did. And I'm sure that no young woman on a date with our son will ever be confronted with a clawing ape in a "give in, or get out" situation. LIBBY B.

DEAR ABBY: Yes, you ARE old fashioned! Neither my wife nor I, nor our children have ever been ashamed of our bodies, clothed or unclothed. Not so with my mother who was so "modest" she wouldn't even let a doctor examine her. Or my father, who dressed and undressed in the clothes closet. Of course we "peeked" and developed unwholesome attitudes toward sex, family relations, and marriage which, fortunately, we were able to overcome before we married.

Your advice is usually right on target, but this time you shot from the hip. Sincerely,
G.D.: PALO ALTO

DEAR ABBY: "Lock the bathroom door," you advise. NEVER!

Six months ago when we first moved into this neighborhood, my 4-year-old brought six of his new friends to meet me while I was in the bathtub. I shoed them out quickly. After dressing I went to the drug store and bought a large bottle of bubble bath, and now if they should come in, I will be modestly covered with froth.

Jim: "Furthermore, if West had held the ace of trumps and had opened a doubleton, it could only cost East if South were void of clubs. West could take his ace of trumps and put East in with a club."

Oswald: "It was most unlikely that South would be void of clubs. In that case, West would be holding a suit headed by king-queen-ten and would open it in preference to a doubleton lead."

Q—Do U. S. senators have individual seats assigned to them?

A—Yes. The individual seats are numbered and assigned on request of senators in order of their seniority. Democrats occupy the west side of the chamber on the vice president's right; Republicans sit across the main aisle to his left.

Q—What American general led the victorious Union Army at the Battle of Gettysburg?

A—Gen. George Gordon Meade.

Q—Does Iceland maintain an army?

A—No, it has no army, navy or forts.

audacity (aw-DAS-uh-tea)
boldness
The young dental student, a man known for his audacity, was planning to sneak into the women's dormitory. The commanding officer, angered by the recent unrest on his base, told the recruits that he had never seen such audacity in twenty years of military service. The experienced mechanic could not understand the audacity of his customer; the man refused to pay his repair bill.

Dear Abby

Matter of Personal Morals

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1967 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)
DEAR READERS: I recently published a letter asking my opinion about letting a child see his mother in the nude. It produced an avalanche of mail. Here is the letter again, a repeat of my reply, and some typically vigorous reactions.

P.S. I must say, on second thought, I agree with the reactions. DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's all right for a little boy, say around 4 or 5, to see his mother undressed? I have a friend who thinks it's perfectly all right to let her little boy hang around and watch her dress from the skin out and she thinks nothing of letting him come into the bathroom while she is in the tub. He comes in and asks her questions, or to just sit and visit while he gets his eyes full. Maybe I am wrong, but I don't approve of this. My friend says it is better to let the boy know than to have him curious. What is your opinion?

DEAR ABBY: Yes, you ARE old-fashioned! Neither my wife nor I, nor our children have ever been ashamed of our bodies, clothed or unclothed. Not so with my mother who was so "modest" she wouldn't even let a doctor examine her. Or my father, who dressed and undressed in the clothes closet. Of course we "peeked" and developed unwholesome attitudes toward sex, family relations, and marriage which, fortunately, we were able to overcome before we married. Your advice is usually right on target, but this time you shot from the hip. Sincerely, G.D.: PALO ALTO

DEAR ABBY: Please reconsider your answer to DAILY READER. A 4-year-old boy is NOT a dirty-old man watching a stripper in a burlesque show. He is only a child wanting to be close to his mother. Why do you have to drag "sex" into everything? You and Dr. Freud would have made a peach of a pair! DISGUSTED IN BUFFALO

DEAR ABBY: I say it is better to have the natural curiosity of a youngster satisfied by seeing his own mother unclothed than to satisfy it later with smutty magazines or, heaven forbid, with some sweet little 15-year-old girl down the block. MICHIGAN MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: I can forgive the ignorance of Daily Reader, but not yours, Abby! Ever since that first moment of birth, I've seen our son naked, so why shouldn't he see me naked? In our house nakedness is natural. NOT flaunted, just natural. When younger, our son (now 10) never found it necessary to chase little girls and pull up their skirts as many of his friends did. And I'm sure that no let her little boy hang around and watch her dress from the skin out and she thinks nothing of letting him come into the bathroom while she is in the tub. He comes in and asks her questions, or to just sit and visit while he gets his eyes full. Maybe I am wrong, but I don't approve of this. My friend says it is better to let the boy know than to have him curious. What is your opinion?

DEAR ABBY: "Lock the bathroom door," you advise. NEVER! Six months ago when we first moved into this neighborhood, my 4-year-old brought six of his new friends to meet me while I was in the bathtub. I showed them out quickly. After dressing I went to the drug store and bought a large bottle of bubble bath, and now if they should come in, I will be modestly covered with froth. "NO LOCKED DOORS IN L.A." Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

It's In The Stars—

("The wise man controls his destiny . . . astrology points the way.")

Forecast for Tuesday November 14, 1967

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Challenge exists where career opportunities are concerned. You will have to be aware of details, facts. Some desire to test your knowledge. Key is to be frank, honest.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Impetus to travel and make changes is emphasized. Key is your ability to discern between fantasy and reality. Look for changes which could spell definite benefits.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Surprise connected with money is indicated. Nothing happens halfway today. Appears to be all the way or nothing. Mate, partner is pugnacious where finances enter picture. Be calm.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Activity stressed due to circumstances. You may want to lie back and wait. But this respite is unlikely to materialize. Means this is day when you face issues.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Key is diplomatic approach. Don't push or force. You get what you need through diplomatic approach. One who has performed services may leave the scene. You must take up slack.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Accent today on hidden assets. You gain if you take long-range view. What you have may be worth more than is apparent. Know this. Permit confidence to grow. Message clear tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Try something new. Emphasize daring, originality. Be creative. You adhere to methods which makes you lose. New contact proves beneficial. Act accordingly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You may be drawn in two directions. Heed inner voice. Follow through on hunch. Give full play to intuitive intellect. You get what you want if you co-operate with associates.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may be tempted to try to impress by extravagance. This leads in circle, confuses you. Self-discipline is necessary for results. Take time to think.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Be careful. Applies especially around automobiles, in traffic. Get household effects in order. Accidents around familiar places occur if careless. Be thorough. Check details.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You get action in areas previously quiet. Key is to be alert. Pounce on opportunity. Settle clear of disputes with relatives. Get proof before making statements. Revere facts, not rumors.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): If you mix money and friendship, there is apt to be trouble. Fulfill reasonable requests. But don't go out on proverbial limb. Some may be asking too much. Utilize mature judgement.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are alert, capable of piecing together bits of information and coming up with complete story. Your creative energies require outlet if you are to be happy. You've been busy in past months, going here and there, but not concentrating forces. Now, however, there is a settling-down period. You can get much accomplished if so determined.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for ARIES, TAURUS, GEMINI. Special word to CAPRICORN: overcome tendency to act first and think later.

Oswald: "Here is a misplayed defense I watched recently. West opened the nine of diamonds. South played the four from dummy. East thought awhile and played his six, whereupon South won the trick, proceeded to draw trumps, stonping in dummy, and led the jack of clubs. East ducked and South wound up making two overtricks."

Jim: "East really went to town as a trick thrower. He could have gone up with the ace of diamonds and returned his deuce as a suit preference signal. West could have ruffed and led back a club, whereupon a second diamond ruff would have set the hand."

Oswald: "The point of the mislay was that East thought that he had been unlucky. He said that it was more likely for West to have led a doubleton than a singleton and, in any case, he had to guess and had just guessed wrong."

Jim: "I agree that East guessed wrong. He couldn't tell if the lead was a singleton or a doubleton, but he had no reason at all to play low. He just wasn't going to beat the hand unless his partner had opened a singleton."

Oswald: "That's right. The defense was misplayed because East had nothing to lose and everything to gain by rising."

Adano Still Rates High

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "A Bell for Adano" in its television adaptation demonstrated that its durability is no fluke. It was a popular novel, play and motion picture and in more than 20 years has lost none of its appeal.

The NBC "Hall of Fame" production Saturday night was effectively acted, handsomely produced and altogether provided one of the season's most satisfying evenings.

John Forsythe produced a nicely balanced combination of dedication and uncompromising idealism as Major Joppolo, the American military governor of a Sicilian town in World War II. The conquerors found the people hungry and suspicious and conditioned to fascism.

The story traces the major's frustrating task of teaching the townfolk democracy, solving their food problems and getting them a bell to replace the one taken by Mussolini for guns. His principal stumbling block is his own army and particularly an arrogant general whose order keeps food and water from the town.

The necessity of crowding the adaptation into 90 minutes made some difficulties. Relationships, including the one between the major and the pretty fisherman's daughter, developed abruptly, suggesting where cuts had been made.

But it was a reassuring, warm play with a nice message.

The second edition of "PBL" Sunday night on the special network of noncommercial television stations used a "magazine" format, instead of sticking to a single theme, and touched a number of subjects of current interest.

The two-hour program opened with a segment on pending legislation for federal inspection of all meat-packing plants and packing houses. Currently such inspection is required only for meat in interstate commerce.

Proponents and opponents of the legislation were heard. One union official told of personally seeing unsanitary conditions in packing houses where meat was processed for intrastate use. A representative of a meat packers' organization called reports of tainted meat "exaggerated."

The portion of the program was educational for the consumer and highly enlightening.

There was an analysis of last week's voting in Cleveland, Gary and Boston, followed by the most interesting portion of the program — a discussion by professional "image-makers" about the presentation of political candidates to the public.

One advertising man, talking about his company's handling of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's last race, explained that he was looked at "as a consumer property," and was promoted much the same as the firm's other products, including a stomach settler and an automobile.

The longest segment was a "confrontation" with 11 congressmen with divergent views discussing, often with heat, whether there should be a declaration of war in the Vietnam conflict.

In a short interview Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, discussing the drop in administration popularity, observed that "public opinion is like a child's fever — it runs up and down. When the war news is good, you're popular; when the war news is bad, you're unpopular."

Over all, the program was better paced and more interesting than the initial offering.

Recommended tonight: Ice Follies, NBC, 8-9 EST. Ed Ames is host on the skating show; "A Man and His Music Plus Ella Plus Jobim," NBC, 9-10, Frank Sinatra special with Ella Fitzgerald and guitarist Antonio Carlos Jobim.

Office Cat, By Junius, Trade Mark Reg. When an American importer approached Twining, the famous London tea merchants, to negotiate for the American distribution rights for their brand, an elderly Twining was not too friendly about it. He harrumphed and said:

Mr. Twining — You know, we had quite a lot of trouble over there.

Mr. Brown (the importer) — Trouble?

Mr. Twining — Yes, they dumped a shipment of our tea into Boston Harbor.

21 Arrested in New Paltz Peace Vigil Demonstration

Twenty-one persons protesting America's involvement in Vietnam were arrested Saturday in New Paltz, charged with demonstrating without a permit.

The group was taken before Justice of the Peace Francis J. Schiller and bail was set at $50 each. Their case will be heard Friday evening in the Town Hall.

Nearly 40 demonstrators assembled Saturday along Main Street in defiance of a village ordinance, according to Dr. Wade Thompson, State University Literature professor and head of the Peace Vigil Committee. Thompson stated the vigil was to protest the war and to test the ordinance.

According to the New Paltz prof, requests to hold the vigil had been denied by Mayor Henry DuBois. Thompson said that the Mayor's objections were based on fear of violence and the creation of a traffic problem.

Thompson said he had approached DuBois Friday, requesting permission to conduct the vigil. The teacher noted that he specifically asked that the group be permitted to protest along Main Street.

Protesters appeared on Main Street around 2 o'clock and were immediately met by police. Thompson said he told persons wishing to avoid arrest to drop out. Nearly half stepped aside, the peace head reported.

At Friday's hearing the defendants will be defended by the Civil Liberties Union. Thompson explained. He said lawyers had told him the ordinance was either unconstitutional or being interpreted wrongly.

Participating in Saturday's march were students and faculty alike. Among those arrested were 11 students and 10 others, Thompson disclosed.

Thompson said, "We don't intend to fight local authorities. We merely want this ordinance thing cleared up. I feel it's unconstitutional."

Common Council Meets Tonight

To Study Residency Law

Kingston Common Council, canvassing of the city vote to will be presented a resolution be considered. The meeting is expected to be adjourned and reconvened on the 21st.

However, the meeting, scheduled for 7:30 in the council chambers in the city hall, is expected to be abbreviated with only routine business and the residency requirement for city police and firemen, mandating that they only live in Ulster County in order to serve on the city forces. Previously, they had to be city residents.

The second law will require residency for any elected or appointed city official. This had been in the past. The new law merely clarifies some of the wording of the old law.

The council will also receive a letter from Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan stating that the mayor will now reconsider his veto of the 25-year retirement plan for city police and firemen. He is now aware of the costs of the plan to the city and will approve the plan.

Another letter from the mayor will inform the council of his appointment of Raymond L. Caddy of 100 North Front Street, to replace George E. Yerry Jr., on the Human Relations Commission.

The Kingston Landmark and Preservation Commission has a letter to the council asking for approval of the designation of six city homes as historical sites.

A public hearing will be scheduled within a month. Sites include 96 North Front Street, 129 Maiden Lane, 61 North Front Street, 173-175 Green Street, 18-22 Converse Street and 3 North Front Street.

Another letter, from the Department of Public Works, will ask for the recognition of the Civil Service Employees Association as the sole bargaining agent for the public works employees.

The councilmen will also see preliminary plans for the codification of city laws and ordinances. The laws and ordinances will be compiled into a book, expected to be completed within six months.

The council is also slated to receive a letter from the Public Safety Council urging a fair wage for city policemen. The council, Francis H. Fatum, president, will recommend that policemen working authorized overtime be adequately compensated.

The first book printed in the American colonies of which copies are still known to us was the Bay Psalm Book.

FLAG RAISING AT JFK SCHOOL—Flag raising ceremonies were held at John F. Kennedy School on Friday, the object being to stimulate a sense of patriotism within the minds of the young students from the host school and immaculate Conception elementary school. Included in the ritual was Lt. Col. Frank Fabbie (l), former commander of the 156th Artillery, N. Y. Army National Guard; Donald Shambo, principal of the school; Capt. James Fiore; Warrant Officer Jack Reynolds, and students Eugene Priest and Sarah Conover who led the pledge to the flag. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

21 Arrested in New Paltz Peace Vigil Demonstration

Twenty-one persons protesting America's involvement in Vietnam were arrested Saturday in New Paltz, charged with demonstrating without a permit.

The group was taken before Justice of the Peace Francis J. Schiller and bail was set at $50 each. Their case will be heard Friday evening in the Town Hall.

Nearly 40 demonstrators assembled Saturday along Main Street in defiance of a village ordinance, according to Dr. Wade Thompson, State University Literature professor and head of the Peace Vigil Committee. Thompson stated the vigil was to protest the war and to test the ordinance.

According to the New Paltz prof, requests to hold the vigil had been denied by Mayor Henry DuBois. Thompson said that the Mayor's objections were based on fear of violence and the creation of a traffic problem.

Thompson said he had approached DuBois Friday, requesting permission to conduct the vigil. The teacher noted that he specifically asked that the group be permitted to protest along Main Street.

Protesters appeared on Main Street around 2 o'clock and were immediately met by police. Thompson said he told persons wishing to avoid arrest to drop out. Nearly half stepped aside, the peace head reported.

At Friday's hearing the defendants will be defended by the Civil Liberties Union. Thompson explained. He said lawyers had told him the ordinance was either unconstitutional or being interpreted wrongly.

Participating in Saturday's march were students and faculty alike. Among those arrested were 11 students and 10 others, Thompson disclosed.

Thompson said, "We don't intend to fight local authorities. We merely want this ordinance thing cleared up. I feel it's unconstitutional."

Common Council Meets Tonight

To Study Residency Law

Kingston Common Council will be presented a resolution repealing the residency law for police and firemen tonight.

However, the meeting, scheduled for 7:30 in the council chambers in the city hall, is expected to be abbreviated with the only routine business and the canvassing of the city vote to be considered. The meeting is expected to be adjourned and reconvened on the 21st.

There are actually two petitions concerning residency awaiting the council's approval. The first would waive the residency requirement for city police and firemen, mandating that they only live in Ulster County in order to serve on the city forces. Previously, they had to be city residents.

The second law will require residency for any elected or appointed city official. This had been in the past. The new law merely clarifies some of the wording of the old law.

Both resolutions call more or less explicitly for withdrawal of Israeli troops from Arab territory, the end of Arab belligerency against Israel, the right of Israel to use international waterways in the area and the settlement of the Arab refugee problem.

An Israeli army spokesman said Jordan fired first and that the exchange lasted four hours. A Jordanian military spokesman said the Israelis shelled farmhouses in Jordan for 50 minutes.

Eban canceled a speech before the council Thursday when a Soviet move switched him from No. 2 on the speakers' list to No. 7.

Sunday evening the Israeli foreign minister, responding to questions on Metromedia's "Opinion: Washington" television program, accused the Arab countries of "getting themselves into a mood of regarding negotiations with Israel as a forbidden process."

The Middle East countries must learn to settle their own problems without influence from the outside, he said.

He also blamed the June war on the Soviet Union, charging that the Soviets fed false information to Syria about Israeli troop movements and urged the Egyptians to help Syria without the Middle East countries.
